The first full account of its period, it will set the agenda for discussion of late twentieth century literature for many years to come. Alice Munro Carol Mazur, Cathy Moulder, 2007-04-23. This bibliography compiled to fill a gap in literary research relating to Munro's work covers all of her fictional writing up to 2005 and includes annotations to interviews, Munro's non-fiction writings and hundreds of critical books, theses and articles. These descriptive annotations coupled with a detailed subject index display the broad range of subject approaches, assessments and angles by which her complex, deep and multi-layered work has been scrutinized by academics, journalists, writers and critics.

The Blackwell Companion to Religion in America Philip Goff, 2010-03-25. This authoritative and cutting-edge companion brings together a team of leading scholars to document the rich diversity and unique viewpoints that have formed the religious history of the United States. A groundbreaking new volume which represents the first sustained effort to fully explain the development of American religious history and its creation within evolving political and social frameworks. Spans a wide range of traditions and movements from the Baptists and Methodists to Buddhists and Mormons. Explores topics ranging from religion and the media, immigration and piety, though to politics and social reform. Considers how American religion has influenced and been interpreted in literature and popular culture. Provides insights into the historiography of religion but presents the subject as a story in motion rather than a snapshot of where the field is at a given moment.

Race and the Forms of Knowledge Ben Spatz, 2024-02-15. Enacts a radically interdisciplinary intersectionality to position performance-based research in solidarity with decoloniality. This boldly innovative work interrogates the form and meaning of artistic research, also called practice research, performance as research and research creation, examining its development within the context of predominately white institutions that have enabled and depoliticized it while highlighting its radical potential when reframed as a lineage of critical whiteness practice. Ben Spatz crafts a fluid yet critical new framework explored via a series of case studies that includes Spatz's own practice as research to productively confront hegemonic modes of white writing and white institutionality. Ultimately taking Jewishness as a paradigmatically molecular identity variously configured as racial, ethnic, religious or national, they offer a series of concrete methodological and formal proposals for working at the intersections of embodied identities, artistic techniques and alternative forms of knowledge.

Race and the Forms of Knowledge: Technique, Identity and Place in Artistic Research takes inspiration from recent critical studies of blackness and indigeneity to show how artistic research is always involved in the production and transformation of identity. Spatz offers a toolkit of practical methods and concepts from molecular identities to audiovisual ethnotechnics and earthing the laboratory for reimagining the university and other contemporary institutions.
