Disarming Doomsday Becky Alexis-Martin, 2019-05-20 Winner of the L H M Ling Outstanding First Book Prize 2020 Shortlisted for the Bread and Roses Award 2020 Since the first atomic bomb exploded over Hiroshima the history of nuclear warfare has been tangled with the spaces and places of scientific research and weapons testing armament and disarmament pacifism and proliferation Nuclear geography gives us the tools to understand these events and the extraordinary human cost of nuclear weapons Disarming Doomsday explores the secret history of nuclear weapons by studying the places they build and tear apart from Los Alamos to Hiroshima It looks at the legacy of nuclear imperialism from weapons testing on Christmas Island and across the South Pacific as well as the lasting harm this has caused to indigenous communities and the soldiers that conducted the tests For the first time these complex geographies are tied together Disarming Doomsday takes us forward describing how geographers and geotechnology continue to shape nuclear war and perhaps help to prevent it

Philanthropy and Settler Colonialism A. O'Brien, 2014-12-15 This book the first long range history of the voluntary sector in Australia and the first internationally to compare philanthropy for Indigenous and non Indigenous peoples in a settler society explores how the race and gender ideologies embedded in philanthropy contributed to the construction of Australia's welfare state

Defending Country Noah Riseman, Richard Trembath, 2016-03-23 The role of Aboriginal servicemen and women has only recently been brought to the forefront of conversation about Australia's war history This important book makes a key contribution to recording the role played by Indigenous Australians in our recent military history Written by two respected historians and based on a substantial number of interviews with Indigenous war veterans who have hitherto been without a voice it combines the best of social and military history in one book This will be the first book to focus on this previously neglected part of Australian social history

Crime and Empire 1840 - 1940 Barry Godfrey, Graeme Dunstall, 2013-06-17 This book is a major contribution to the comparative histories of crime and criminal justice focusing on the legal regimes of the British empire during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Its overarching theme is the transformation and convergence of criminal justice systems during a period that saw a broad shift from legal pluralism to the hegemony of state law in the European world and beyond      Atomic Thunder Elizabeth Tynan, 2018-07-30 An in depth account of Great Britain's atomic testing efforts in South Australia in the 1950s and 60s and its effects British nuclear testing took place at Maralinga South Australia between 1956 and 1963 after Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies had handed over 3 200 square kilometres of open desert to the British Government without informing his own people The atomic weapons test series wreaked havoc on Indigenous communities and turned the land into a radioactive wasteland How did it come to pass that a democracy such as Australia suddenly found itself hosting another country's nuclear program And why has it continued to be shrouded in mystery even decades after the atomic thunder clouds stopped rolling across the South Australian test site In this meticulously researched and shocking work journalist and academic Elizabeth Tynan reveals the truth of what really happened at Maralinga and the devastating consequences of what took place there not to mention the mess that was left behind Praise for Atomic Thunder Compulsive reading Make that compulsory This is a brilliant book Philip Adams

Australian Settler Colonialism and the Cummeragunja Aboriginal Station Fiona Davis, 2014-03-01 In 1938 the anthropologist Norman Tindale gave a classroom of young Aboriginal children a set of crayons and asked them to draw The children residents of the government run Aboriginal station Cummeragunja mostly drew pictures of aspects of white civilization boats houses and flowers What now to make of their artwork Were the children      Routledge Handbook of Primary Physical Education Gerald Griggs, Kirsten Petrie, 2017-11-27 The Routledge Handbook of Primary Physical Education goes further than any other book in exploring the specific theoretical and practical components of teaching PE at the primary or elementary school level As the most comprehensive review of theory research and practice in primary PE yet published it represents an essential evidence based guide for all students researchers and practitioners working in this area Written by a team of leading international primary PE specialists from academic and practitioner backgrounds this handbook examines the three discourses that dominate contemporary PE health education and sport With case studies from twelve countries including the UK USA Canada Australia New Zealand Norway Spain and South Korea it provides a truly international perspective on key themes and issues such as primary PE pedagogy policy and curriculum development assessment and standards child development diversity and inclusion teacher training and professional development Offering an unprecedented wealth of material this handbook is an invaluable reference for any undergraduate or postgraduate degree programme in primary physical education or any primary teacher training course with a physical education element

Broken Circles Anna Haebich, 2000-11-01 This major work reveals the dark heart of the history of the Stolen Generations in Australia It shows that from the earliest times of European colonization Aboriginal Australians experienced the trauma of loss and separation as their children were abducted enslaved institutionalized and culturally remodeled Providing a moving and comprehensive account of this tragic history this study covers all Australian colonies states and territories The analysis spans 200 years of white occupation and intervention from the earliest seizure of Aboriginal children through their systematic state removal and incarceration and on to the harsh treatment of families under the assimilation policies of the 1950s and 1960s The resistance struggle and achievements of Aboriginal people in defending their communities regaining their rights and mending the broken circles of family life provides a compelling parallel story of determination and courage     History, Power, Text Timothy Neale, Crystal McKinnon, Eve Vincent, 2014-01-01 History Power Text Cultural Studies and Indigenous Studies is a collection of essays on Indigenous themes published between 1996 and 2013 in the journal known first as UTS Review and now as Cultural Studies Review This journal opened up a space for new kinds of politics new styles of writing and new modes of interdisciplinary engagement History Power Text highlights the significance of just one of the exciting interdisciplinary spaces or meeting points the journal enabled Indigenous cultural studies is our name for the intersection of cultural studies and Indigenous studies showcased here This volume republishes key works by academics and writers Katelyn Barney Jennifer Biddle Tony Birch Wendy Brady Gillian Cowlshaw Robyn Ferrell Bronwyn Fredericks Heather Goodall Tess Lea Erin Manning Richard Martin Aileen Moreton Robinson Stephen Muecke Alison Ravenscroft Deborah Bird Rose Lisa Slater Sonia Smallacombe Rebe Taylor Penny van Toorn Eve Vincent Irene Watson and Virginia Watson many of whom have taken this opportunity to write reflections on their work as well as interviews between Christine Nicholls and painter Kathleen Petyarre and Anne Brewster and author Kim Scott The book also features new essays by Birch Moreton Robinson and Crystal McKinnon and a roundtable discussion with former and current journal editors Chris Healy Stephen Muecke and Katrina Schlunke     Ethnic Englishes, Indigenous and Migrant Languages Gerhard Leitner, 2013-02-06 Australia is host to many languages English indigenous migrant and contact Its multilingualism the sociopolitical changes that have been impacting upon them and its wide ranging language policy efforts are well known What has been missing so far is a comprehensive integrative study of the entire habitat of languages the contacts and interactions that have been taking place from the beginning of colonization to the present day with their linguistic outcomes This book and its companion Australia s Many Voices Australian English The National Language develop and apply such an approach The present book deals with non mainstream varieties of English indigenous migrant and contact languages Based on census and other data to 2003 it addresses themes such as language demographics language shift and socio psychological factors that bear upon it Language change is discussed from the angle of the uprooting of indigenous languages from their original context of transplantation and of contact with English Pidgins and creoles are located inside the Pacific context of the nineteenth century This study provides an analysis of language and language education policies to 2003 and connects this theme with the role of Australian English the national language It suggests that Australia s habitat is reaching a new stage of plurilingual tolerance The book is of interest for specialists from a wide range of language and policy disciplines Its discursive non technical style makes it accessible to non specialists with no background in linguistics     Mary Lee Denise George, 2018-08-30 Suffragist and social justice advocate Mary Lee was determined to leave the world a better place than she found it The feisty 59 year old widow of limited means and with few family and friends settled in Adelaide in 1879 and immediately set to work Undaunted by the opposition of antagonistic politicians and a conservative public Mary thrust herself into high profile campaigns in support of female refuge improving women s working conditions and gaining women s suffrage In 1894 South Australia became the first place in the world to pass legislation giving women the right to vote and be elected members of parliament thanks in no small part to Mary Lee s energy and committed determination The disappearance of Mary Lee s journals and most of her letters along with a dearth of recorded women s history kept her contribution to history hidden for more than 125 years Undeterred author Denise George travelled to Ireland and her painstaking examination of local records both there and in Adelaide revealed the compelling story of a woman who took on the Establishment and won I hope Mrs Lee will forgive me indicating that in my youthful opinion she is a turbulent anarchist Young South Australian 1893

Out of the Silence Robert Foster, Amanda Nettelbeck, 2012-09-27 When South Australia was founded in 1836 the British government was pursuing a new approach to the treatment of Aboriginal people hoping to avoid the violence that marked earlier Australian settlement The colony s founding Proclamation declared that as British subjects Aboriginal people would be as much under the safeguard of the law as the Colonists themselves and equally entitled to the privileges of British subjects But could colonial governments provide the protection that was promised Out of the Silence explores the nature and extent of violence on South Australia s frontiers in light of the foundational promise to provide Aboriginal people with the protection of the law and the resonances of that history in social memory What do we find when we compare the history of the frontier with the patterns of how it is remembered and forgotten And what might this reveal about our understanding of the nation s history and its legacies in the present Economic Poisoning Adam M. Romero, 2021-11-16 Arsenic and old waste Commercializing chemical warfare Manufacturing petrotoxiety Public private partnerships From oil well to farm Child, Adolescent and Family Development Phillip T. Slee, Marilyn Campbell, Barbara Spears, 2012-08-30 A comprehensive study of human development from conception to adulthood this book explores the foundations of modern developmental thought incorporating international research set within a cultural and historical context Teaching 'Proper' Drinking? Maggie Brady, 2017-12-12 In Teaching Proper Drinking the author brings together three fields of scholarship socio historical studies of alcohol Australian Indigenous policy history and social enterprise studies The case studies in the book offer the first detailed surveys of efforts to teach responsible drinking practices to Aboriginal people by installing canteens in remote communities and of the purchase of public hotels by Indigenous groups in attempts both to control sales of alcohol and to create social enterprises by redistributing profits for the community good Ethnographies of the hotels are examined through the analytical lens of the Swedish Gothenburg system of municipal hotel ownership The research reveals that the community governance of such social enterprises is not purely a matter of good administration or compliance with the relevant liquor legislation Their administration is imbued with the additional challenges posed by political contestation both within and beyond the communities concerned The idea that community or government ownership and management of a hotel or other drinking place would be a good way to control drinking and limit harm has been commonplace in many Anglophone and Nordic countries but has been less recognised in Australia Maggie Brady's book brings together the hidden history of such ideas and initiatives in Australia In an original and wide ranging set of case studies Brady shows that success in reducing harm has varied between communities largely depending on whether motivations to raise revenue or to reduce harm are in control Professor Robin Room Director Centre for Alcohol Policy Research La Trobe University     Uncommon Ground Anna Cole,Victoria Katharine Haskins,Fiona Paisley,2005 Uncommon Ground is a unique exploration of the complex roles played by white women in Australian Indigenous histories It showcases some of the latest and most interesting work in Australia on gender and cross cultural history Within a particular historical context each chapter highlights the work of a woman involved in Aboriginal issues and with Aboriginal people Well known as well as less prominent public figures are included There's a mixture of activists writers and workers in missionary groups and administration as well as Pearl Gibbs the leading Aboriginal woman activist who worked closely with contemporary white feminists Four thematic parts include The Home Front which highlights the prominence of the home as institution as well as a refuge in such cross cultural relationships Shared Struggle which explores collaborative relationships Public Lives which addresses white women who took on public roles with regard to Aboriginal issues and Knowing the Aborigines which covers the ambiguous roles played by white women who claimed the knowledge to represent Aboriginal people and issues and who have had various impacts upon Aboriginal histories as a result These lively and critical biographical studies trace the motivations actions and impact of these women The Indigenous and non Indigenous contributors both women and men engage with some difficult yet fascinating questions of race gender and identity in Aboriginal history     The Lost Legions Alistair Paterson,2008-01-17 The Lost Legions offers a discussion of the interaction between Australian Aborigines and the first European pastoralists with comparisons to similar interactions elsewhere around the world
