Subcommittee on International Finance and Monetary Policy, 1983      The Politics Of East-west Trade Gordon B Smith, 2019-06-26 Trade and technology transfer have come to occupy a major role in Soviet American relations Twice in recent years embargoes have been imposed on the sale of U S high technology to the U S S R

The Language of Foreign Affairs , 1987-10 Problems of Communism , 1980 Technology transfer to the Middle East. , Scientific Communication and National Security National Academy of Engineering, National Academy of Sciences, Policy and Global Affairs, Institute of Medicine, Committee on Science, Engineering, and Public Policy, Panel on Scientific Communication and National Security, 1982-02-01 The military political and economic preeminence of the United States during the post World War II era is based to a substantial degree on its superior rate of achievement in science and technology as well as on its capacity to translate these achievements into products and processes that contribute to economic prosperity and the national defense The success of the U S scientific enterprise has been facilitated by many factors important among them the opportunity for American scientists and engineers to pursue their research and to communicate with each other in a free and open environment During the last two administrations however concern has arisen that the characteristically open U S scientific community has served as one of the channels through which critical information and know how are flowing to the Soviet Union and to other potential adversary countries openness in science is thus perceived to present short term national security risks in addition to its longer term national security benefits in improved U S military technology The Panel on Scientific Communication and National Security was asked to examine the various aspects of the application of controls to scientific communication and to suggest how to balance competing national objectives so as to best serve the general welfare The Panel held three two day meetings in Washington at which it was briefed by representatives of the departments of Defense State and Commerce and by representatives of the intelligence community including the Central Intelligence Agency the Federal Bureau of Investigation the Defense Intelligence Agency and the National Security Agency The Panel also heard presentations by members of the research community and by university representatives In addition to these briefings the Rand Corporation prepared an independent analysis of the transfer of sensitive technology from the United States to the Soviet Union To determine the views of scientists and administrators at major research universities the Panel asked a group of faculty members and administrative officials at Cornell University to prepare a paper incorporating their own views and those of counterparts at other universities The main thrust of the Panel s findings is completely reflected in this document However the Panel has also produced a classified version of the subpanel report based on the secret intelligence information it was given this statement is available at the Academy to those with the appropriate security clearance

Export Controls in Transition Gary K. Bertsch, Steven Elliott-Gower, 1992 Like many cold war artifacts the West s export control policies and institutions are being reevaluated after the tumult in the communist world at the end of the 1980s Policymakers and scholars are being forced to reexamine the premises of export control policy and the very concept of export controls as a tool of national security and foreign policy This volume brings together expert scholars and government officials who provide contrasting perspectives and address the prospects for export controls The contributors discuss the role and function of export control policies from a variety of perspectives security commerce diplomacy the European region and that of the newly industrialized countries Among the topics covered are the problems the United States and the Western export regime will face in the 1990s in light of changing international political alliances and dependencies in defining strategic exports in enforcing export controls and the role of the Coordinating Committee for Multilateral Export Controls Contributors Sumner Benson Beverly Crawford Richard t Cupitt Dorinda G Dallmeyer Paul Freedenberg Martin J Hillenbrand Hanns Dieter Jacobsen Bruce W Jentleson Kevin J Lasher William J Long Janne Haaland Matlary Jere W Morehead Henry R Nau Han S Park Kevin F F Quigley Alen B Sherr Christine Westbrook
