Crypto Wars Craig Jarvis, 2020-12-14 The crypto wars have raged for half a century In the 1970s digital privacy activists prophesied the emergence of an Orwellian State made possible by computer mediated mass surveillance The antidote digital encryption The U S government warned encryption would not only prevent surveillance of law abiding citizens but of criminals terrorists and foreign spies ushering in a rival dystopian future Both parties fought to defend the citizenry from what they believed the most perilous threats The government tried to control encryption to preserve its surveillance capabilities privacy activists armed citizens with cryptographic tools and challenged encryption regulations in the courts No clear victor has emerged from the crypto wars Governments have failed to forge a framework to govern the at times conflicting civil liberties of privacy and security in the digital age an age when such liberties have an outsized influence on the citizen State power balance Solving this problem is more urgent than ever Digital privacy will be one of the most important factors in how we architect twenty first century societies its management is paramount to our stewardship of democracy for future generations We must elevate the quality of debate on cryptography on how we govern security and privacy in our technology infused world Failure to end the crypto wars will result in societies sleepwalking into a future where the citizen State power balance is determined by a twentieth century status quo unfit for this century endangering both our privacy and security This book provides a history of the crypto wars with the hope its chronicling sets a foundation for peace

Computing with Social Trust Jennifer Golbeck, 2008-11-16 This book has evolved out of roughly ve years of working on computing with social trust In the beginning getting people to accept that social networks and the relationships in them could be the basis for interesting relevant and exciting c puter science was a struggle Today social networking and social computing have become hot topics and those of us doing research in this space are nally nding a wealth of opportunities to share our work and to collaborate with others This book is a collection of chapters that cover all the major areas of research in this space I hope it will serve as a guide to students and researchers who want a strong introduction to work in the field and as encouragement and direction for those who are considering bringing their own techniques to bear on some of these problems. It has been an honor and privilege to work with these authors for whom I have so much respect and admiration. Thanks to all of them for their outstanding work which speaks for itself and for patiently enduring all my emails. Thanks as always to Jim Hendler for his constant support. Cai Ziegler has been particularly helpful both as a collaborator and in the early stages of development for this book. My appreciation also goes to Beverley Ford, Rebecca Mowat and everyone at Springer who helped with publication of this work.

Communication and Networking
 Dominik Slezak, Thanos Vasilakos, Mingchu Li, Kouichi Sakurai, 2009-12-01. As future generation information technology (FGIT) becomes specialized and fragmented it is easy to lose sight that many topics in FGIT have common threads and because of this advances in one discipline may be transmitted to others. Presentation of recent results obtained in different disciplines encourages this interchange for the advancement of FGIT as a whole. Of particular interest are hybrid solutions that combine ideas taken from multiple disciplines in order to achieve something more significant than the sum of the individual parts. Through such hybrid philosophy a new principle can be discovered which has the propensity to propagate throughout multifaceted disciplines. FGIT 2009 was the first mega conference that attempted to follow the above idea of hybridization in FGIT in a form of multiple events related to particular disciplines of IT conducted by separate scientific committees but coordinated in order to expose the most important contributions. It included the following international conferences: Advanced Software Engineering and Its Applications, ASEA Bio Science and Bio Technology, BSBT Control and Automation, CA Database Theory and Application, DTA Disaster Recovery and Business Continuity, DRBC published independently, Future Generation Communication and Networking, FGCN that was combined with Advanced Communication and Networking, ACN Grid and Distributed Computing, GDC Multimedia, Computer Graphics and Broadcasting, MulGraB Security Technology, SecTech, Signal Processing, Image Processing and Pattern Recognition, SIP and e Service Science and Technology, UNESST.
