Conceptions of Space and Place in Strategic Spatial Planning Simin Davoudi, Ian Strange, 2008-11-24 Bringing together authors from academia and practice this book examines spatial planning at different places throughout the British Isles Six illustrative case studies of practice examine which conceptions of space and place have been articulated presented and visualized through the production of spatial strategies Ranging from a large conurbation London to regional Yorkshire and Humber and national levels the case studies give a rounded and grounded view of the physical results and the theory behind them While there is widespread support for re orienting planning towards space and place there has been little common understanding about what constitutes spatial planning and what conceptions of space and place underpin it This book addresses these questions and stimulates debate and critical thinking about space and place among academic and professional planners

The Visual Language of Spatial Planning Stefanie Dühr, 2007-01-24 At a time when strategic spatial planning is undergoing a renaissance in Europe The Visual Language of Spatial Planning makes a unique contribution to this rapidly growing area of teaching and research Discussing the relevant theoretical perspectives on policy making and planning combined with cartographic communication and the use of cartographic representations in the planning process Stephanie Duhr provides conceptual and practical tools to help students and practitioners better understand maps and visualizations in strategic spatial planning The book is the first to review the form style and use of cartographic representations in strategic spacial plans in the Netherlands Germany and England as well as at European level Significant differences between planning traditions and the impact of these on transnational planning processes are highlighted It concludes by discussing the practical implications for future strategic spacial planning processes in Europe and the best use of cartographic representations to reach agreement and to focus dialogue

Maritime Spatial Planning Jacek Zaucha, Kira Gee, 2018-01-01 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license Maritime or marine spatial planning has gained increasing prominence as an integrated common sense approach to promoting sustainable maritime development A growing number of countries are engaged in preparing and implementing maritime spatial plans however questions are emerging from the growing body of MSP experience How can maritime spatial planning deal with a complex and dynamic environment such as the sea How can MSP be embedded in multiple levels of governance across regional and national borders and how far does the environment benefit from this new approach This open access book is the first comprehensive overview of maritime spatial planning Situated at the intersection between theory and practice the volume draws together several strands of interdisciplinary research reflecting on the history of MSP as well as examining current practice and looking towards the future The authors and contributors examine MSP from disciplines as diverse as geography urban planning political science natural science sociology and education reflecting the growing critical engagement with MSP in many academic fields This innovative and pioneering volume will be of interest and value to students and scholars of maritime spatial planning as well as planners and practitioners Jacek Zaucha is Professor of Economics at Gdansk University Poland He is long experienced in maritime spatial planning and is currently leading the team preparing the first plan for Polish waters Kira Gee is Research Associate at the Centre for Materials and Coastal Research Helmholtz Zentrum Geesthacht Germany She has been involved in MSP research and practice for over 20 years and has participated in numerous national and transnational European MSP projects

Territory, Identity and Spatial Planning Mark Tewdwr-Jones, Philip Allmendinger, 2006-09-27 This book provides a multi disciplinary study of territory identity and space in a devolved UK through the lens of spatial planning It draws together leading internationally renowned researchers from a variety of disciplines to address the implications of devolution upon spatial planning and the rescaling of UK politics Each contributor offers a different perspective on the core issues in planning today in the context of New Labour's regional project particularly the government's concern with business competitiveness and key themes are illustrated with important case studies throughout

Spatial Planning as Institutional Design Louis C. Wassenhoven, 2024-08-06 This book focuses on the urban and regional planning systems under conditions of economic crisis and austerity focusing in particular on the systems of Cyprus Greece Ireland Italy Portugal and Spain Spatial Planning as Institutional Design examines the structure and legislation of these systems throughout the twentieth century as well as the decade before the 2008 economic and fiscal crisis and the years of recovery following it The New Spatial Planning Graham Haughton, Philip Allmendinger, David Counsell, Geoff Vigar, 2009-12-04 Using a rich empirical resource base this book takes a critical look at recent practices to see whether the new spatial planning is having the kinds of impacts its advocates would wish Contributing to theoretical debates in planning state restructuring and governance it also outlines and critiques the contemporary practice of spatial planning

Spatial Planning and the New Localism Graham Haughton, Philip Allmendinger, 2018-05-11 This book looks at the transition from New Labour's Spatial Planning approach to the Coalition Government's preferred Localism approach Localism we are told will liberate local planners from the heavy hand of central government and allow planning to flourish at the local level Alternatively austerity cuts nationally mean planning faces cuts In just two years the machinery of regional planning has been dismantled and local authorities are being asked to do more with less Innovation is also evident however notably with the introduction of neighbourhood planning and Local Enterprise Partnerships This collection contains chapters looking at the planning system overall sustainability and planning new approaches to infrastructure planning and the critical interface between urban policy local economic development and planning This book was published as a special issue of Planning Practice and Research It also contains a brand new afterword written by the editors Localism austerity and planning Cohesion, Coherence, Cooperation: European Spatial Planning Coming of Age? Andreas

Faludi, 2010-10-18 Since its foundation the European Union has gradually developed policies that are aimed at achieving increased economic and social cohesion This book examines the coming of age of the most recent of these the concept of territorial cohesion With this book Andreas Faludi brings together years of research and expertise into a definitive single volume on spatial planning at the European level The Facility Management Handbook David G.
