A Scientific Search for Altruism C. Daniel Batson, 2018-10-19 For centuries the egoism altruism debate has echoed through Western thought Egoism says that the motivation for everything we do including our seemingly selfless acts of care for others is to gain one or another self benefit Altruism while not denying the force of self interest says that under certain circumstances we can care for others for their sakes not our own Over the past half century social psychologists have turned to laboratory experiments on humans to provide a scientific resolution of this debate about our nature The experiments have focused on the possibility that empathic concern other oriented emotion elicited by and congruent with the perceived welfare of someone in need produces altruistic motivation to remove that need With carefully constructed experimental designs these scientists have tested the nature of the motivation produced by empathic concern determining whether it is egoistic or altruistic and thereby providing an answer to a fundamental question about what makes us tick Framed as a detective story this book traces the scientific search for altruism through numerous studies and attempts to examine various motivational suspects reaching the improbable conclusion that empathy induced altruism is indeed part of our nature The book then considers the implications of this conclusion both for our understanding of who we are as humans the bad news as well as the good and for how we might create a more humane society

What Makes a Hero? Elizabeth Svoboda, 2013-08-29 An entertaining investigation into the biology and psychology of why we sacrifice for other people Researchers are now applying the lens of science to study heroism for the first time How do biology upbringing and outside influences intersect to produce altruistic and heroic behavior And how can we encourage this behavior in corporations classrooms and individuals Using dozens of fascinating real life examples Elizabeth Svoboda explains how our genes compel us to do good for others how going through suffering is linked to altruism and how acting heroic can greatly improve your mental health She also reveals the concrete things we can do to encourage our most heroic selves to step forward It s a common misconception that heroes are heroic just because they re innately predisposed to be that way Svoboda shows why it s not simply a matter of biological hardwiring and how anyone can be a hero if they re committed to developing their heroic potential You Have the Power Frances Moore Lappe,Jeffrey Perkins,2005-04-21 Frances Moore Lapp author of the million selling Diet for a Small Planet and Jeffrey Perkins offer the radical notion that our fears can be a source of energy to create the lives and the world we want Now more than ever it seems our lives and the lives of our loved ones are at risk Our normal response is to retreat But what if fear were not a negative force but a positive one a source of energy and strength Sharing their own intimate journeys with fear as well as the experiences of others the authors offer seven liberating notions that can help unleash your power to walk into the unknown and create a more fulfilling authentic life The Lost Art of Caring Leighton E.
