Tell Me Some More:

Tell Me a Story Robert J. Hater, 2006 Father Robert Hater strongly believes that story without basic belief lacks direction and basic belief without story is lifeless. He illustrates this relationship between story and Catholic belief with sensitive and powerful narratives including the account of his own mother's death and its impact on him. This is an invaluable resource for anyone involved in conveying the story of Jesus and the church: pastors, homilists, catechetical leaders, catechists, and teachers, parish ministers and families, as well as all who wish to find God in their own stories. Revisiting the Nomadic Subject Maria Tamboukou, 2021-10-27 This book follows the stories of forcefully displaced women and raises the question of whether we can still use the figuration of the nomadic subject in feminist theories and politics. This question is examined in the light of the ongoing global crises of mobility and severe border practices. In recounting their stories, migrant and refugee women appear in the world as who they are: unique and unrepeatable human beings, and not as what they are objectified, refugees, victims, or stateless subjects. Women's stories leave traces of their will to rewrite their exclusion from oppressive regimes, defend their choice of civil and patriarchal disobedience, grasp their passage, claim their right to have rights, and affirm their determination for new beginnings. What emerges from the encounter between theoretical abstractions and women's lived experiences is the need to decolonize feminist theories and make cartographies of mobility assemblages wherein nomadism is a component of entangled relations and not a category or a figuration of a subject position. These stories that have now been collected, transcribed, and analysed, they have created a rich archive of uprooted women's experiences and have brought forward a wide range of new ideas that will be presented and discussed in the book. Decolonizing feminist theory: Mobility assemblages and geographies of nomadism The art of listening to fragmented narratives and the labour of translation. Crossing borders and inhabiting borderlands Radical solitude and radical hope. Feminist genealogies of labour under conditions of forced displacement The force of political narratives through the figure of Antigone. Education for hope Imagining the non nomad. 4 narrated stories will also be presented in full, interwoven in the theoretical discussions of the book, thus opening up a dialogic space between theoretical reflections and diffractions and narratives of lived experiences. Living to Tell about it James Phelan, 2005 Phelan's compelling readings cover important theoretical ground by introducing a valuable distinction between disclosure functions and narrator functions. Criminal Profiling Brent E. Turvey, 2022-10-10 Criminal Profiling: An Introduction to Behavioral Evidence Analysis Fifth Edition maintains the same core foundation that made previous editions best sellers in the professional and academic community worldwide. Written for practicing behavioral analysts and aspiring students alike, this work emphasizes an honest understanding of crime and criminals. Newly updated mechanisms for the examination and classification of both victim and offender behavior have been improved. In addition to refined approaches toward international perspectives, chapters on psychological autopsies, scene investigation, reconstruction, court issues, and racial profiling have also been added. Outlines the scientific principles and practice standards of BEA oriented criminal profiling with an emphasis on applying theory to real cases Contains contributions from law enforcement academia mental health fields and forensic science communities Includes a complete glossary of terms along with an instructor website and student companion site United We Solve Tim Erickson,1996 Sport Identities Katherine King,2013-05-31 This case study is part of the Contemporary Cases Online series The series provides critical case studies that are original flexible challenging controversial and research informed driven by the needs of teaching and learning The Bristol Job Nott, Or, Labouring Man's Friend ,1832 Helping Children to Tell About Sexual Abuse Rosaleen McElvaney,2016-07-21 Children need to be able to disclose their experiences of sexual abuse in order to stop the abuse and get help Practical and accessible this book offers guidance on how professionals can identify potential abuse cases and create safe opportunities for children to talk about sexual abuse The book explores challenges in facilitating and responding to disclosures of abuse such as how to recognise the signs ask the right questions and react to a disclosure It also draws on research carried out with children who have experienced sexual abuse to convey how experiences of disclosure feel to those making them and what informs a decision to tell or not tell Helping Children to Tell About Sexual Abuse will be suitable for any professional working with a child or young person including social workers psychologists child family therapists health care workers school nurses school counsellors health visitors police and youth workers A Complete Collection of State Trials and Proceedings for High Treason and Other Crimes and Misdemeanors from the Earliest Period to the Year 1820. \(etc.\) Thomas Bayly Howell,1816 Love Sketches David Appleby,2011-03-24 Love Sketches explores the sensuality of romance and the varieties and vagaries of love Former colleagues almost lovers meet to discuss literature only to discover a yearning that rekindles their lost romance teenagers infused with the early flowering of romance struggle to maintain that romance against all odds a young romantic learns a tragic lesson of love and redemption all too soon an elderly professor devises a plan for one last try at romance and amid an atmosphere rich in romance and sensuality two close friends reunite to reveal deep feelings they've held for one another feelings which went unnourished for those years they had convinced one another they were just friends Book Review The fourteen stories in this collection bring us up close and personal with the many faces of love These are more than sketches these stories cover love's waterfront The characters are ordinary innocent worldly and they are stopped short when they're tripped up by and succumb to love The settings are varied run down apartment buildings city offices motel rooms sleekly designed suburban homes but the message is the same regardless of age or class or means love is acutely and intensely felt There is romance but these are not simple romantic stories The characters are complex their lives are often adverse and conflicted filled with guilt anxiety and crises of conscience and there are no easy answers and few resolutions The reader is sometimes forced to think beyond stereotypes of age and class we are often surprised by the turn of events by sudden acts of tenderness But the charge of love is everywhere and the sensuality and sensuousness of the language is what stands out

There is a grace and lightness in the writing where a look a touch a sigh a gesture between lovers allows the reader to be party to the ache and intimacy of the characters Much is gleaned in these small gestures and much is left unsaid Nature too plays a part lovers walk through city parks shelter under an umbrella in a rain shower gaze out at lush trees though a huge glass window The stories are suffused with longing and in some an air of melancholy pervades In Close Friends two friends almost lovers once meet again and realise that love has held up after many years In Claire a lonely wife prepares for a rendezvous with a man she doesn't even like in her desperate need for connection This dirty realist story is played out against a backdrop of strip malls and dollar shops but it is Claire's inner dialogue and longing for union with her husband that leaves the greatest impression In Bus Trip and The Graveyard of Romance the sparse conversations and the minutiae of the daily lives of married couples are closely observed and despite a lifetime of shared experiences and much compassion there is a palpable loneliness at the heart of these relationships The Dance of Romance is a witty poignant glimpse of a 70 year Eng Lit professor as he comes to terms with the loss of his attractiveness to girls and women What I wanted was one last chance to push the pause button In the perfectly paced story A Long Romance Dalton a rich middle class forty something year old is captivated by Joleen a young office girl The reader is prepared to suspect his motives but for a while it is Joleen we mistrust Their unlikely love is conveyed skilfully though Joleen's unique voice with her Southern dialect and colloquialisms and her utter honesty and when the tears come they are killer tears There is nothing precious or sentimental here but it is achingly moving I can't believe somebody like you could happen to somebody like me The lovers in this collection are young old rich and poor angry and vulnerable love has indeed many faces There are some happy endings but most of the characters are left to their uncertain lives in sto
