Skill and Billiards Christopher James Archibald, 2011 Computational pool is a relatively recent entrant into the group of games played by computer agents It features a novel combination of properties that distinguish it from other such games including continuous action and state spaces uncertainty in execution a unique turn taking structure and of course an adversarial nature This combination leads to new challenges both in modeling and reasoning about the game and in designing agents for effective play We address the modeling challenges by presenting a model of generalized billiards games and showing that an equilibrium exists within this model To address the practical challenges of designing an agent we discuss CueCard our agent which won the 2008 computational pool tournament with a special focus on which new advancements made this agent successful The second portion of the dissertation focuses on a topic inspired by the computational pool domain that of execution skill In many AI settings an agent is comprised of both action planning and action execution components We first present experimental work in which we examine the relationship between the precision of the execution component the intelligence of the planning component and the overall success of the agent within our computational pool framework Our motivation lies in determining whether higher execution skill rewards more strategic playing Finally we present a method for modeling imperfect execution skill in normal form games and examine the effect that changing execution skill levels can have in these games We then study games in which players have imperfect execution skill and one player's true skill is not common knowledge In these settings the possibility arises of a player hustling or pretending to have lower execution skill than they actually have Focusing on repeated zero sum games we provide a hustle proof strategy this strategy guarantees a player the same payoff without knowledge of the opponents execution skill level as they could guarantee with knowledge of the opponent's true execution skill level

Billiards William Broadfoot, 1896 147 Snooker Drills and Exercises Andrew Highfield, David Horrix, 2017-12-15 147 Snooker Drills and Exercises will help players of all standards to improve their game

It presents a range of practice routines that covers all aspects of a player's game. Some are more advanced than others allowing the player working on a particular area of their game to pick out the exercises they feel will help them most. The routines become more difficult as the pages go on so the beginner can work through them and use them to set targets to make their practice competitive. For coaches the routines will assist in giving variety in lessons and helping to set targets in lessons.

The Sport of Pool Billiards 1 Ralph Eckert, 2015-05-08 Together with his partners Andreas Huber, Jorgen Sandman and Dirk Schwiewager the author developed the PAT System Playing Ability Test a standardized evaluation and training system for pool billiards that has been recognized by the WPA World Pool Billiard Association and the European association EPBF. The player's level is checked at regular intervals in a series of tests for which points and emblems are awarded. This book is written for beginners through to slightly advanced players who want to make their game of pool more professional using the PAT systems and generally have more fun playing PAT 1. The training units in the book are accompanied by comments from the German national trainer Andreas Huber a graduate of engineering born in 1969. Andreas is an expert pool billiards player who also helped to develop the PAT System as well as setting up the Dachau Billiards Academy. His tips on how to play in practice draw on a wealth of expertise and experience collected over years as a player and trainer.
