continue today This anthology brings together the global perspectives of the foremost researchers in the field including both classic and contemporary selections After reading Introduction to Soils Civilizations students will be able to describe the factors contributing to accelerated soil erosion rates and explain the relationship between soil degradation and the fall of historic and prehistoric civilizations Biography Dr Neal Eash is an associate professor in the Biosystems Engineering Soil Science Department at the University of Tennessee His research focuses on soil fertility and carbon cycling in farming systems He conducts ongoing no till research in Lesotho and Mozambique and he continues to farm his own 160 acre farm in Ohio using only no till methods Dr Eash worked as an agricultural extensionist in Botswana Africa and collected soil samples for his M S degree that studied the effects of 1 500 years of near continuous agriculture in the Colca Valley Peru Dr Eash has written more than 60 publications including one textbook and more than 30 refereed publications and he serves as an Associate Editor of Agronomy Journal

Earth Matters Richard Bardgett,2016-01-28 For much of history soil has played a major and often central role in the lives of humans Entire societies have risen and collapsed through the management or mismanagement of soil farmers and gardeners worldwide nurture their soil to provide their plants with water nutrients and protection from pests and diseases major battles have been aborted or stalled by the condition of soil murder trials have been solved with evidence from the soil and for most of us our ultimate fate is the soil In this book Richard Bardgett discusses soil and the many and sometimes surprising ways that humanity has depended on it throughout history and still does today Analysing the role soil plays in our own lives despite increasing urbanization and in the biogeochemical cycles that allow the planet to function effectively Bardgett considers how superior soil management could combat global issues such as climate change food shortages and the extinction of species Looking to the future Bardgett argues that it is vital for the future of humanity for governments worldwide to halt soil degradation and to put in place policies for the future sustainable management of soils

Brevik,Christian Feller,2023-09-22 Cultural understandings of soil are diverse and often ambiguous Cultural framing of soils is common worldwide and is highly consequential The implications of what place the earth has in people s world view and everyday life can be in line with or in conflict with natural conditions with scientific views or with agricultural practices The main assumption underlying this work is that soil is inescapably perceived in a cultural context by any human This gives emergence to different significant webs of meaning influenced by religious spiritual or secular myths and by a wide range of beliefs values and ideas that people hold in all societies These patterns and their dynamics inform the human soil relationship and how soils are cared for protected or degraded Therefore there is need to deal inter culturally with different sources and types of knowledge and experience regarding soil a need to cultivate soil awareness and situationally appropriate care through inter and intra cultural dialogues and learning This project focuses on the human and intangible dimensions of soil To serve this aim the International Union of Soil Sciences IUSS founded a working group on Cultural Patterns of Soil Understanding that has resulted in this book which presents studies from almost all continents written by soil scientists and experts from other disciplines A major objective of this project is to promote intercultural literacy that gives readers the opportunity to appreciate soil across disciplinary and cultural boundaries in an increasingly globalized world
