Textile Art Of Okinawa:

Textile Art of Okinawa Reiko Mochinaga Brandon, Barbara B. Stephan, Honolulu Academy of Arts, 1990 Collection of Okinawa Prefectural Museum some of the world's finest textiles Textile art in Okinawa Santorī Bijutsukan, 196? The Shishu Ladies of Hilo Shiho S. Nunes, Sara Nunes-Atabaki, 1999-12-01 A carefully documented and illustrated account of the stitching community on the Big Island of Hawai'i from the mid 1930s to the late 1960s This award winning book traces the teaching of shishu Japanese embroidery in Hawai'i and describes in detail the modifications made to traditional motifs and materials In the 1930s Ima Shinoda began teaching groups of predominantly nisei women in and around Hilo the centuries old art of Japanese embroidery known as shishu Trained in Japan she combined her talents for teaching and stitchery to inspire and instruct a new generation in the demanding art form Together with her husband Yoshio who created the distinctive eye catching designs used by her students Ima Shimoda was responsible for not only furthering the practice of shishu in Hawai'i but ensuring its existence as a vital link for many nisei to their cultural past and its traditions Flowers, Dragons & Pine Trees Mary M. Dusenbury, 2004 This beautifully illustrated volume introduces a little known but outstanding collection of Asian textiles in the Spencer Museum of Art at the University of Kansas Textile Art of Japan Sunny Yang, Rochelle M. Narasin, 1989 Even in Japan with its rich tradition of textile art handcrafted textiles are rapidly becoming a rarity as they are replaced by mass produced bolts of cloth that can never duplicate the feel or vibrancy of those created by the personal touch of a master craftsman with an original idea The importance of obtaining just the right shade of indigo blue or artfully stenciling on a flower or a cloud or weaving a fabric so that it appears as richly decorated as a tapestry all make for the allure of Japanese fabrics Whether for a kimono a sash or a coat cloth in Japan is woven dyed and embroidered with infinite care The professional pride and craft techniques of the Japanese have resulted in visual and tactile masterpieces and Japanese textile craftsmen are deservedly ranked among the most skilled in the world Thankfully even during the breathtaking modernization of Japan a small number of artists and craftsmen are struggling to keep this ancient art alive The Japanese have traditionally viewed textiles as an embodiment of not only beauty but as family heirlooms and repositories of history making the study of Japanese fabric a door into another culture another people another time In Textile Art of Japan sunny Yang and Rochelle Narasin venture through that door inviting the reader to follow them They start with a brief but informative history of those most typical forms of Japanese dress the kimono and the obi and then move on to introduce the techniques of dyeing weaving and needlework that distinguish Japanese textiles discussing their traditions practical methods and use of different types of fabric Island Futures Godfrey Baldacchino, Daniel Niles, 2011-06-25 Islands face one of the most pressing issues of our time how to balance ecological integrity with economic development and collective quality of life including the need for social and conservation space Islands are sites of rich and varied human and ecological diversity but they are also often characterized by narrow resource bases and dependency on links to the outside world and by their limited ability to determine the actual character of those links This volume reviews the challenges of island development and conservation in the Asia Pacific region With emphasis on nature reserves and UNESCO World Heritage sites chapters describe the benefits barriers and potential pitfalls in preserving such sites managing biota and attracting and controlling tourism The book also provides a provocative challenge to move beyond the typical concerns of sustainability to the more holistic concept of futurability or future potential for convivial human environmental interactions
