Martin, 2002 Mass media has become an integral part of the human experience News travels around the world in a split second affecting people in other countries in untold ways Although being on top of the news may be good at least for news junkies mass media also transmits values or the lack thereof condenses complex events and thoughts to simplified sound bites and often ignores the essence of an event or story The selective bibliography gathers the books and magazine literature over the previous ten years while providing access through author title and subject indexes

Communication Shock Ty Adams, Steve Smith, 2015-09-04 In the spirit of Alvin Toffler s acclaimed works peering into the future of the technological society Communication Shock is a concise history of communication technologies and an exploration of the possible social and human impacts of nanotechnology on the ecology of human communication As we become increasingly more networked with communication technologies we must come to understand and confront the social impact of these changes More importantly we must wisely choose in embracing or rejecting these technologies and exploring how we might do both by striking an appropriate balance Grounded in communication theory and praxis Communication Shock brings some objectivity to the discussion of technology maps its development and encourages a rational conversation about its potential problems and promise It challenges readers to reach their own conclusions about the future imagined and unimaginable about the fundamental values in conflict and how one might choose to embrace or contest them to maintain individual autonomy in the face of increasingly ubiquitous marketing and technological change Present and emerging communications technologies hold the promise for a bold new future but they also have their inherent risks and drawbacks

Communication shock is the human response conscious or unconscious wherein the individual chooses to resist the growing pervasiveness of technology in his or her life by seeking ways to reduce or redirect new technologies or to reject the addition of such technologies altogether Here is a framework for understanding the potential of the evolving technologies determining which are essential and which are distractions from the life that one believes to be meaningful and making informed choices for the life one wishes to live

Communication Researchers and Policy-making Sandra Braman,2003 A sourcebook on the multiple relationships between the communication research and policy making communities over the last hundred years As the global information infrastructure evolves the field of communication has the opportunity to renew itself while addressing the urgent policy need for new ways of thinking and new data to think about Communication Researchers and Policy making examines diverse relationships between the communication research and policy communities over more than a century and the issues that arise out of those interactions The book provides primary material in the form of reports on such relationships spanning time periods subject matter policy issues decision making venues and governments The essays range from historical pieces on the importance of communication research since the beginning of systematic policy analysis and on the various roles that researchers can play to contemporary analyses of contributions of research to policy debates over network design and access media violence and advertising fraud Substantial interstitial essays by the editor explore the impact of the policy context on communication theories and research practices relationships between researchers and their institutional homes the role of communication researchers as public intellectuals and ways to maximize the impact of communication research on policy making during this period of infrastructural transformation The book includes an extensive bibliography

Trends in Telecommunication Reform 1999 Union internationale des télécommunications,1999      Communications & Strategies ,2000      Research & Creative Activity ,2000      Faculty Directory & Research Activities University of Minnesota. Law School,2000      American Book Publishing Record ,1999      Communication Revolution Robert Waterman McChesney,2007 In this sharply argued book McChesney explains why we are in the midst of a communication revolution which is at the centre of 21st century life Yet this profound juncture is not well understood in part because media criticism and scholarship haven t been up to the task McChesney s concise history of media studies shows how communication scholarship has grown increasingly irrelevant in recent years even as the media became a decisive issue of these times The revolution in communication calls for a transformation in the way we think about media      The Journal of International Communication ,2005      Making Universal Service Policy Barbara A. Cherry,Steven S. Wildman,Allen S. Hammond, IV,Allen S. Hammond,1999-08 This volume presents the current state of universal service policy from governmental academic and industry perspectives It will be of great use to those involved in communication policy including lawyers economists policy makers and scholars      Interconnection and the Internet Gregory L. Rosston,David Waterman,2013-11-26 The Telecommunications Act of 1996 and the Federal Communications Commission s Local Competition Order are just two examples of the continuing monumental and far reaching changes occurring throughout the telecommunications industry At the 1996 Telecommunications Policy Research Conference TPRC an annual forum for dialogue among scholars and the policymaking community on a wide range of telecommunications issues leading industry and academic researchers presented results of their research and insights in key areas of activity including interconnection and competition Internet growth and commerce Internet regulation and control and the political economy of telecommunications regulation The best of the 1996 TPRC papers are included here representing the forefront of research in the telecommunications industry The third in an annual LEA series of volumes based on this important conference this collection reflects the rapid economic technological and social development of telecommunications It also reflects the current state of research thinking on this issue and provides a foundation for further telecommunications policy analysis
