Tell Me What We Did Today:

Something Deadly on Desert Drive Kris Bock, 2022-06-21 Starting over at fifty might be hard but it shouldn't be deadly. Still recovering from an injury that might have permanently derailed her career as an international war correspondent, Kate Tessler is living in her childhood bedroom and pondering her second act when another case lands in her lap. Kate's father and his coffee group are worried. Their friend Larry married a younger woman who now insists he has dementia and won't let any of his friends visit. They're convinced that Larry's wife and her two adult deadbeat kids are out to steal his money. Can Kate help? Soon Kate and her unusual gang of sidekicks are unofficially officially investigating. But before they can dig out the truth a murder raises the stakes. Now they need to prove Larry is both mentally competent and not a killer. They'll have to find the real murderer without risking their own lives in the process.

The Advocate Don Levin, 2017-11-17 In this thought provoking sequel to Another Last Day it is six months after he died and then didn't die as he was given the opportunity to celebrate another last day with family and friends. Having put that special day behind him and making the most of this gift of additional time, Jackson Lee, a former attorney, retired military officer, and now successful real estate broker, is presented with an opportunity beyond his wildest imagination: a second chance to serve those around him but now as an earth-bound heavenly advocate assigned to do on earth what angels cannot do for fear of altering heaven's plan. Assisted and mentored by a heavenly being with whom only he can communicate, Jackson experiences multiple life and death situations as he continues to find answers to questions relating to his own mortality, the existence of heaven, and life after death.

Walking with Secrets Carla Huxham, 2016-06-09 Centred on the fabulous diamond beaches on Africa's West Coast, harsh realities impact on the seemingly idyllic pattern of life in a deeply rural village. Key characters Hafeni and Abed are wrenched from their community to seek work. The men's arduous journey across the desiccated veld introduces their reality: distant and remote. A troubled German teenager, Alex, experiences the beauty of the wilderness and unwittingly undergoes a transition into manhood. As a prelude to the ending of the drought, an enchanting unusual story plays out with a visit by the mythical rainbird. The men settle into the alien and unfamiliar routine of life at the mine where an undercurrent of diamond theft like fine desert sand pervades everything. Hafeni remains steadfast and committed to his mission. Abed, however, falls victim to temptation. The novel reaches across cultural divides, revealing drastically different worlds. Bessie, child of a domestic worker, grew up in a suburb near Windhoek, privileged to receive an education. Against all odds, she makes her dream come true. Sharing her success is engaging and meaningful. Betrayals, however, turn her life upside down. Fortuitous circumstances find her working at the mine. Too late, Bessie discovers that she is harbouring a diamond thief and pays a terrible price. Intrigue and ingenuity provide compelling suspense in the battle of wits between Security and the diamond thieves. The villagers meanwhile experience a miraculous change in circumstances. When the men return to the mine for a second contract, their wives Nala and Jaloosuffer a traumatic incident. They endure the arduous walk back to the village bound

Parliament: House of Commons: Defence Committee,2011-07-17 This report looks at operations in Afghanistan since 2006 and makes further recommendations for the anticipated draw down of forces UK Forces were deployed in Helmand Province in Afghanistan for three years from 2006 without the necessary personnel equipment or intelligence to succeed in their mission Mistakes were made as a result of a failure in military and political coordination The decision to move UK Armed Forces into the South of Afghanistan in early 2006 was not fully thought through The Committee is concerned that the MoD did not anticipate that the presence of the Armed Forces in Helmand might stir up a hornets nest especially as much of the intelligence was contradictory Senior military advisers should have drawn attention to the need for force levels to be sufficiently robust to cope with an unpredictable conflict The Committee is disturbed that the Secretary of State was told that commanders on the ground were content with the support they were being given in Helmand when clearly they were not After only a matter of months in Helmand the nature of the UK Mission changed with serious strategic implications The MoD did not respond quickly enough to changes in Taliban tactics The MoD should prioritise the protection of personnel The Government s room for manoeuvre regarding the number of troops that could be withdrawn from Afghanistan as part of an immediate transition is necessarily limited More emphasis needs to be placed on capacity building within the political system if long term success is to be achieved

Behind Ghetto Walls Michael Novak,2017-09-08 This book is about the family lives of some 10 000 children and adults who live in an all Negro public housing project in St Louis The Pruitt Igoe project is only one of the many environments in which urban Negro Americans lived in the 1960s but the character of the family life there shares much with the family life of lower class Negroes as it has been described by other investigators in other cities and at other times in Harlem Chicago New Orleans or Washington D C This book is primarily concerned with private life as it is lived from day to day in a federally built and supported slum The questions which are treated here have to do with the kinds of interpersonal relationships that develop in nuclear families the socialization processes that operate in families as children grow up in a slum environment the informal relationships of children and adolescents and adults with each other and finally the world

views the existential framework arising from the life experiences of the Pruitt Igoeans and the ways they make use of this framework to order their experiences and make sense out of them The lives of these persons are examined in terms of life cycles Each child there is born into a constricted world the world of lower class Negro existence and as he grows he is shaped and directed by that existence through the day to day experiences and relationships available to him The crucial transition from child of a family to progenitor of a new family begins in adolescence and for this reason the book pays particular attention to how each new generation of parents expresses the cultural and social structural forces that formed it and continue to constrain its behavior This book in short is about intimate personal life in a particular ghetto setting It does not analyze the larger institutional social structural and ideological forces that provide the social economic and political context in which lower class Negro life is lived These larger macro sociological forces are treated in another volume based on research in the Pruitt Igoe community However this book does draw on the large body of literature on the structural position of Negroes in American society as background for its analysis of Pruitt Igoe private life
