Technologies For The 21st Century On Multimedia:

Technologies for the 21st Century Martin Greenberger,1990 Multimedia Technologies and Applications for the 21st Century Borko Furht,1997-11-30 Multimedia Technologies and Applications for the 21st Century Visions of World Experts presents contributions from leading researchers and experts describing their current research and their views of the future trends in the field The book consists of thirteen chapters in five parts These chapters tackle a number of critical issues in distributed multimedia systems and applications from VLSI processors that support multimedia and multimedia servers through multimedia databases and multimedia networks and communications to merging multimedia applications Only a few years ago multimedia seemed like a brand new research field and an emerging new industry Today at the edge of the 21st century multimedia research is coming of age and the multimedia industry has significantly grown with the total market estimated to be about 50 billion Several years ago it was felt that the digital media revolution had just started however the seeds had been sown long before Fundamental technologies such as interactive laser disks video games and electronic encyclopedias were invented in the 1970s and 80s They represented the seeds for current hot applications such as digital libraries video on demand interactive television and videoconferencing Another aspect of the digital media revolution is the formation of a new media industry composed of computer entertainment communication and consumer electronics companies Many industry segments are currently involved in creating new products and services positioning themselves for the 21st century They include telephone cable and satellite TV companies communication equipment companies TV and radio broadcasters on line Internet service providers cable channels movie studios record companies book publishers CD ROM title creators Internet tool vendors multimedia software tools companies computer companies general software tools companies computer add on vendors semiconductor vendors and consumer electronics vendors Multimedia Technologies and Applications for the 21st Century Visions of World Experts should stimulate the curiosity of its readers and inspire new technological breakthroughs in this exciting field It serves as a valuable reference for system designers engineers programmers and managers who are involved in multimedia systems the Internet and their applications This book can also be used as a textbook for advanced courses on multimedia in engineering curricula Technology in the 21st Century Toshio Itoh,Toshio Itō,Hitoshi Ogata,Teruhisa Ichikawa,1996 Many situations we encounter in daily life force us to recognize that we already live in the age of the information oriented society We also hear future prospects for life and society discussed in terms of expected advances in information and communications technologies However in these rapidly changing technologies two weeks is a very long time and anything going back two years is almost a fossil For instance the word Internet was little used two years ago but now it attracts intense worldwide attention This makes it very difficult to read the future with any degree of confidence Generally the key to creating new products and new markets is thought to lie in fostering market oriented development Today though when it is hard to grasp changes in the market place we need to consider the case for basing our suggestions for new products and markets on readings of the future that reflect a proper understanding of the nature of technology later brushing up these suggestions with user and market oriented improvements This book adopts the latter method The book is divided into three parts In the first for technologies that promise to make great future advances current efforts and achievements are described along with the directions in which these technologies are headed In the second part of the book covers the development and production technologies that will be needed to bring new products to market Finally the third part explores systems based on these products and technologies and share our practical vision of what the advanced information oriented society will be like Readers engineers and technologists IT experts
