Survey Of Health Reform In Central Asia:

A Survey of Health Reform in Central Asia Jeni Klugman, George Schieber, Timothy E. Heleniak, 1996-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 352 Six years into the transition from planned to market economies in Central and Eastern Europe high unemployment rates including a growing proportion of the long term unemployed represent a serious challenge to social welfare systems and policymakers This paper analyzes labor market development in nine transition countries of the region by focusing on the dynamics of labor force behavior employment and unemployment The countries include Bulgaria Croatia the Czech Republic the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia Hungary Poland Romania the Slovak Republic and Slovenia

Implementing Health Sector Reform in Central Asia Zuzana Feachem, Martin Hensher, Laura Rose, 1999 It is easy for reformers and their overseas advisers to develop conceptually strong plans for health sector reform that appeal to governments donors and academics Transforming these plans into successful action has proved to be extremely difficult Toward the goal of improving assistance to this sector the Economic Development Institute EDI of the World Bank held a seminar in Ashgabat Turkmenistan in June 1996 This publication provides a summary of the proceedings and papers presented at that seminar It was attended by delegations from five countries in Central Asia and from Azerbaijan and Mongolia The content of this volume emphasizes topics central to the restructuring of health sector financing and health care delivery systems at a time of transition to market economies and to democracy Maintaining and improving the health status of the population while preventing rapid escalation of health care expenditure were the recurrent themes throughout the seminar

Who is Paying for Health Care in Eastern Europe and Central Asia? Maureen A. Lewis, 2000-01-01 Informal payments in the health sector of Eastern and Central Asia are emerging as a fundamental aspect of health care financing and a serious impediment to health care reform These informal payments made to individuals or institutions in cash or in kind are nearly always for services that are meant to be covered by the health care system Such private payments to public personnel have created an informal market for health care and are a form of corruption This problem's roots are traced to declining revenues which have not coincided with a reduction in buildings hospital beds and health personnel In these circumstances informal payments compensate for lost earnings and therefore reforms to modernise the region's health systems must compete with individuals' personal revenues Options for addressing this problem include comprehensive anticorruption policies downsizing of the public health system reducing the set of services subsidised by the state encouraging cost sharing with those who can afford it improving accountability and promoting private alternatives

The Transformation of Central Asia Pauline Jones Luong, 2018-08-06 With the fall of the Soviet Union in 1991 former Communist Party leaders in Central Asia were faced with the daunting task of building states where they previously had not existed Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Their task was complicated by the institutional and ideological legacy of the Soviet system as well as by a more actively engaged international community These nascent states inherited a set of institutions that included bloated bureaucracies centralized economic planning and patronage networks Some of these institutions survived others have mutated and new institutions have been created Experts on Central Asia here examine the emerging relationship between state actors and social forces in the region Through the prism of local institutions the authors reassess both our understanding of Central Asia and of the state building process more broadly They scrutinize a wide array of institutional actors ranging from regional governments and neighborhood committees to transnational and non governmental organizations With original empirical research and theoretical insight the volume s contributors illuminate an obscure but resource rich and strategically significant region

Prospects for Improving Nutrition in Eastern Europe and Central Asia Claudia Rokx,Rae Galloway,Lynn Brown,2002 This report presents an overview of critical nutrition issues effecting the Eastern European and Central Asian ECA countries and suggests strategies for improvement The ECA region is diverse in economic political and social structures as are the nutrition problems in the region The report finds that in addition to poverty lack of knowledge about basic nutrition among populations is also a key determinant of malnutrition in the ECA region

The Palgrave International Handbook of Healthcare Policy and Governance E. Kuhlmann,R. Blank,I. Bourgeault,C. Wendt,2016-01-18 Starting with more general issues of healthcare policy and governance in a global perspective and using the lens of national case studies of healthcare reform this handbook addresses key themes in the debates over changing healthcare policy

Review of Early Childhood Policy and Programs in Sub-Saharan Africa Amy Jo Reinhold,1997-01-01 The collaborative efforts of ColombiaA s Department of National Planning DNP and the World Bank has produced the National Evaluation System of Public Sector Performance SYNERGY Put in place by the Special Division for Evaluation in DNP this system has been designed and implemented to change the public sector from an inward looking process oriented body which sometimes restrains economic and social progress into a more dynamic results oriented partner of the community and private sector in development This report explores the critical factors in making SYNERGY a successful evaluation system Such factors include ways of making it an effective management tool promoting civil society participation by focusing on results for people and leveraging on their energy and resource defining a constructive learning process for implementation and providing an enabling environment for a results oriented public sector

Economic Dimensions of Security in Central Asia Sergej Mahnovski,Kamil Akramov,Theodore William Karasik,2007 This report assesses the economic dimensions of security in Central Asia and considers their implications for the role of the United States Economic development will be crucial to the future of Central Asia and broader U S interests in the region However it is unclear whether the states in the region have the institutional capacity to implement domestic reform As the United States clarifies its long term military relationships and commitments in the region it should consider the region s economic development itself as a long term security concern

Committee on International Relations. Subcommittee on the Middle East and South Asia, 2006 Historical Dictionary of Turkmenistan Rafis Abazov, 2005 Turkmenistan is known for its huge oil and gas resources as well as for the rich complex and captivating history of the Turkmen people For centuries they were known as skillful and courageous warriors who left deep marks in the histories of other countries such as India Russia Afghanistan Turkey Iran Iraq and Egypt As craftsmen they constructed extraordinary architectural monuments whose ruins can be found all over the country and famous Turkoman carpets are still highly valued in many parts of the world Yet for centuries foreign invaders and local tribal conflict plagued the land with wars that devastated the Turkmen society and destroyed its magnificent but fragile oases In the late 19th century the Turkmens witnessed the establishment of the Russian Empire in their lands In the years following these lands were united by the Soviet government into a single political entity in an attempt to force the Soviet style nation state building and socio economic transformations In 1991 the Turkmen parliament voted for the country's independence and promised to build a sovereign state capable of bringing prosperity and social and political stability to the society The reality however proved to be more complex After more than 15 years of independence Turkmenistan still faces a number of difficulties including economic and structural issues security challenges growing competition between various clans and widespread poverty Historical Dictionary of Turkmenistan provides a concise overview of the historical development of Turkmenistan The introduction and chronology provide an overview of the Turkmen history focusing on the history of the country in the 20th century political and economic development ethnic policies and nation building This is the first comprehensive reference book on Turkmenistan published in English that provides comprehensive up to date details about the contemporary history economy and culture The dictionary consists of approximately 300 entries a Governance of Hospitals in Central and Eastern Europe Przemyslaw Marcin Sowa, 2015-10-28 This book presents a novel view of healthcare system transition in post communist countries It is the first region wide comparative study of hospital governance in Eastern Europe Comprehensive new material shows the evolution and significance of governance complementing recent publications on the topic from industrialised countries Throughout the book governance is described and substantiated as a major component that together with provider payment mechanisms defines the hospital sector's operations This view subscribes to the economists growing appreciation of extra financial aspects in the discussion of incentives and regulation of healthcare markets In particular the book explains how governance arrangements may affect the outcomes of healthcare financing reforms and should thus be seen as a critical determinant of their success or failure This new model of thinking about healthcare system transition emerges from an analysis of 22 countries over the course of two decades While the primary focus of the study is on developing the hospital sector an extensive background chapter provides a standalone introduction to the dynamically changing landscape of healthcare in Eastern Europe and an overview of the various problems and challenges the region is facing Practitioners policy makers academics and students interested in Eastern European healthcare systems their origins current status and ways forward will appreciate the book's reflections on the problem complexity, the clarity of its concepts and its accessible style of presentation. Improving Health Care Safety and Quality Judith Healy, 2016-05-13 Responding to the public concern caused by recent hospital scandals and accounts of unintended harm to patients, this author draws on her experience of analysing the health care systems of over a dozen countries and examines whether greater regulation has increased patient safety and health care quality. The book adopts a new approach to mapping developments in health care systems in Europe, North America and Australia and pieces together evidence of which regulatory strategies and mechanisms work well to ensure safer patient care. It identifies the regulatory bodies, the regulatory principles and the implementation strategies adopted to improve governance in health care systems and suggests a conceptual framework for responsive regulation. The book will be of interest to government actors, health care professionals and medico-legal scholars. The Management of Public Services in Central Asia David Scott, 2016-03-02 The ending of the Soviet Union in 1991 had a major political and economic impact on Central Asia. Kyrgyzstan was one of the most severely affected countries, suffering a deeper recession than the other republics. During the first five or six years, Kyrgyzstan followed the advice of the International Monetary Fund and was considered a model of both economic and political reform. This book analyses the ability of the newly independent government in Kyrgyzstan to create a realistic national vision, prepare a strategy, organise and control its public services to deliver the desired result. Covering a fifteen-year period and using the case study of the educational sector, which declined even though the economic situation in Kyrgyzstan improved, the author throws light on many other aspects of a country in transition, in particular on strategy implementation and outcomes. Comparisons with other sectors such as roads and pensions and, in particular, the health care sector are presented. A multifaceted approach using case studies, phenomenology, interviews, historical and comparative analyses offers a more complete picture of national management of public service and the structure of government administration. The book also investigates the contribution made by the international aid organisations. A detailed study of institutional transformation in Kyrgyzstan, this book is of interest to academics studying former socialist countries in transition, the history of the Soviet Union and Central Asian studies in general. ORAL HEALTH CARE AWARENESS IN CENTRAL ASIA Dr. Riddhi Chawla, 2024-06-10 The new paradigm will allow Dentistry to expand its ethical commitments to society and society. The dentist must become a true health professional. He will stop taking care of teeth and take care of people. Weyne 1999 This module aims to encourage reflection on the importance of oral health in the practice of family care. According to the National Primary Care Policy, the practice of extended family care proposes interventions that influence the health/disease processes of individuals, families and the community. India 2006 From this perspective, it values differences in the realities of families in relation to their coexistence, interaction and subjectivity. The family life cycle characterizes the movements and transformations that occur throughout family history, presenting patterns of relative predictability, constituting stages of development and requiring adaptation and adjustment from its members Moys s and Silveira Filho 2002 Furthermore each family member by playing a role according to their social context can influence the dynamics of the health disease process The expanded understanding of health promotion which includes actions aimed at changing behavior and preventing diseases as well as the social determinants of health of populations implies a different approach in the work of professionals in the oral health team In this sense it is essential to prepare oral health professionals in practices and attitudes that help them in this process To this end professionals must know the broader issues of the community as well as participate in them with the aim of educating and informing people about the effects of diet hygiene use of fluorides smoking alcohol consumption and the health health process illness In this way we will help individuals to have a healthier lifestyle based on understanding the life cycles present in families In the Family Health Strategy FHS understanding the family life cycle and incorporating it in the construction of health care strategies means incorporating the family s impact on the health and illness of its members better understanding the moment and context of the family life Moys s and Krieger 2008 In this module care strategies will be addressed in relation to families oral health including the different stages of the life cycle baby child teenager pregnant woman adult elderly person and patient with special needs

Health Care In Central Asia Mckee,Judith Healy,Jane Falkingham,2002 Central Asia remains one of the least known parts of the former Soviet Union The five central Asian republics gained their unexpected independence in 1991 They have faced enormous challenges over the last decade in reforming their health care systems including adverse macro economic conditions and political instability To varying extents each country is diverging from a hierarchical and unsustainable Soviet model health care system Common strategies have involved devolving the ownership of health services seeking sources of revenue additional to shrinking state taxes down sizing their excessive hospital systems introducing general practitioners into primary care services and enhancing the training of health professionals This book draws on a decade of experience of what has worked and what has not It is an invaluable source for those working in the region and for others interested in the experiences of countries in political and economic transition
