Slaves Spices And Ivory In Zanzibar Eastern African Studies:

Slaves, Spices and Ivory in Zanzibar Abdul Sheriff, 1987-09-30 The rise of Zanzibar was based on two major economic transformations Firstly slaves became used for producing cloves and grains for export Previously the slaves themselves were exported Secondly there was an increased international demand for luxuries such as ivory At the same time the price of imported manufactured goods was falling Zanzibar took advantage of its strategic position to trade as far as the Great Lakes However this very economic success increasingly subordinated Zanzibar to Britain with its anti slavery crusade and its control over the Indian merchant class Professor Sheriff analyses the early stages of the underdevelopment of East Africa and provides a corrective to the dominance of political and diplomatic factors in the history of the area Slaves, Spices, & Ivory in Zanzibar Abdul Sheriff, 1987 Slaves, Spices, & Ivory in Zanzibar Abdul Sheriff, 1987 The rise of Zanzibar was based on two major economic transformations firstly slaves became used for the production of cloves and grain for export instead of the slaves themselves being exported secondly there was an increased demand for luxuries such as ivory and Zanzibar took advantage of its strategic position to trade as far as the Great Lakes Yet this economic success increasingly subordinated Zanzibar to Britain with its anti slavery crusade and its control over the Indian merchant class North America Ohio U Press Kenya EAEP Slavery and Resistance in Africa and Asia Edward A. Africa Henri Médard, Shane Doyle, 2007-11-16 Slavery in the Great Lakes Region of East Africa is a collection of ten studies by the most prominent historians of the region Slavery was more important in the Great Lakes region of Eastern Africa than often has been assumed and Africans from the interior played a more complex role than was previously recognized The essays in this collection reveal the connections between the peoples of the region as well as their encounters with the conquering Europeans The contributors challenge the assertion that domestic slavery increased in Africa as a result of the international trade Slavery in this region was not a uniform phenomenon and the line between enslaved and non slave labor was fine Kinship ties could mark the difference between free and unfree labor Social categories were not always clear cut and the status of a slave could change within a lifetime Contents Introduction by Henri Médard Language Evidence of Slavery to the Eighteenth Century by David Schoenbrun The Rise of Slavery Social Change in Unyamwezi 1860 1900 by Jan Georg Deutsch Slavery Forced Labour in the Eastern Congo 1850 1910 by David Northrup Legacies of Slavery in North West Uganda The One Elezens by Mark Leopold Human Booty in Buganda The Seizure of People in War c 1700 c 1900 by Richard Reid Stolen People Autonomous Chiefs in Nineteenth Century Buganda by Holly Hanson Women s Experiences of Slavery in Late Nineteenth Early Twentieth Century Uganda by Michael W Tuck Slavery Social Oppression in Ankole 1890 1940 by Edward I Steinhart The Slave Trade in Burundi Rwanda at the Beginning of German Colonisation 1890 1906 by Jean Pierre Chretien Bunyoro the Demography of Slavery Debate by Shane Doyle

The Economics of the Indian Ocean Slave Trade in the Nineteenth Century William Gervase Clarence-Smith, 2013-12-16 First Published in 1989 Well over a million slaves were exported from Indian Ocean and Red Sea ports in Eastern Africa during the nineteenth century and millions more were shifted around the interior of the continent and along the coast of East Africa And yet we still know remarkably little about this great movement of people particularly from an economic point of view This is a collection of twelve essays looking at the economics of the Indian Ocean and the Red Sea Slave trades of the nineteenth century

A Training School for Elephants Sophy Roberts, 2025-04-22 An informative well researched retracing of a colonial era African expedition that brings alive the preposterous grab for Africa from the acclaimed author of The Lost Pianos of Siberia In 1879 King Leopold II of Belgium launched an ambitious plan to plunder Africa's resources The key to cracking open the continent or so he thought was its elephants if only he could train them And so he commissioned the charismatic Irish adventurer Frederick Carter to ship four tamed Asian elephants from India to the East African coast where they were marched inland towards Congo The ultimate aim was to establish a training school for African elephants Following in the footsteps of the four elephants Roberts pieces together the story of this long forgotten expedition in travels that take her to Belgium Iraq India Tanzania and Congo The storytelling brings to life a compelling cast of historic characters and modern voices from ivory dealers to Catholic nuns set against rich descriptions of the landscapes travelled She digs deep into historic records to reckon with our broken relationship with animals revealing an extraordinary and enduring story of colonial greed ineptitude hypocrisy and folly

Migration in Africa Michiel de Haas, Ewout Frankema, 2022-03-30 This book introduces readers to the age of intra African migration a period from the mid 19th century onward in which the center of gravity of African migration moved decisively inward Most books tend to zoom in on Africa's external migration during the earlier intercontinental slave trades and the more recent outmigration to the Global North but this book argues that migration within the continent has been far more central to the lives of Africans over the course of the last two centuries The book demonstrates that only by taking a broad historical and continent wide perspective can we understand the distinctions between the more immediate drivers of migration and deeper patterns of change over time During the 19th century Africa's external slave trades gradually declined whilst Africa's expanding commodity export sectors drew in domestic labor This led to an era of heightened mobility within the region marked by rapidly rising and vanishing migratory flows increasingly diversified landscapes of migration systems and profound long term shifts in the wider patterns of migration This era of inward focused mobility reduced with a resurgence of outmigration after 1960 when Africans became more deliberate in search of extra continental destinations with new diaspora communities emerging specifically in the Global North Broad ranging in its temporal spatial and thematic coverage this book provides students and researchers with the perfect introduction to age of intra African migration

Jeremy Jones, 2013-03-10 This book is a cultural history offering an historical account of the formation of a distinctive Omani culture arguing that it is in this unique culture that a specific conception and practice of diplomacy has been developed

Decolonization & Independence in Kenya, 1940-93 Bethwell A. Ogot, William Robert Ochieng', 1995 This is a sharply observed assessment of the history of the last half century by a distinguished group of historians of Kenya At the same time the book is a courageous reflection in the dilemmas of African nationhood Professor B A Ogot says The main purpose of the book is to show that decolonization does not only mean the transfer of alien power to sovereign nationhood it must also entail the liberation of the worlds of spirit and culture as well as economics and politics The book also raises a more fundamental question that is How much independence is available to any state national economy or culture in today's world It asks how far are Africa's miseries linked to the colonial past and to the process of decolonization In particular the book raises the basic question of how far Kenya is avoidably neo colonial And what does neo colonial dependence mean The book answers these questions by discussing the dynamic between the politics of decolonization the social history of class formation and the economics of dependence The book ends with a provocative epilogue discussing the transformation of the post colonial state from a single party to a multi party system Luxury in Global Perspective Karin Hofmeester, Bernd-Stefan rule to its current roles and value in the newly independent country South Sudan became Africa's newest nation in 2011 following decades of armed conflict. Chiefs or traditional authorities became a particular focus of attention during the international relief effort and post-war reconstruction and state building. But traditional authority in South Sudan has been much misunderstood. Institutions of chiefship were created during the colonial period but originated out of a much longer process of dealing with predatory external forces. This book addresses a significant paradox in African studies: more widely if chiefs were the product of colonial states why have they survived or revived in recent decades? By examining the long-term history of chiefship in the vicinity of three towns, the book also argues for a new approach to the history of towns in South Sudan. Towns have previously been analysed as the loci of alien state power, yet the book demonstrates that these government centres formed an expanding urban frontier on which people actively sought knowledge and resources of the state. Chiefs mediated relations on and across this frontier and in the process chiefship became central to constituting both the state and local communities. Cherry Leonardi is Senior Lecturer in African History at Durham University, a former course director of the Rift Valley Institute's Sudan course and a member of the council of the British Institute in Eastern Africa. Published in association with the British Institute in Eastern Africa. On the Frontiers of the Indian Ocean World Philip

Gooding, 2022-08-04 This is the first interdisciplinary history of Lake Tanganyika and of eastern Africa's relationship with the wider Indian Ocean World during the nineteenth century. Philip Gooding deploys diverse source materials including oral, climatological, anthropological and archaeological sources to ground interpretations of the better-known European-authored archive in local epistemologies and understandings of the past. Gooding shows that Lake Tanganyika's shape, location and distinctive lacustrine environment contributed to phenomena traditionally associated with the history of the wider Indian Ocean World, being negotiated, contested and reimagined in particularly robust ways. He adds novel contributions to African and Indian Ocean histories of urbanism, the environment, spirituality, kinship, commerce, consumption, material culture, bondage, slavery, Islam and capitalism. African peoples and environments are positioned as central to the histories of global economies, religions and cultures.
