would die from mass starvation or from infectious diseases resulting from that mysterious blight and the lack of government intervention. Another million would flee Ireland on questionable sea-worthy disease-infested sailing ships dubbed famine ships or coffin ships to America. This is a story of unrivaled courage shown by an eight-year-old Irish girl orphaned by the infamous Irish potato famine in the 1840s. She came to America alone on a disease-infested famine ship during the time of legalized slavery and uncontested bigotry and dedicated her life's work to eradicate both.
