

Surrender

Letting go not giving up
A distinction to be sure
Like finding your direction
When you know there is no cure

Maybe it's a problem
That won't resolve itself
Perhaps you just don't need it
And can put it on a shelf

Could it be the universe
Has something you should know
A missing piece of knowledge
That is the key for you to grow

It's not so complicated
The world is perfect in design
Surrender to the possible
And experience the divine

The Concept of Self-surrender in the Poetry of Newman and Hopkins Mary Antony Chemmamadiyil, 1990

Self-Surrender (prapatti) to God in Shrivaisnavism Srilata Raman, 2007-01-24 Filling the most glaring gap in Shrivaisnava scholarship this book deals with the history of interpretation of a theological concept of self surrender prapatti in late twelfth and thirteenth century religious texts of the Shrivaisnava community of South India This original study shows that medieval sectarian formation in its theological dimension is a fluid and ambivalent enterprise where conflict and differentiation are presaged on sharing whether of a common canon saint or rituals or two languages Tamil and Sanskrit or of a meta social arena such as the temple Srilata Mueller a member of the Shrivaisnava community argues that the core ideas of prapatti in these religious texts reveal the description of a heterogeneous theological concept Demonstrating that this concept is theologically moulded by the emergence of new literary genres Mueller puts forward the idea that this original understanding of prapatti is a major contributory cause to the emergence of sectarian divisions among the Shrivaisnavas which lead to the formation of two sub sects the Tenkalai and the Vatakalia who stand respectively for the cat and monkey theological positions Making an important contribution to contemporary Indian and Hindu thinking on religion this text provides a new intellectual history of medieval Indian religion It will be of particular interest to scholars of Shrivaisnava and also Hindu and Indian religious studies The Surrendered Self Romen Basu, 1990
