Soweto Now:

The Apartheid City and Beyond David M. Smith, 2003-09-02 Apartheid as legislated racial separation substantially changed the South African urban scene Race group areas remodelled the cities while the creation of homelands mini states and the pass laws controlling population migration constrained urbanization itself In the mid 1980s the old system having proved economically inefficient and politically divisive was replaced by a new policy of orderly urbanization This sought to accelerate industrialization and cultural change by relaxing the constraints on urbanization imposed by state planning The result was further political instability and a quarter of the black or African population housed in shanty towns Negotiations between the Nationalist government and the African National Congress are working towards the end of the old apartheid system Yet the negation of apartheid is only the beginning of the creation of a new society The vested interests and entrenched ideologies behind the existing pattern of property ownership survive the abolition of apartheid laws Beyond race class and ethnicity will continue to divide urban life If the cities of South Africa are to serve all the people the accelerating process of urbanization must be brought under control and harnessed to a new purpose The contributors to this volume draw on a broad range of experience and disciplines to present a variety of perspectives on urban South Africa Refractive Realisms Megan Jones, 2025-03-27 Refractive Realisms positions the township as a lens through which to engage the South African canon endeavouring to provide a reorientation towards a black creative archive and surfacing under represented forms of literary and cultural expression The book converses with the long history of realism in black South African writing to show how the refractive realisms of the contemporary township simultaneously bear witness to precarity and articulate lively diversity It brings together narratives that take the reader through persuasive depictions of township life and its flexible identities the failures of post apartheid the possibilities that emerge from the ruins of historical injustice the practices of commodity consumption and the limits of race and gender discourses that align with non belonging to township spaces An incisive read on the literary and cultural forms of the twenty first century South African township this book will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of literary studies identity politics cultural studies ethnicity and race sociology and African Studies The World Jan Morris, 2005-03-22 A breathtakingly vivid guide to our greatest cosmopolitan cities and cultures from Manhattan to Venice and from Baghdad to Barbados this book assembles 50 years of Morris's finest travel writing Ebony Mask / Ebony Gold Wallace B. Collins, 2003-03-22 Years ago I met a friend in London I had not seen in many years He posed a very interesting question to me He wanted me to give him a statement on Jomo Kenyatta who was then incarcerated as the leader of the Mau Mau uprising in Kenya Though I did not have an answer for my friend I kept his question in my mind Then years later my wife and I decided to visit Kenya on Safari with friends which I recount here vividly in this book They were like two birds set free hoop the coop flew away from their prison abode caged for decades until February 1990 on that sunny day in Capetown when I saw Nelson Mandela live on CNN Television with his wife Winnie Mandela They strolled through the gates of pollsmore Prison away from 37 years of incarceration by the Apartheid Regime That experience intrigued me enough that my wife and I decided with a group of friends to visit South Africa and see what would happen to us as a group of African Americans it was while there that I touched yellow Ebony Gold as detailed in my book AF Press Clips ,1989-07 People's War Anthea Jeffery,2014-06-09 Twenty years have passed since South Africans were being shot or hacked or burned to death in political conflict and the memory of the trauma has faded Some 20 500 people were nevertheless killed between 1984 and 1994 The conventional wisdom is that they died at the hands of a state backed Third Force but the more accurate explanation is that they died as a result of the people s war the ANC unleashed As the people s war accelerated from September 1984 intimidation and political killings rapidly accelerated At the same time a remarkably effective propaganda campaign put the blame for violence on the National Party government and its alleged Inkatha surrogate Sympathy for the ANC soared while its rivals suffered crippling losses in credibility and support By 1993 the ANC was able to dominate the negotiating process as well as to control the undefeated South African police and army and bend them to its will By mid 1994 it had trounced its rivals and taken over government People s War shows the extraordinary success of this war in giving the ANC a virtual monopoly on power It also shows in part at least the great cost at which this was achieved Apart from the killings the terror and the destruction that marked the period from 1984 to 1994 the people s war set in motion forces that cannot easily be reversed For violence cannot be turned off like a tap as the ANC suggested and neither can anarchy easily be converted into order Anthea Jeffery holds law degrees from the University of the Witwatersrand and from Cambridge and a doctorate in human rights law from the University of London Her previous books include The Natal Story Sixteen years of conflict and The Truth about the Truth Commission Both books have been acclaimed for their meticulous and objective approach and for breaking new ground on important and contentious issues My Traitor's Heart Rian Malan,2018-09-01 An essay collection that offers a fascinating glimpse of post apartheid South Africa from the bestselling author of My Traitor's Heart The Sunday Times The Lion Sleeps Tonight is Rian Malan's remarkable chronicle of South Africa's halting steps and missteps taken as blacks and whites try to build a new country In the title story Malan investigates the provenance of the world famous song recorded by Pete Seeger and REM among many others which Malan traces back to a Zulu singer named Solomon Linda He follows the trial of Winnie Mandela he writes about the last Afrikaner an old Boer woman who settled on the slopes of Mount Meru he plunges into President Mbeki's AIDS policies of the 1990s and finally he tells the story of the Alcock brothers sons of Neil and Creina whose heartbreaking story was told in My Traitor's Heart two white South Africans raised among the Zulu and fluent in their language and customs The twenty one essays collected here combined with Malan's sardonic interstitial commentary offer a brilliantly observed portrait of contemporary South Africa a grimly realistic picture of a nation clinging desperately to hope The Guardian A Movement of Movements Walden F. neoliberal globalization O'Mandingo! Eric Miyeni,2006 Based on the controversial but popular e zine this collection of opinion pieces and essays analyzes current topics facing postapartheid South Africa including black economic empowerment affirmative action race poverty and affluence while also touching on such lighter topics as sports movies love and friendship Black pride strength unity and prosperity are central themes in these articles creating a unique picture of the current South African black consciousness movement Braiding My Own Rope Lori J. Cole,2015-05-15 An innocent white girl was eight years old when Martin Luther King Jr died and the first African American boy James enrolled in her elementary school His rejection by white people caused her significant confusion and distress propelling her toward a lifelong goal of lightening the color line Lori made decisions as a young adult that created an unexpected turn in the road It would be years later before she would pursue the education necessary to grasp each aspect involved in the color line As an eccentric half century old nontraditional white female student she travels abroad alone to Durban South Africa seeking real life experiences that would magnify the depth of racism that still exists What she finds there changes her life forever AF Press Clips United States Department of State. Bureau of African Affairs,1979 City Living Quill R Kukla,2021-10-08 Cities shape the people who live in them while in turn people shape the cities in which they live In this book Quill R Kukla explores how city living is distinctive and how people build territories for themselves and make themselves at home in cities Through a philosophical exploration of what it means to be a city dweller and rich and detailed explorations of particular cities such as Berlin Johannesburg and Washington D C City Living shows how the cities we live in penetrate every dimension of our lives from how we move to how we see and conversely how city dwellers creatively bend their cities to their needs A Ticket to Zululand Anya Ashe,2013-01-08 As innocent tourists wind their way across the South African savannah through bushveld plantations of forests and luscious crops a tale of poaching murder and political intrigue unwinds But are they all so innocent What is the connection between the rising number of deaths of endangered species in safari parks foreign businessmen and politics Collective Efficacy Anthony H.
