Guillén, Esteban García-Canal, 2010-09-23 A new breed of multinational companies is reshaping competition in global industries For most of the 19th and 20th centuries multinational firms came from the most technologically advanced countries in the world Over the last two decades however new multinational firms from upper middle income economies e g Spain Ireland Portugal South Korea and Taiwan developing countries e g Egypt Indonesia and

Thailand and oil rich countries e g United Arab Emirates Nigeria Russia and Venezuela have become formidable global competitors These firms do not necessarily possess technological or marketing skills In contrast to the classic multinationals they found strength in their ability to organize manage execute and network They pursued a variety of strategies including vertical integration product diversification learning by doing exploration of new capabilities and collaboration with other firms This book documents this phenomenon identifies key capabilities of the new multinationals and provides a new conceptual framework to understand its causes and implications Transnational Corporations and Innovatory Activities John Cantwell,1994 New Multinational Enterprises from Korea and Taiwan Roger van Hoesel,2013-01-11 This volume represents the first substantive study of emerging multinationals MNEs from Asian economies drawing on the unique experiences of South Korea and Taiwan Combining an econometric investigation with detailed case studies of leading Korean and Taiwanese electronics companies it aims to demystify the nature and theoretical implications of these dynamic economic regions The author argues that many of these new multinationals do not possess the characteristics typically ascribed to MNEs such as technological leadership strong marketing positions or advanced managerial capabilities This is highlighted by documentation of recent developments in outward investment from Korea and Taiwan at both micro and macro level The implications of the recent Asian crisis for the internationalization of Korean and Taiwanese firms are also explored multinational managers and 189 from customers This represents a total response rate of 62 percent which is adequate for this study The empirical results supported with comprehensive secondary data confirmed virtually all of the research hypotheses The study found that joint ventures are the dominant form of multinational business in Saudi Arabia both in manufacturing and service industries The core roles of MNCs in the Saudi foreign ventures are evident in the cross border value adding activities of marketing trading manufacturing consulting contracting project management insurance hotel operation and banking Likewise MNCs provide licensing franchising financing services and various auxiliary roles in the Kingdom Therefore the multinationality of a firm or a group of firms operating across national boundaries is not necessarily synonymous with international production the main subject of contemporary multinational theories The respondents generally perceived the competitiveness of MNCs operating in Saudi Arabia as a function of a number of economic management marketing technological and other variables They also perceived the contributions of MNCs to the Kingdom s socio economic developments as significant and positive The study also found that understanding Islamic values and ethics is important for MNCs In this regard the researcher looked at some objective indicators of business success and related them to selected measures of MNCs local cultural awareness and responsiveness The results indicate that the business success of multinationals operating in Saudi Arabia is positively related to their local cultural awareness and responsiveness Along this line this study covers some vital elements of Islamic culture which will help MNCs understand further the cultural needs values and sensitivities of the Saudi people and Muslims in general The Emergence of Southern Multinationals Louis Brennan,2010-12-21 In today s globalised world there is a need to investigate new trends in the global economy which impact on Europe The emergence of these southern multinationals in Europe is one such phenomenon This book explores the existing trends and trajectories of these companies the evidence of their impact and their strategies and processes
