The Orientalists European Painters Of Eastern Scenes:

The Orientalists Philippe Jullian, 1977      Orientalism and Representations of Music in the Nineteenth-Century British Popular Arts Claire Mabilat, 2017-07-05

Representations of music were employed to create a wider Orient on the pages, stages and walls of nineteenth century Britain. This book explores issues of orientalism, otherness, gender and sexuality that arise in artistic British representations of non-European musicians during this time by utilizing recent theories of orientalism and the subsidiary, particularly aesthetic and literary theories both on which these theories were based and on which they have been influential. The author uses this theoretical framework of orientalism as a form of othering in order to analyse primary source materials and in conjunction with musicological, literary and art theories thus explores ways in which ideas of the Other were transformed over time and between different genres and artists.

Part I: The Musical Stage discusses elements of the libretti of popular musical stage works in this period and the occasionally contradictory ways in which racial Others were represented through text and music; a particular focus is the depiction of Oriental women and ideas of sexuality. Through examination of this collection of libretti, the ways in which the writers of these works filter and romanticize the changing intellectual ideas of this era are explored.

Part II: Works of Fiction is a close study of the works of Sir Henry Rider Haggard, using other examples of popular fiction by his contemporary writers as contextualizing material, with the primary concern being to investigate how music is utilized in popular fiction to represent Other non-Europeans and in the creation of orientalized gender constructions.

Part III: Visual Culture is an analysis of images of music and the Orient in examples of British high art, illustration and photography, investigating how the musical Other was visualized.

Gustave Doré and the Modern Biblical Imagination Sarah C. Schaefer, 2021-09-14

Gustave Doré and the Modern Biblical Imagination explores the role of biblical imagery in modernity, an era that has often been defined through a process of secularization. It does so through the lens of Gustave Doré (1832-83), whose work is among the most reproduced and adapted scriptural imagery in the history of Judeo-Christianity. The book argues that Doré's biblical imagery negotiated the challenges of visualizing the Bible for modern audiences in both sacred and secular contexts. A set of texts whose veracity and authority were under unprecedented scrutiny in this period, the Bible was at the center of a range of historical, theological and cultural debates. Gustave Doré is at the nexus of these narratives as his work established the most pervasive visual language for biblical imagery in the past two and a half centuries and constitutes the means by which the Bible has persistently been translated visually.

Pilgrimage, Politics, and Pestilence Saurabh Mishra, 2010-12-06

The epicentre of the Muslim universe, Mecca attracts hundreds of thousands of believers every year. Pilgrimage, Politics, and Pestilence studies the organization and meanings of the Hajj from India during colonial times and analyses it from political, commercial and medical perspectives.

between 1860 the year of the first outbreak of cholera epidemic in Mecca and 1920 when the subject of holy places of Islam became a very powerful political symbol in the Indian subcontinent Contrary to the general belief about colonial policy of non intervention into religious subjects the book argues that the state in fact kept a close watch on the pilgrimage Saurabh Mishra examines the medicalization of Mecca through cholera outbreaks and the intrusion of European medical regulations He underscores how the Haj played an important role in shaping medical policies and practices debates and disease definitions The book explores how the Indian Hajis perceived negotiated and resisted colonial pilgrimage and medical policies in their quest of an intense spiritual experience The author recovers the hitherto unexplored perspective of pilgrims voices in travelogues memoirs newspaper reports and journals to present a nuanced analysis of the interaction between religious faith and colonial public health policies during the age of steamships and empire The Nation's Tortured Body Brian Keith Axel, 2001 A theoretical account of the formation of Sikh diaspora and Sikh nationalism arguing that the diaspora rather than originating from the nation has a major role in the nation's creation Empire of Landscape John Zarobell, 2010 Explores visual culture and the social history of art through an analysis of French images of nineteenth century Algeria Provided by publisher Multiple Wives, Multiple Pleasures Joan DelPlato, 2002 This is a critical study of French and British art and written texts poetry literature travel accounts art criticism orientalist works about the harem produced in the period from 1800 1875 Original readings are provided for over 150 harem pictures from well known salon paintings to rarely published erotic popular prints and book illustrations Multiple Wives Multiple Pleasures examines these works closely often establishing fresh contexts for many of the more well known nineteenth century harem pictures and often providing a consideration of lesser known harem pictures that have been rarely published until now Belly Dance, Pilgrimage and Identity Barbara Sellers-Young, 2016-11-07 This book examines the globalization of belly dance and the distinct dancing communities that have evolved from it The history of belly dance has taken place within the global flow of sojourners immigrants entrepreneurs and tourists from the nineteenth to the twenty first century In some cases the dance is transferred to new communities within the gender normative structure of its original location in North Africa and the Middle East Belly dance also has become part of popular culture's Orientalist infused discourse The consequence of this discourse has been a global revision of the solo dances of North Africa and the Middle East into new genres that are still part of the larger belly dance community but are distinct in form and meaning from the dance as practiced within communities in North Africa and the Middle East Nineteenth-Century Art Laurie Schneider Adams, 2014-10-02 Munch's The Scream Van Gogh's Starry Night Rodin's The Thinker Monet's water lilies Constable's landscapes The nineteenth century gave us a wealth of artistic riches so memorable in their genius that we can picture many of them at an instant However at the time their avant garde nature was the cause of much controversy Professor Laurie Schneider Adams brings vividly to life the paintings sculpture photography and architecture of the period vividly with her infectious enthusiasm for art and detailed explorations of

The Foreign Woman in British Literature Marilyn D. Button, Toni Reed, 1999-11-30 While England has been strengthened by a proud isolationism she has simultaneously been enriched by the economic social and political complexities that have emerged as people of different ethnic and cultural backgrounds have moved within her borders or when her own citizens have emigrated among those foreigners to live or rule This book explores the foreign element in English culture and the attempt by English writers from the early 19th to the mid 20th century to portray their complex and often ambiguous responses to that doubly foreign element among them the foreign woman While being foreign may begin with national or ethnic difference the contributors to this book expand it to include other forms of alienation from a dominant culture resulting from gender race class ideology or temperament The many factors shaping English national identity including British imperialism immigration patterns English family and social structures and English common law have been shaped by gender related issues Though not a prominent literary figure the foreign woman in England has received increasingly critical attention in recent years as a psychological and sociological phenomenon By beginning with Byron in the early 19th century and concluding with Lawrence Durrell in the 20th century this study contributes to a more comprehensive vision of the foreign woman as she is portrayed by a number of British authors including Shelley Wordsworth Charlotte Bront Elizabeth Barrett Browning Wilkie Collins George Eliot Joseph Conrad D H Lawrence and Anita Brookner

Mobilizing Place, Placing Mobility Ginette Verstraete, Tim Cresswell, 2002 What role does place have in a world marked by increased mobility on a global scale What strategies are there for representing place in the age of globalization What is the relationship between place and the varied mobilities of migrancy tourism travel and nomadism These are some of the questions that run through the ten essays in this collection The combined effect of these essays is to participate in the contemporary project of subjecting the links between place mobility identity representation and practice to critical interdisciplinary scrutiny Such notions are not the property of particular disciplines In the era of globalization transnationalism and readily acknowledged cultural hybridity these links are more important than ever They are important because of the taken for grantedness of the universal impact of globalization the receding importance of place and the centrality of mobile identities This taken for grantedness masks the ways place continues to be important and ways in which mobility is differentiated by race gender ethnicity nationality and many other social markers This book is a concerted attempt to stop taking for granted these themes of the age Material discussed in the essays include the creation of cultural routes in Europe the video s of Fiona Tan artistic and literary representations of the North African desert the production of indigenous videos in Mexico mobile forms of ethnography the film Existenz Jamaica Kincaid's writing on gardens the video representation of sex tourism and ways of imagining the global Authors include Tim Cresswell Ginette Verstraete Ernst van Alphen Ursula Biemann Laurel C Smith Nick Couldry Isabel Hoving Renee van de Vall Inge E Boer and Kevin Hetherington      Orientalist Aesthetics Roger Benjamin, 2003-02-03 Benjamin's rediscovery of the important Society of French Orientalist Painters provides a critical context for understanding a rich body of work including that of indigenous Algerian artists whose careers have never before been discussed in English      Strangers in Yemen David Malkiel, 2020-12-16 Strangers in Yemen is a study of travel to Yemen in the nineteenth century by Jews Christians and Muslims The travelers include a missionary artist scientist rabbi merchant adventurer and soldier The focus is on the encounter between people of different cultures and the chapters analyze the travelers' accounts to elucidate how strangers and locals perceived each other and how the experiences shaped their perceptions of themselves Cultural encounter is among the most important challenges of our time a time of global migration and instant communication Today as in the past history provides a valuable tool for illuminating the human experience and this scholarly work stimulates us to contemplate the challenge of cultural encounter for it affects us all      Genealogies of Orientalism Edmund Burke, David Prochaska, 2008-07-01 Orientalism as explored by Edward Said in 1978 was a far more complex phenomenon than many suspected being homogenous along the lines of neither culture nor time Instead it is deeply embedded in the collective reimaginings that were and are nationalism The dozen essays in Genealogies of Orientalism argue that the critique of orientalism far from being exhausted must develop further To do so however a historical turn must be made and the ways in which modernity itself is theorized and historicized must be rethought According to Joan W Scott author of The Politics of the Veil the essays in this collection develop a remarkable perspective on Edward Said's Orientalism placing it in a long historical context of critiques of colonial representations and deepening our understanding of the very meaning of modernity Looking beyond the usual geography of colonial theory this work broadens the focus from the Middle East and India to other Asian societies By exploring orientalism in literary and artistic representations of colonial subjects the authors illuminate the multifaceted ways in which modern cultures have drawn on orientalist images and indigenous self representations It is in this complex cross cultural collision that the overlapping of orientalism and nationalism can be found

The Evolution of Middle Eastern Landscapes John Malcolm Wagstaff, 1985-01-01 This book provides a background to the modern geography of the Middle East by tracing the evolution of humanized managed landscapes from the domestication of cereals through to the initiation of the great transformations of the region in the mid nineteenth century By examining the natural potential of the region in terms of climate natural vegetation and physical conditions and charting the emergence of basic long lasting traditional economies based on this environment the author shows how the environment stimulated traditional life styles which in turn perpetuated and molded the region      Northern European Paintings in the
