Textual Awareness Dirk Van Hulle, 2009-12-14 Aware of the act of writing as a temporal process many modernist authors preserved numerous manuscripts of their works which themselves thematized time Textual Awareness analyzes the writing processes in James Joyce's Finnegans Wake Marcel Proust's la recherche du temps perdu and Thomas Mann's Doktor Faustus and relates these to Anglo American French and German theories of text By relating theory to practice this comparative study reveals the links between literary and textual criticism A key issue in both textual criticism and the so called crisis of the novel is the tension between the finished and the unfinished After a theoretical examination of the relationship between genetic and textual criticism Dirk Van Hulle uses the three case studies to show how at each stage in the writing process the text still had the potential of becoming something entirely different how and why these geneses proceeded the way they did how Joyce Proust and Mann allowed contingencies to shape their work how these authors recycled the words of their critics in order to inoculate their works against them how they shaped an intertextual dimension through the processing of source texts and reading notes and how text continually generated more text Van Hulle's exploration of process sheds new light on the remarkable fact that so many modernist authors protected their manuscripts implying both the authors' urge to grasp everything and their awareness of the dangers of their encyclopedic projects Textual Awareness offers new insights into the artificiality of the artifact the novel that are relevant to the study of literary modernism in general and the study of James Joyce Marcel Proust and Thomas Mann in particular Dirk Van Hulle is Assistant Professor of English and German Literature University of Antwerp

Textual Studies and the Common Reader Alexander Pettit, 2000 Textual Studies and the Common Reader collects eleven original essays by editors of literary texts and theorists concerned about the implications of what such editors do The volume's organizing theme is textual studies the domain of which in one contributor's words is the genesis transmission and editing of texts The contributors seek to extend the discussion about textual studies beyond any narrow professional scope thus none of the essays assumes any training in textual studies Also the focus of the book is on the literary genre most familiar to most readers the novel Authors discussed include Willa Cather Joseph Conrad Theodore Dreiser William Faulkner D. H. Lawrence William Makepeace Thackeray and Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley Many people read literary works but few do so with a steady sense of their constructedness as texts of the ways in which genesis transmission and editing have shaped them as conveyors of meaning This book shows that the experience of reading is more rewarding for such awareness The Margins of the Text David C. Greetham, 1997 These essays challenge the positivist patriarchal assumptions of earlier approaches to textual criticism
