Dubarle,Yali Woyessa,2016-06-01 This book provides an excellent analysis of regional innovation policy issues and developments with a wealth of examples notably from OECD countries Key policy areas such as clusters support services and higher education institutions are well documented The research methodology is founded on the experience accumulated by the authors over several decades in many different countries in the context of a world class international organisation This allows a good selection of policy relevant examples and an experienced presentation of them Jean Eric Aubert Former programme manager World Bank and OECD OECD SME and Entrepreneurship Outlook ,2005 Nurturing Science-based Ventures Ralf W. Seifert,Benoît F. Leleux,Christopher L. Tucci,2008-01-25 Few would deny that small entrepreneurial firms play an important economic and social role. Not only do they generate a significant number of jobs but they also contribute a large proportion of gross national product (GNP). Not all small firms qualify as entrepreneurial entities, however. While small refers mostly to size, entrepreneurial refers to growth and a value creation orientation. The vast majority of small firms have no growth aspirations nor do they have the means and skills to grow. As such they may still provide employment and local value but would not embrace the high potential aspirations of entrepreneurial ventures. This book clearly addresses those entrepreneurs who are interested in leading high growth potential companies.

Table 1: Growth Typology of Small Firms

Type of venture	Desired sales range	Future employees	Lifestyle
0 to 1 million	0 to 4	Smaller	high potential
1 million to 20 million	5 to 50	High potential	over 20 million
Over 50	High innovation	technology based startups assume a very special role in high growth entrepreneurship. Although these startups constitute a comparatively low number of small businesses, they produce proportionately far more jobs than their low and medium innovation counterparts. The aim of achieving rapid growth is typically referred to as high expectation entrepreneurship. An area of major concern to us is a fact revealed in the latest GEM report: The rate of European high expectation entrepreneurial activity is among the lowest in the world.

Bridging the Equity Gap for Innovative SMEs E. Gualandri, V. Venturelli, 2008-10-09. Explores the idea that Europe's growth problems may be caused by weaknesses in capital markets and in the access to risk capital. It addresses the evaluation of the financial needs and constraints of start-up firms and how these might be bridged. The role of public sector intervention is analyzed focusing on international best practices.

OECD SME and Entrepreneurship Outlook 2005 Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 2005. Small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) represent over 95 per cent of businesses in most OECD countries and generate about two thirds of private sector employment. This is the third edition of this publication which reviews recent trends relating to SMEs and entrepreneurship in OECD economies and beyond as well as reporting on recent policy initiatives to promote the competitiveness of the SME sector. Issues covered include regulatory and administrative burdens, entrepreneurship education and training, SME access to financing, technology innovation and international markets, the growing importance of women's entrepreneurship and local policy issues. This edition also includes the text of the Istanbul Ministerial Declaration on fostering the growth of innovative and internationally competitive SMEs.
