

1. HOW TO ORGANIZE

GETTING STARTED

The first step in getting involved in your neighborhood is to find out what is going on in your area. The City of Arlington is committed to fostering better informed and more organized neighborhoods. Active citizen participation in municipal government will help continue the City's longstanding commitment to the highest quality of life possible.

If you are organizing a new effort or expanding an existing neighborhood organization, try to apply the following suggestions:

- 1. Establish a purpose: What do you want to accomplish by creating a neighborhood association? What is important to you and your neighbors?
- 2. Get to your neighbors: Talk to people about your concerns. Find people on your street, in churches, synagogues, at the schools, or shopping centers, and in places that people would have an opportunity to talk about the issues they see in the neighborhood.

Ask them if they are interested in getting involved. What are some of the issues they see in the area that a new neighborhood association could address?
- 3. Facilitate conducting an assessment: A formal assessment of your neighborhood can help you decide what issues merit attention. These assessments can be conducted in person or at your first meeting. Your group will want to decide whether a time to meet weekly or a more extensive period should be offered. Some questions to be addressed in your assessment may include:
 - Do neighbors know each other and communicate regularly?
 - Are the streets well lit? Clean? How? Are they consistently lit?
 - What transportation challenges exist such as dangerous intersections, speeding traffic or heavily congested streets?
 - Are there any abandoned structures or vacant lots in the neighborhood?
 - What are the needs of the most vulnerable people in your street?
 - Is there an ongoing law enforcement or police?
 - Other area discussions are the most common cause for organizing because it can present a clear "level" to the neighborhood. Offer the potential reasons to get people involved quickly.
- 4. Define your neighborhood boundaries: Where does your neighborhood end and support areas at their request that are the major stores, highways, parks, or schools that define the boundaries of your neighborhood? What are the boundaries of nearby neighborhoods considered? It is important to prevent overlapping boundaries when you define your area. The City of Arlington Office of Strategic Initiatives can assist you in this endeavor.

One source rule is generally accepted as good practice for a newly forming neighborhood association. However, the 1-to-1 guideline should not be held as a requirement.

Become familiar with the elements that make up your neighborhood. Look around your neighborhood and talk to people. Determine the needs your community has as well as issues that exist. Find about concerns that all affect these needs until something needs. Create a potential list of things you can do and an estimate of people who will be willing to help.

1. Identify the "heart" of your neighborhood

- What is the focus of our area or neighborhood association? Is to build on the successes of the past. Ask it to focus on the strengths of your neighborhood as you develop them.
- Who are the "heart" neighborhood resident? They are the people that really know what is going on in how best in the neighborhood to move your "heart" issues are addressed, concerned in private about neighborhood problems. Generally, the group will include long-term residents, families, PTA members, business people or people who have lived in the area for a long time and are highly motivated. Be sure to get their names, addresses and telephone numbers as a future resource.
- What institutions and businesses groups exist in your neighborhood? What other programs, services the business is well to establish if you need business can provide a valuable resource when attempting to get a new organization or community.

Erchul, 2019-01-15 Offering an historical perspective on the development of mental health consultation and community mental health this book s intent is twofold First it describes and evaluates Harvard psychiatrist Gerald Caplan s innovative approach to consultation and related activities with respect to the current and future practice of clinical community school and organizational psychology Second it pays tribute to Caplan whose ideas on prevention crisis theory support systems community mental health mental health consultation and collaboration and population orientated psychiatry have influenced the practice of professional psychology and allied fields The text is divided into three sections the first provides background information for the remainder of the volume the second documents Caplan s influence on the way psychology has been applied in various settings and the last considers his contribution s present and past influence The text is aimed at consultant and practising psychologists community and school psychology graduates and professionals involved with community mental health services Learner-Centered Leadership Arnold B. Danzig, Kathryn M. Borman, Bruce A. Jones, William F. Wright, 2017-09-25 Many new approaches to school improvement are being proposed in the current climate of assessment and school accountability This book explores one of these approaches a new model of leadership training known as Learner Centered Leadership LCL It is built around the fundamental idea that learning and learning communities are natural processes that when properly harnessed can lead to the highest levels of professional engagement and problem solving Key features of this exciting new approach to school leadership include the following Broad based and Generative The book s narratives vividly illustrate the extraordinary ability of LCL to generate new approaches to leadership development For example encouraging and assisting school leaders to reflect on their own leadership attributes relative to the implementation of the school mission to ensure high teacher efficacy and student learning In this respect the volume contributes significantly to the field of school leadership and professional development by extending above and beyond a narrow focus on instructional leadership Practice Oriented By creating communities that encourage conversation and analysis the new data driven models of school improvement are more likely to be successfully implemented Without analytical discourse the process of interpreting school data and transforming it into practice would be largely lost Conceptually Appropriate The realization that everyone within a school students teachers administrators belongs to the same learning community minimizes status differences and encourages teamwork The LCL administrator is much less likely to be authoritarian and power oriented and much more likely to be transformative and student outcome focused This book is appropriate for master s level courses and certification seminars and for inservice workshops dealing with school leadership Effective School District Management Fred Dembowski,1999 This publication provides administrators with an instrument that management teams from districts can use for objective self assessment Readers will learn the distinctions between the leader and management roles and how to recognize and evaluate the management related tasks of school leadership Local Drivers for Improvement Capacity Ulf Blossing,Torgeir Nyen,Åsa Söderström,Anna Hagen Tønder,2014-11-10 This book presents systematically six types of schools with different improvement capacities Different schools have different capacities for school improvement depending on the school infrastructure norms and routines for the improvement process improvement roles and improvement history The organisation of the improvement capacity is understood on the basis of sensemaking processes among teachers and school leaders The book focuses on the challenges for each type of school in their improvement work and which situations and circumstances they need to take into account The school types are illustrated with detailed descriptions of six schools coming from an evaluation of a Norwegian school development program The book fills a need in school organisations to have concrete illustrations from similar schools of how teacher teams are organised how leadership is exercised and processes are organised in their efforts of improving the organisation and building a complex and effective capacity Schools improvement capacity has become an important feature in school management and leadership as well as in research as western states have decentralised governance to the local level The expectations on school leaders as well as on teachers are high when it comes to improve their schools to raise student outcome Accounts of professional school cultures and professional learning communities often describe in an overall perspective the ideal school where such an improvement capacity is in work However accounts of the many ways of organising the capacity which perhaps are not all in all ideal or effective also contribute to the knowledge of the local school process Handbook of Organization Development in Schools Richard A. Schmuck,1972
