Zionism and Land Tenure in Mandate Palestine Aida Essaid, 2013-12-04 A fundamental aspect of the conflict between Palestinians and Israelis is the territorial dispute which began long before the State of Israel was established Analysing the land tenure system in Palestine under the administration of the British Mandate this book questions whether and to what extent the land tenure system in Palestine facilitated Zionist land acquisition The research uses benchmarks elaborated in the guidelines of the United Nations Human Settlements Programme as its analytical starting point and looks at the formation and implementation of the land tenure system in Palestine It goes on to place the penetration of Zionism into the land tenure system within the theoretical context of a colonial settler framework employing information from land registry records located at the Jordanian Department of Lands Providing a political historical analysis of the land tenure system from the end of Ottoman Rule until the end of the British Mandate this book will be of interest to scholars and students of Middle Eastern History Imperial and Colonial History and Middle Eastern Politics

Colonial Land Policies in Palestine 1917-1936 Martin Bunton, 2007-04-05 In this book Martin Bunton focuses on the way in which the Palestine Mandate was part of a broader British imperial administration a fact often masked by Jewish immigration and land purchase in Palestine His meticulous research reveals clear links to colonial practice in India Sudan and Cyprus amongst other places He argues that land officials views on sound land management were derived from their own experiences of rural England and that this was far more influential on the shaping of land policies than the promise of a Jewish National Home Bunton reveals how the British were intent on preserving the status quo of Ottoman land law which when few Britons could read Ottoman or were well grounded in its legal codes led to a series of translations interpretations and hence new applications of land law The sense of importance the British attributed to their work surveying and registering properties and transactions is captured in the efforts of British officials to microfilm all of their records at the height of the Second World War Despite this however land policies remained in flux

Enclosure Gary Fields,2017-09-05 Enclosure marshals bold new and persuasive arguments about the ongoing dispossession of Palestinians Revealing the Israel Palestine landscape primarily as one of enclosure geographer Gary Fields sheds fresh light on Israel s actions He places those actions in historical context in a broad analysis of power and landscapes across the modern world Examining the process of land grabbing in early modern England colonial North America and contemporary Palestine Enclosure shows how patterns of exclusion and privatization have emerged across time and geography That the same moral legal and cartographic arguments were copied by enclosers of land in very different historical environments challenges Israel s current rationale as being uniquely beleaguered It also helps readers in the United Kingdom and the United States understand the Israel Palestine conflict in the context of their own tortured histories Provided by publisher

Land Law and Policy in Israel Haim Sandberg,2022-07-05 As one of the smallest and most densely populated countries in the world the State of Israel faces serious land policy challenges and has a national identity laced with enormous internal contradictions In Land Law and Policy in Israel Haim Sandberg contends that if you really want to know the identity of a state learn its land law and land policies Sandberg argues that Israel s identity can best be understood by deciphering the code that lies in the Hebrew secret of Israeli dry land law According to Sandberg by examining the complex facets of property law and land policy one finds a unique prism for comprehending Israel s most pronounced identity problems Land Law and Policy in Israel explores how Israel s modern land system tries to bridge the gaps between past heritage and present needs nationalization and privatization bureaucracy and innovation Jewish majority and non Jewish minority legislative creativity and judicial activism The regulation of property and the determination of land usage have been the consequences of explicit choices made in the context of competing and evolving concepts of national identity Land Law and Policy in Israel will prove to be a must read not only for anyone interested in Israel but also for anyone who wants to understand the importance of land law in a nation s life

Israel and its Palestinian Citizens Nadim N. Rouhana,2017-01-30 This volume presents new perspectives on Israeli society Palestinian society and the Israeli Palestinian conflict Based on historical foundations it examines how Israel institutionalizes ethnic privileging among its nationally diverse citizens Arab Israeli and American contributors discusses the paradoxes of democratic claims in ethnic states as well as dynamics of social conflict in the absence of equality This book advances a new understanding of Israel s approach to the Palestinian citizens covers the broadest range of areas in which Jews and Arabs are institutionally differentiated along ethnic basis and explicates the psychopolitical foundations of ethnic privileges It will appeal to students and scholars who seek broader views on Israeli society and its relationship with the Arab citizens and want to learn more about the status of the Palestinian citizens in Israel and their collective experience as both citizens and settler colonial subjects

Mapping Exile and Return Alain Epp Weaver,2014 One of the most persistent if vexing issues facing not just theology but also political theory sociology and other disciplines is the ongoing Palestinian Israeli conflict For theology the problem is especially nettlesome on account of the church s shared history and tradition with Israel Palestinians including Palestinian Christians bear the brunt of suffering and dispossession in the current situation yet are burdened even more by Christian political appropriation of Zionism Through an analysis of Palestinian refugee mapping practices for returning to their homeland Alain Epp Weaver takes up the troubled issue of Palestinian dispossession and argues against the political theology embedded in Zionist cartographic practices that refuse and seek to eliminate evidence of co existence Instead Alain Epp Weaver offers a political theology of redrawing the territory compatible with a bi national vision for a shared Palestinian Israeli future

A History of the Twentieth Century in 100 Maps Tim Bryars,Tom Harper,2014-12-10 The twentieth century was a golden age of mapmaking an era of cartographic boom Maps proliferated and permeated almost every aspect of daily life not only chronicling geography and history but also charting and conveying myriad political and social agendas Here Tim Bryars and Tom Harper select one hundred maps from the millions printed drawn or otherwise constructed during the twentieth century and recount through them a narrative of the century's key events and developments As Bryars and Harper reveal maps make ideal narrators and the maps in this book tell the story of the 1900s which saw two world wars the Great Depression the Swinging Sixties the Cold War feminism leisure and the Internet Several of the maps have already gained recognition for their historical significance for example Harry Beck's iconic London Underground map but the majority of maps on these pages have rarely if ever been seen in print since they first appeared There are maps that were printed on handkerchiefs and on the endpapers of books maps that were used in advertising or propaganda maps that were strictly official and those that were entirely commercial maps that were printed by the thousand and highly specialist maps issued in editions of just a few dozen maps that were envisaged as permanent keepsakes of major events and maps that were relevant for a matter of hours or days As much a pleasure to view as it is to read A History of the Twentieth Century in 100 Maps celebrates the visual variety of twentieth century maps and the hilarious shocking or poignant narratives of the individuals and institutions caught up in their production and use

The Naqab Bedouin and Colonialism Mansour Nasasra, Sophie Richter-Devroe, Sarab Abu-Rabia-Queder, Richard Ratcliffe, 2014-08-13 The Naqab Bedouin and Colonialism brings together new scholarship to challenge perceived paradigms often dominated by orientalist modernist or developmentalist assumptions on the Naqab Bedouin. The past decade has witnessed a change in both the wider knowledge production on and political profile of the Naqab Bedouin. This book addresses this change by firstly endeavouring to overcome the historic isolation of Naqab Bedouin studies from the rest of Palestine studies by situating studying and analyzing their predicaments firmly within the contemporary context of Israeli settler colonial policies. Secondly it strives to de-colonise research and advocacy on the Naqab Bedouin by for example reclaiming indigenous knowledge and terminology. Offering not only a nuanced description and analysis of Naqab Bedouin agency and activism but also trying to draw broader conclusion as to the functioning of settler colonial power structures as well as to the politics of research in such a context this book is essential reading for students and researchers with an interest in Postcolonial Studies, Development Studies, Israel/Palestine Studies and the contemporary Middle East more broadly.

Galilee in the Late Second Temple and Mishnaic Periods, Volume 1 James Riley Strange, 2015-07-10. Drawing on the expertise of archaeologists, historians, biblical scholars and social science interpreters who have devoted a significant amount of time and energy in the research of ancient Galilee, this accessible volume includes modern general studies of Galilee and of Galilean history as well as specialized studies on taxation, ethnicity, religious practices, road systems, trade and markets, education, health, village life, houses and the urban/rural divide. This resource includes a rich selection of images, figures, charts and maps.

Jesus and the Rise of Nationalism Halvor Moxnes, 2011-10-30. The great German theologian Albert Schweitzer famously drew a line under nineteenth century historical Jesus research by showing that at the bottom of the well lay not the face of Joseph's son but rather the features of all the New Testament scholars who had tried to reveal his elusive essence. In his thoughtful and provocative new book, Halvor Moxnes takes Schweitzer's observation much further: the doomed quest for the historical Jesus was determined not only by the different personalities of the seekers who undertook it but also by the social, cultural and political agendas of the countries from which their presentations emerged. Thus Friedrich Schleiermacher's Jesus was a teacher corresponding with the role German teachers played in Germany's movement for democratic socialism; Ernst Renan's Jesus was by contrast an attempt to represent the positive Orient as a precursor to the civilized self of his own French society. Scottish theologian G. A. Smith demonstrated in his manly portrayal of Jesus a distinctively British liberalism and Victorian moralism. Moxnes argues that one cannot understand any life of Jesus apart from nationalism and national identity and that what is needed in modern biblical studies is an awareness of all the presuppositions that underlie presentations of Jesus, whether in terms of power, gender, sex and class. Only then he says, can we start to look at Jesus in a way that does him justice.

War Power, Police Power Mark Neocleous, 2014-02-12. In this, the first book to deal with the concepts of war power and police power together, Mark Neocleous conducts a critical exploration of the ways in which war power and police power are intertwined in the form of state violence and exercised in social.

The Struggle for Jerusalem's Holy Places Wendy Pullan, Maximilian

Sternberg, Lefkos Kyriacou, Craig Larkin, Michael Dumper, 2013-11-20 The Struggle for Jerusalem's Holy Places investigates the role of architecture and urban identity in relation to the political economy of the city and its wider state context seen through the lens of the holy places. Reflecting the broad disciplinary backgrounds of the authors, this book provides perspectives from architecture, urbanism, and politics and provides in-depth investigations of historical, ethnographic, and policy-related case studies. The research is substantiated by fieldwork carried out in Jerusalem over the past ten years as part of the ESRC Large Grants project Conflict in Cities. By analysing new dynamics of radicalisation through land seizure, the politicisation of parklands and tourism, the strategic manipulation of archaeological and historical narratives, and material culture, and through examination of general appropriation of Jerusalem's varied rituals, memories, and symbolism for factional uses, the book reveals how possibilities of co-existence are seriously threatened in Jerusalem. Shedding new light on the key role played by everyday urban life and its spatial settings for any future political agreements about the city and its religious sites, this book is a useful reference work for students and scholars of Middle East Studies, Architecture, Religion, and Urban Studies.

Innovations for Land Management, Governance, and Land Rights for Sustainable Urban Transitions Ahmed M. Soliman, Ramin Keivani, 2024-07-27 The transformation of the built environment during the last few decades has placed enormous demands for land. About 7.7 billion people live on the planet, which is expected to increase by 2.53 billion in just 30 years, with the highest growth projected to be in less developed regions. The spreading of urban informality in cities of the Global South leads to chaotic informal economies and an inability to capitalize on urban, rural economies of scale and exchange. The combination of socioeconomic and climate change vulnerability in urban centres is having a double impact on already poverty-stricken and marginalized groups, especially women, racialized, and ethnic minority groups, leading to what has come to be known as climate injustice. Land constitutes a main component of urban development and is the main asset for informal urban communities in the Middle East region. The State and urban planners can aim to regulate the growth of informal land markets or represent the interests of the citizens. However, in reality, the increasing retreat or absence of the public authorities, the crisis of confidence between the governed and governing, and the deficit of urban policies to address the multitude of generated challenges cannot be concealed. This volume examines three main themes: land management and governance in the era of sustainability; legal, informal, and illegal land tenures; and the broader socioeconomic changes impacting land and housing delivery. It investigates the correlations, transitions, and interactions between the various forces and multi-stakeholders that control and adjust the land delivery system for low-income groups and the urban poor. This includes exploring mechanisms for correcting urban inequalities between central and peripheral quarters and the modes of shared governance. Finally, the volume also discusses developing national land policies based on legal instruments that connect the implementation of the SDGs, land, and tenure security as critical drivers for more sustainable land delivery realization.
