The American Skyscraper, 1850-1940

Joseph J. Korom, 2008 The skyscraper is an American invention that has captured the public's imagination for over a century The tall building is wholly manmade and borne in the minds of those with both slide rules and computers This is the story of the skyscraper's rise and the recognition of those individuals who contributed to its development This volume is unique its approach information and images are fresh and telling The text examines America's first tall buildings the result of twelve years of in depth research by an accomplished and published architect and architectural historian Over 300 compelling photographs charts and notes make this the ultimate tool of reference for this subject Biographies woven throughout with period norms politics and lifestyles help to place featured skyscrapers in context Quite simply there is no book like this The text carefully and insightfully written is clear concise and easily digestible the text being the product of well documented original research written in an informative tone The American Skyscraper 1850 1940 A Celebration of Height is a richly documented journey of a fascinating topic and it promises to be a superb addition to libraries schools of architecture students of architecture and lovers of art

The Black Skyscraper

Adrienne Brown, 2017-11-15 A highly interdisciplinary work The Black Skyscraper reclaims the influence of race on modern architectural design as well as the less well understood effects these designs had on the experience and perception of race

The Word

Christopher Galano, 2024-04-22 The Word calls the reader toward Christhood In a world grown top heavy with ego and intellect these poems explore reintegration with the heart and soul that modern culture has undervalued in pursuit of scientific and technological advancement This is a critical junction in history when governments and corporations insist on technologies that invade people's very bodies ostensibly for the sake of safety and connection The Word proposes a richer connection a divine marriage between individuals reflecting the marriage of the heavens and the earth We wreath the world with golden glimmering ribbons ribbons endless as our wedding rings Prepare for the new days and a new way of living in the world

The Pig and the Skyscraper

Marco d'Eramo, 2020-05-05 You expect the city of Al Capone and what you find are pleasant boulevards coursing up and down between the neo classical buildings of the 1893 Universal Exhibition The city center unfolds before you an architectural miracle that is to twentieth century urban planning what Venice must have been for the fifteenth century Like a cross between Philip Marlowe and Walter Benjamin Marco d'Eramo stalks the streets of Chicago leaving no myth unturned Maintaining a European's detached gaze he slowly comes to recognize the familiar stink of modernity that blows across the Windy City the origins of whose greatness the slaughterhouses the railroads the lumber and cereal crop trades are by now ancient history and where what rears its head today is already scheduled for tomorrow's chopping block Chicago has been the stage for some of modernity's key episodes the birth of the skyscraper the rise of urban
