Survived To Tell An Autobiography:

Surviving the Crossing Jessica Rabin, 2005-12-20 By examining the fiction of three women modernists Willa Cather Gertrude Stein and Nella Larsen this book complicates binary paradigms of national gender and ethnic identities in the interwar period In place of essentializing categories of identity Jessica Rabin explores the liberating and dislocating ramifications of using multiple subject positions as a means of representing identity While these three authors have been studied in non intersecting categories pioneer literature high modernism and the Harlem Renaissance respectively Jessica Rabin traces their similarities showing how the dispersal of fixed identities are facilitated by the language of fiction Betty Shabazz, Surviving Malcolm X Russell J. Rickford, 2003 The gunmen rose from the crowd and set their sights on Malcolm X The thunder of shotgun blasts ripped through the ballroom and Betty Shabazz turned to see her husband float backward keel over and crash to the ballroom stage She grabbed her children hurling them beneath a booth and shielding them with her body while the room erupted into screams and chaos As she lay there squeezing her family the Betty Shabazz who was the dutiful and obedient wife of the Civil Rights Movement s most feared leader ceased to be and the woman who emerged would become one of the greatest heroines of our day Betty Shabazz Surviving Malcolm X is the first major biography of Dr Betty Shabazz the unsung and controversial champion of the Civil Rights era From her early marriage to black liberation s raging voice through her evolution into a powerful and outspoken African American leader Betty Shabazz was in constant struggle to bring freedom and justice to her people Yet at times her greatest fight was to struggle through tragedy and hold on to her faith amidst the stereotypes forced on her by a culture of racism and the very people she was trying to liberate To read Betty Shabazz Surviving Malcolm X is to experience this remarkable life With eloquent and intimate prose Russell J Rickford puts you on the scene as a young Betty Sanders is taken in by foster parents after a troubled childhood You are there as Malcolm X comes home from a hard day of railing against oppression to hug his children dote on his wife and laugh You dive under the table at the Audubon Ballroom as bullets strike Malcolm down You struggle with Betty Shabazz as she fights to raise six girls alone while earning a doctorate You stand triumphant with her as she claims her own individuality and fights to build respect for Malcolm And you stand watch with her daughters as Betty passes away a victim of yet another tragedy but this time after a life lived full Russell J Rickford has conducted extensive research to compile this biography interviewing more than seventy of Betty Shabazz s family members friends colleagues and contemporaries as well as researching countless records and documents including recently declassified FBI CIA and New York Police files This is the first complete look at the life of Betty Shabazz and a new insight into the man who was known as Malcolm X Betty Shabazz is the story of a strong woman who faced incredible tragedy and emerged triumphant compassionate and always full of life In the end it is the story of a nation torn apart by hatred learning to heal and forgive Me Too, Feminist Theory, and Surviving Sexual Violence in the Academy Laura A. Gray-Rosendale, 2020-03-09 Powerfully written and theoretically grounded Me Too Feminist Theory and Surviving

Sexual Violence in the Academy collects a range of perspectives from sexual assault survivors with backgrounds in academia. The contributors in this collection connect their experiences of sexual violence to their research and work within the academy as well as their lives outside of it. Contributors analyze the events surrounding their experiences with sexual violence as well as the cultural, social, and political effects. Their analyses are located within discussions of recent cultural events and the larger contexts of race, ethnicity, class, age, gender, sexuality, region, and nation. University Library of

Autobiography, Including All the Great Autobiographies and the Autobiographical Data Left by the World's Famous Men and Women, 1918 Telling the Stories of Life through Guided Autobiography Groups James E.

Birren, Kathryn N. Cochran, 2003-05-22 Telling the Stories of Life through Guided Autobiography Groups based on James Birren's 25 years of conducting autobiography groups discusses all the topics an organizer faces while developing a program for adults who want to recall and write down their life histories. This book is ideal for adult education programs, church groups, social workers, psychologists, gerontologists, and others who work with adults who might be interested in exploring recording or sharing their personal histories. It helps professionals and trained workshop leaders at community centers, senior centers, schools, and other settings guide group participants in exploring major themes of their lives so that they can organize and write their stories and share them in a group with others on the same journey. This exercise is rewarding for adults of any age in a period of transition or with interest in gaining insight from their own stories. Personal development and a feeling of connection to other participants and their stories is a natural outcome of this process. This book provides background material and detailed lesson plans for those who wish to develop and lead an autobiography group. The authors explain the concept of guided autobiography, discuss the benefits to the group participants, and provide logistical information on how to plan, organize, and set up a group. An appendix provides exercises, handouts, and suggested adaptations for specific groups. The book also explains a systematic method of priming memories including the history of family and of one's life, work, the role of money, health, and the body, and ideas about death. At a time when rapid change has created a widespread yearning to write down and exchange personal accounts, sharing life stories can reveal a great deal about how we have come to be the persons we are. Telling the Stories of Life through Guided Autobiography Groups shows how to organize, record, and share life experiences through a proven and effective technique. Remembering Lived Lives Michael Jimenez, 2017-03-31

Remembering Lived Lives is a religious historiography book that focuses on issues and theorists located primarily in Latin America. Instead of joining the chorus of contemporary European intellectuals like Slavoj Žižek who insist on a renewed Eurocentrism, this study challenges both historians and theologians to take seriously the work done by theorists located in what Enrique Dussel calls the underside of modernity. This is an interdisciplinary work that opens with Karl Barth's outline for historical theological study and closes with an analysis of the film The Mission. Written for both the history or theology instructor and student, it deals with subjects like church history, biography as theology, liberation theology as primary source material photographs and historical movies      Performing Autobiography Katrina M. Powell, 2021-06-14 Performing Autobiography Narrating a Life as Activism analyzes the rhetorical strategies employed in five authors' autobiographical texts examining their representations of identities and the public implications of writing individual identity Exploring the ways race class culture ethnicity gender and sexuality might affect the forms in which writers choose to write e.g. memoir fictional autobiography poetry questions how autobiographers challenge notions of genre truth and representation This builds on the argument that constructing identity is a Performing Autobiography performance one that can simultaneously use and subvert traditional notions of rhetoric and genre By examining the autobiographical texts of Zora Neale Hurston Audre Lorde Dorothy Allison Joyce Johnson and Shirley Geok-lin Lim together the book theorizes self representation and genres as rhetorical performances and therefore their texts can be seen as performative autobiography transgressive archives where readers are asked to consider their own identities and act accordingly In doing so this book contributes to growing theories in feminist rhetorics and autobiography studies arguing that these performative genres advocate for life narratives as political and social activism      Life of Thurlow Weed Including His Autobiography and a Memoir Thurlow Weed, 1884

Audrey of the Mountains Dorothy Audrey Simpson, 2008 Simpson offers a biography of her mother one of the first female journalists in New Mexico who was known for her informative influential and inspiring writing      George Sand and Autobiography J.A. Hiddleston, 2017-12-02 This book discusses George Sand's autobiography Histoire de ma Vie from a variety of perspectives thematic structural and stylistic and examines the often contradictory images of the author narrator that emerge in particular from Sand's confused and ambivalent attitude to her gender At each point Sand's intriguing work is placed in the context of modern autobiographical and feminist theory and measured against the conventions of traditional male autobiography What emerges is a hybrid androgynous text that combines different modes and voices giving a unique access to the person of the author herself both as she wished to appear and as she appears in spite of herself      If I Survive Celeste-Marie Bernier, 2018-08-01 Previously unseen speeches letters autobiographies and photographs of Frederick Douglass and his sons Lewis Henry Frederick Jr and Charles Remond Douglass from the Walter O Evans collection While the many public lives of Frederick Douglass as the representative fugitive slave autobiographer orator abolitionist reformer philosopher and statesman are lionised worldwide If I Survive sheds light on the private life of Douglass the family man For the first time this book provides readers with a collective biography mapping the activism authorship and artistry of Douglass and his sons Lewis Henry Frederick Jr and Charles Remond Douglass In one volume the history of the Douglass family appears alongside full colour facsimile reproductions of their over 80 previously unpublished speeches letters autobiographies and photographs held in the Walter O Evans Collection All of life can be found within these pages romance hope despair love life death war protest politics art and friendship Working together and against a changing backdrop of US slavery Civil War and Reconstruction the Douglass family fought for a new dawn of freedom Marking the 200th anniversary of Frederick Douglass birth this first collective history and comprehensive collection of the Douglass family writings and portraits sheds new light not only on Douglass as a freedom fighter and family man but on the lives and works of Lewis Henry Frederick Jr and Charles Remond As civil rights protesters essayists autobiographers and orators in their own right they each played a vital role in the struggles for the cause of liberty of their father As published here each of their original writings and portraits is accompanied by an explanatory essay and in depth scholarly annotations as well as a detailed bibliography Recognising that the Frederick Douglass that is needed in a twenty first century Black Lives Matter era is no infallible icon but a mortal individual If I Survive situates the lives and works of Douglass and his family within the social political historical and cultural contexts in which they lived and worked Each unafraid to die for the cause they dedicated their lives to the emancipation of the slave and to social justice by every means necessary The Foreword is written by Robert S Levine and the Afterword is authored by Kim F Hall

Autobiographical Writing by Early Modern Hispanic Women Elizabeth Teresa Howe, 2016-04-08 Women's life writing in general has too often been ignored dismissed or relegated to a separate category in those few studies of the genre that include it The present work addresses these issues and offers a countervailing argument that focuses on the contributions of women writers to the study of autobiography in Spanish during the early modern period There are indeed examples of autobiographical writing by women in Spain and its New World empire evident as early as the fourteenth century Memorias penned by Doña Leonor López de Córdoba and continuing through the seventeenth century Cartas of Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz What sets these accounts apart the author shows are the variety of forms adopted by each woman to tell her life and the circumstances in which she adapts her narrative to satisfy the presence of male critics whether ecclesiastic or political actual or imagined who would dismiss or even alter her life story Analyzing how each of these women viewed her life and conversely how their contemporaries both male and female received and sometimes edited her account Howe reveals the tension in the texts between telling a life and telling a lie

I've Had to Think Up a Way to Survive Lynn Melnick, 2022-10-04 A moving and essential exploration of what it takes to find your voice as a woman a survivor an artist and an icon The first time Lynn Melnick listened to a Dolly Parton song in full she was 14 years old in the triage room of a Los Angeles hospital waiting to be admitted to a drug rehab program Already in her young life as a Jewish teen in the 1980s she had been the victim of rape abuse and trauma and her path to healing would be long But in Parton's words and music she recognized a fellow survivor In this powerful incisive work of social and self exploration Melnick blends personal essay with cultural criticism to explore Parton's dual identities as feminist icon and objectified sex symbol identities that reflect the author's own fraught history with rape culture and the arduous work of reclaiming her voice Each chapter engages with the artistry and impact of one of Parton's songs as Melnick reckons with violence misogyny creativity parenting friendship sex love and the consolations and cruelties of religion Bold and inventive I've Had to Think Up a Way to Survive gives us an accessible and memorable framework for understanding our times and a revelatory account of survival persistence and self discovery

Entrepreneurship and Agency as Lived Experience Sigríður Matthíasdóttir, 2024-11-05 Historical research into female entrepreneurs has become a burgeoning field in recent years However there is still a lack of studies of businesswomen based on their personal documents and such documents seem to be rare This book an appraisal of the nineteenth and early twentieth century East Icelandic businesswoman Pólína Waage 1864-1935 fills that gap It investigates the agency of a small scale female entrepreneur primarily based on her autobiography diaries and letters using the methodology of the history of experience and lived experience

Handbook of Autobiography / Autofiction Martina Wagner-Egelhaaf, 2019-01-29 Autobiographical writings have been a major cultural genre from antiquity to the present time General questions of the literary as e.g. the relation between literature and reality truth and fiction the dependency of author narrator and figure or issues of individual and cultural styles etc can be studied preeminently in the autobiographical genre Yet the tradition of life writing has in the course of literary history developed manifold types and forms Especially in the globalized age where the media and other technological cultural factors contribute to a rapid transformation of lifestyles autobiographical writing has maintained even enhanced its popularity and importance By conceiving autobiography in a wide sense that includes memoirs diaries self portraits and autofiction as well as media transformations of the genre this three volume handbook offers a comprehensive survey of theoretical approaches systematic aspects and historical developments in an international and interdisciplinary perspective While autobiography is usually considered to be a European tradition special emphasis is placed on the modes of self representation in non Western cultures and on inter and transcultural perspectives of the genre The individual contributions are closely interconnected by a system of cross references The handbook addresses scholars of cultural and literary studies students as well as non academic readers
