Social Cohesion and Conflict Prevention in Asia Nat J. rights of minorities and indigenous peoples and international approaches to conflict and post conflict development The book charts new territory by mapping the range of international actors who affect the governance of ethnic diversity and exploring their often contradictory roles and impacts Most international actors come to questions of ethnic diversity indirectly and reluctantly on the basis of widely varying mandates many of which were established to fulfill other objectives They naturally therefore have different priorities and perspectives And yet the book identifies a striking convergence amongst international actors around discourses of diversity and equality demonstrating the existence of an epistemic community where actors work within common vocabularies discourses and principles that attempt to link human rights pluralism development and peace
