Surveying the Literary Landscapes of Terry Tempest Williams Katherine R. Chandler, Melissa A. Goldthwaite, 2003 Not since Edward Abbey has one writer spoken so passionately about the desert places of the American West as has Terry Tempest Williams In this first book of criticism to address the work of one of the West's finest daughters Katherine Chandler and Melissa Goldthwaite collect the work of sixteen respected scholars who each examine some aspect of courage wisdom or place in Williams s work in an attempt to get behind the heart of her literary vision Amazon com Ecology Karen E. Waldron, Rob Friedman, 2013-07-29 Scholarship of literature and the environment demonstrates myriad understandings of nature and culture While some work in the field results in approaches that belong in the realm of cultural studies other scholars have expanded the boundaries of ecocriticism to connect the practice more explicitly to disciplines such as the biological sciences human geography or philosophy Even so the field of ecocriticism has yet to clearly articulate its interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary nature In Toward a Literary Ecology Places and Spaces in American Literature editors Karen E Waldron and Robert Friedman have assembled a collection of essays that study the interconnections between literature and the environment to theorize literary ecology The disciplinary perspectives in these essays allow readers to comprehend places and environments and to represent express or strive for that comprehension through literature Contributors to this volume explore the works of several authors including Gary Snyder Karen Tei Yamashita Rachel Carson Terry Tempest Williams Chip Ward and Mary Oliver Other essays discuss such topics as urban fiction as a model of literary ecology the geographies of belonging in the work of Native American poets and the literary ecology of place in new nature writing Investigating texts for the complex interconnections they represent Toward a Literary Ecology suggests what such texts might teach us about the interconnections of our own world This volume also offers a means of analyzing representations of people in places within the realm of an historical cultural and geographically bounded yet diverse American literature Intended for students of literature and ecology this collection will also appeal to scholars of geography cultural studies philosophy biology history anthropology and other related disciplines Walking in the Land of Many Gods A. James Wohlpart, 2013-04-01 How are we placed on Earth What is our relationship to the world around us and how Walking in the Land of Many Gods envisions a new way of thinking about the world one grounded in a moral imagination reconnected to Earth Insightful readings of three contemporary classics of nature writing Janisse Ray s Ecology of a Cracker Childhood Terry Tempest Williams s Refuge An Unnatural History of Family and Place and Linda Hogan s Dwellings A Spiritual History of the Living World are at the heart of Wohlpart's endeavor Powerful and affecting works like these reveal a pathway to a deeper remembering one that reconnects us with the primal forces of creation and acknowledges the sacredness of the world We have forgotten that the world around us is rich and fertile and generative says Wohlpart His exploration of these literary works based on deep anthropology and Native American philosophy opens a pathway into a new way of thinking called

The volume provides information on the most significant areas of writing center work that writing center professionals both new and seasoned are likely to encounter It is structured for use in diverse institutional settings providing both current knowledge as well as case studies of specific settings that represent the types of challenges and possible outcomes writing center professionals may experience This blend of theory with actual practice provides a multi dimensional view of writing center work In the end this book serves not only as a resource but also as a guide to future directions for the writing center which will continue to evolve in response to a myriad of new challenges that will lie ahead Ecocultural Ethics Rayson K. Alex, S. Susan Deborah, Reena Cheruvalath, Gyan Prakash, 2017-10-18 The book offers twelve cases of ethics relating to ecology and culture The twelve cases presented in the twelve essays are written by eminent scholars from India USA Canada and Egypt Employing various ecocritical frameworks the writers have tried to understand analyse literary cinematic and other cultural texts and contexts The volume argues that the principles of ethics are as dynamic as culture and nature Any ecological perspectives issues conditions cannot be separated from their cultural contexts and thus need a culture specific scrutiny to understand the ethics of ecoculture Women In Utah History Patricia Lyn Scott, Linda Thatcher, 2005-11-30 A project of the Utah Women's History Association and cosponsored by the Utah State Historical Society Paradigm or Paradox provides the first thorough survey of the complicated history of all Utah women Some of the finest historians studying Utah examine the spectrum of significant social and cultural topics in the state s history that particularly have involved or affected women The contents are as follows A Comparison of Utah Mormon Polygamous and Monogamous Women Jessie L Embry and Lois Kelley Innovation and Accommodation the Legal Status of Women in Territorial Utah 1847 96 Lisa Madsen Pearson and Carol Cornwall Madsen Conflict and Contributions Women in Utah Churches 1847 1920 John Sillito Utah s Ethnic Women Helen Z Papanikolas The Professionalization of Utah s Farm Women 1890 1940 Cynthia Sturgis Gainfully Employed Women in Utah Miriam B Murphy From Schoolmarm to State Superintendent The Changing Role of Women in Utah Education 1847 2004 Mary Clark and Patricia Lyn Scott Scholarship Service and Sisterhood Utah Women's Clubs and Associations 1847 1977 Jill Mulvay Derr Women of Letters in Utah Gary Topping Utah Women in the Arts Martha Sontag Bradley Evans Women in

Treatments Lisa Diedrich, Creative expression inspired by disease has been criticized as a celebration of victimhood unmediated personal experience or just simply bad art Despite debate however memoirs written about illness particularly AIDS or cancer have proliferated since the late twentieth century and occupy a highly influential place on the cultural landscape today In Treatments Lisa Diedrich considers illness narratives demonstrating that these texts not only recount and interpret symptoms but also describe illness as an event that reflects wider cultural contexts including race gender class and sexuality Diedrich begins this theoretically rigorous analysis by offering examples of midcentury memoirs of tuberculosis She then looks at Susan Sontag's Illness As Metaphor Audre Lorde's The Cancer Journals and Eve Kosofsky Sedgwick's White Glasses showing how these breast cancer survivors draw on feminist health practices of the 1970s and also anticipate the figure that would appear in the wake of the AIDS crisis in the 1980s the politicized patient She further reveals how narratives written by doctors Abraham Verghese and Rafael Campo about treating people with AIDS can disrupt the doctor patient hierarchy and she explores practices of witnessing that emerge in writing by Paul Monette and John Bayley Through these records of intensely personal yet universal experience Diedrich demonstrates how language both captures and fails to capture these scenes of loss and how illness narratives affect the literary medical and cultural contexts from which they arise Finally by examining the ways in which the sick speak and are spoken for she argues for an ethics of failure the revaluation of loss as creating new possibilities for how we live and die Lisa Diedrich is assistant professor of women's studies at Stony Bodily Natures Stacy Alaimo, 2010-10-25 How do we understand the agency and significance of Brook University material forces and their interface with human bodies What does it mean to be human in these times with bodies that are inextricably interconnected with our physical world Bodily Natures considers these questions by grappling with powerful and pervasive material forces and their increasingly harmful effects on the human body Drawing on feminist theory environmental studies and the sciences Stacy Alaimo focuses on trans corporeality or movement across bodies and nature which has profoundly altered our sense of self By looking at a broad range of creative and philosophical writings Alaimo illuminates how science politics and culture collide while considering the closeness of the human body to the environment

Interdisciplinary Literary Studies ,2009 Western Subjects Kathleen Boardman, Gioia Woods, 2004 What if anything is western about western American autobiography The essays in this anthology explore the idea of place as it is revealed in a variety of texts rooted in the West from a bestselling memoir that connects environmental disruption with the impact of disease on a family to a Paiute woman's personal history presented in defense of her public activities to a famous folksinger's novel of his life Whether studying writers such as Terry Tempest Williams William Kittredge and Woody Guthrie or lesser known men and women whose autobiographies are grounded in western America this thorough volume of criticism and scholarship seeks to understand the ways the West takes shape in lifewriting as landscape language or state of mind Style and the Future of Composition Studies Paul Butler, Brian Ray, Star Medzerian Vanguri, 2020-11-02 Style and the Future of CompositionStudies explores style s potential for informing how students are taught to write well and its power as a tool for analyzing the language and discourse practices of writers and speakers in a range of contexts Many college writing teachers operate under the belief that style still refers primarily to the kinds of issues discussed in Strunk and White s popular but outdated book The Elements of Style This work not only challenges this view but also offers theories and pedagogies from diverse perspectives that help teachers and students develop strategic habits and mindsets to negotiate languages genres and discourse conventions The chapters explore the ways in which style directly affects and is affected by multiple sources of shifting disciplinary inquiry contributing new insights by drawing on research in cultural studies sociolinguistics discourse studies translingualism and writing across the curriculum as well as new approaches to classical rhetorical theory. The reemergence of stylistic inquiry can be used dynamically to produce new insights not only about emerging disciplinary interests but also about the study of style as a kind of language in and of itself Style and the Future of Composition Studies demonstrates that style deserves to be a central focus of writing teaching More than just the next style collection the book advocates for style s larger prominence in composition discussions generally It will be of interest to a broad range of students and scholars of writing studies as well as a wider set of readers in academe Contributors Cydney Alexis Laura Aull Anthony Box Jimmy Butts Mike Duncan William FitzGerald Melissa Goldthwaite Eric House TR Johnson Almas Khan Zak Lancaster Eric Leake Andrea Olinger Thomas Pace Jarron Slater Jonathan Udelson Environmental History Carolyn Merchant, 2007-10-31 By studying the many ways diverse peoples have changed shaped and conserved the natural world over time environmental historians provide insight into humanity s unique relationship with nature and more importantly are better able to understand the origins of our current environmental crisis Beginning with the precolonial land use practice of Native Americans and concluding with our twenty first century concerns over our global ecological crisis American Environmental History addresses contentious issues such as the preservation of the wilderness the expulsion of native peoples from national parks and population growth and considers the formative forces of gender race and class Entries address a range of topics from the impact of rice cultivation slavery and the growth of the automobile suburb to the effects of the Russian sea otter trade Columbia River salmon fisheries the environmental justice movement and globalization This illustrated reference is an essential companion for students interested in the ongoing transformation of the American landscape and the conflicts over its resources and conservation It makes rich use of the tools and resources climatic and geological data court records archaeological digs and the writings of naturalists that environmental historians rely on to conduct their research The volume also includes a compendium of significant people concepts events agencies and legislation and an extensive bibliography of critical films books and Web sites Annual Bibliography of English Language and Literature Modern Humanities Research Association, 2005 Includes both books and articles Food. Feminisms. Rhetorics Melissa A. Goldthwaite, 2017-06-19 Inspired by the need for interpretations and critiques of the varied messages surrounding what and how we eat Food Feminisms Rhetorics collects eighteen essays that demonstrate the importance of food and food related practices as sites of scholarly study particularly from feminist rhetorical perspectives Contributors analyze messages about food and bodies from what a person watches and reads to where that person shops taken from sources mundane and literary personal and cultural This collection begins with analyses of the historical cultural and political implications of cookbooks and recipes explores definitions of feminist food writing and ends with a focus on bodies and cultures both self representations and representations of others for particular rhetorical purposes The genres objects and practices contributors study are varied from cookbooks to genre fiction from blogs to food systems from product packaging to paintings but the overall message is the same food and its associated practices are worthy of scholarly attention
