The Challenge of Modern Art Allen Leepa, 2009-07 Text extracted from opening pages of book alien leepa ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF ART MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE THE CHALLENGE OF MODERN ART WITH A FOREWORD BY herbert read new york the beechhiirst press COPYRIGHT 1949 BY ALLEN LEEPA Printed in U S A Manufactured for the publishers by American Book Stratford Press Inc New York This book has been set in Caledonia type with Bodoni Bold headings printed on text paper manufactured by P H Glatfelter Co Wove RRR and Warren s Cumberland Dull papers Bound in Interlaken Winco cloth First printing 1949 Second printing 1952 DESIGNED BY SIDNEY SOLOMON to my mother THE SCIENCE of aesthetics was originally based on classical art even a contemporary philosopher of art like Croce never departs from the data of the Graeco Roman and Renaissance tradition Modern art however has made a decisive break with that tradition and considerable confusion has been caused by the application to its products of criteria of judgment derived from a past historical phase Even in our private unprofessional approach to modern art we come unconsciously armed with such prejudices What therefore was necessary was a complete revision of aesthetics on the basis of the ample material produced by the modern movement in art and this Mr Allen Leepa has now provided The material in question consists primarily of the works of art themselves and these in significant selection Mr Leepa has subjected to a thorough functional analysis But he realises that the explanation of art does not end with its formal dissection the function of art as he says is to express emotional meanings in the organized patterns of a medium and he has ventured on the much more difficult task of defining the nature of that psychological process At this point formal analysis is of no avail and what we fall back on is the artist s own description of his activity Luckily modern artists have been surprisingly communicative and Mr Leepa has not failed to take advantage of the statements which from time to time artists like Picasso Matisse Klee and Mondrian have made He has been aided in his understanding of what they mean which is not always clear by FOREWORD his own practice as a painter which has saved him from some of the simplifications which an outsider might be tempted to make for the sake of a neat system Admirable for example is the way in which he insists in Chapter X on the mutual interaction of medium and idea in the process of creation We are far too apt to think of the work of art as the illustration of a preconceived idea instead of an organic growth in which idea only played the part of germ or seed Particular attention should be given to all that Mr Leepa has to say on the subject of abstract art for which the average critic has hitherto reserved his most obstinate resistance In its various forms and there is a wide divergence of aim within the so called abstract movement this type of art does of course make the most decisive break with the classical or humanist tradition It is to be observed however that it is precisely this type of art which lends itself to the formulation of a coherent aesthetic and though Mr Leepa quite rightly insists on its individualistic and subjective nature the final result would seem to be the discovery of archtypal forms of the widest social significance The last point I would like to select for emphasis from a book so replete with interest is the firm way in which Mr Leepa insists on the social significance of his subject This he does most directly in his brilliant analysis of Picasso's Guernica but nowhere in this book will those who would like to regard the modern movement in art as a reactionary or escapist activity find any support for their prejudice We may freely condemn the age we live in and deplore its social iniquities but it is precisely because he is the last man to have any illusions in this respect that the artist is
