Young Entrepreneurs in Sub-Saharan Africa Katherine V. Gough,Thilde Langevang,2016-03-02 Young people in sub Saharan Africa are growing up in rapidly changing social and economic environments which produce high levels of un and underemployment Job creation through entrepreneurship is currently being promoted by international organizations governments and NGOs as a key solution despite there being a dearth of knowledge about youth entrepreneurship in an African context This book makes an important contribution by exploring the nature of youth entrepreneurship in Ghana Uganda and Zambia It provides new insights into conceptual and methodological discussions of youth entrepreneurship as well as presenting original empirical data Drawing on quantitative and qualitative research conducted under the auspices of a collaborative interdisciplinary and comparative research project it highlights the opportunities and challenges young people face in setting up and running businesses Divided into a number of clear sections each with its own introduction and conclusion the book considers the nature of youth entrepreneurship at the national level in both urban and rural areas in specific sectors including mobile telephony mining handicrafts and tourism and analyses how key factors such as microfinance social capital and entrepreneurship education affect youth entrepreneurship New light is shed on the multi faceted nature of youth entrepreneurship and a convincing case is presented for a more nuanced understanding of the term entrepreneurship and the situation faced by many African youth today This book will be of interest to a wide range of scholars interested in youth entrepreneurship including in development studies business studies youth studies and geography as well as to development practitioners and policy makers The Open Access title has now been added to the Open Access page <http://www.tandfebooks.com/page/openaccess>

The Entrepreneur in Youth Marilyn L. Kourilsky,William B. Walstad,Andrew Thomas,2007 The Entrepreneur in Youth offers one of the most comprehensive assessments to date of African American Latino and white high school students aspirations knowledge opinions and educational views related to entrepreneurship and philanthropy A key strength is its longitudinal approach to analysis and interpretations made possible by extensive surveys of over 11 000 respondents from high school youth and other groups including adults and business owners The key findings exhibit an extraordinarily high level of interest in entrepreneurship among youth as well as a strong desire to give back to their communities. However, they lack the knowledge and experience to achieve their aspirations. The book's major recommendations and guidelines include challenges to education and other policymakers to expand and enhance opportunities to access entrepreneurship education and early entrepreneurship mentoring/shadowing experiences, especially for those who demand it the most: African Americans and Latinos. Meeting these challenges not only will contribute to economic growth and social reform initiatives but also will increase economic and social mobility and access to opportunity for a still largely untapped pool of future entrepreneurs. This book will appeal to academics in entrepreneurship, economics, business, and education as well as policymakers, educators, and business leaders.

Notes to a Young Entrepreneur: Everything a High School Student Needs to Know about Turning an Idea Into a Successful Business Gary Nealon, 2018-02-06. You don't have to be over twenty-one, a college grad, or even out of high school to come up with a brilliant marketable business plan. You're never too young to get started, and there's no time like the present. Gary Nealon has written an essential how-to handbook for teenage visionaries who are not afraid to dream big and are ready to leave their mark on the world. A self-taught serial entrepreneur who built a 20 million e-commerce business, Nealon knows there's no minimum age requirement when it comes to ambition. His invaluable expertise and advice can help any budding business genius take a brainchild from inspiration to fruition. Notes to a Young Entrepreneur provides everything you need to know about making an action plan, finding a mentor, researching markets, raising capital, and more. College might be the proper route for you to take with its significant networking potential. Or perhaps the money for your higher education would be better spent seeding your new endeavor. Whatever path is the right one for you, Gary Nealon will help you make all the right moves right now. Your future starts today because it's never too early to get down to business.

Rashard Freeman Zachary Delano Middleton, 2023. The freshman class at Septima Clark High School can't go on their class trip unless the students can raise enough money to cover half the cost. Rashard Freeman and his friends form The P U S H Collective and create a fundraising plan to host a schoolwide talent show. Throughout their fundraising journey, they learn life lessons on entrepreneurship. Each chapter invites the reader to take the entrepreneurial journey with them. Structured after the many teenage detective series of yesteryear, this fictional series aims to teach financial literacy and entrepreneurial imagination through storytelling. Instead of mysteries, the South Carolina teens solve entrepreneurial problems that impact their community. Book 1 captures the origin story of the P U S H Collective, made up of Rashard Freeman, Jaymesha Hope,

Tiana Robinson and Keshun Yout Young In this book Rashard is challenged as a leader When he makes a critical mistake that may cost everyone will he try to save himself or will he learn that the success of an organization is never just a one person affair
