Thanos P Dokos, 2020-07-24 As counter proliferation is expected to become the central element in the new national security policy of the US such actions will constitute a central element of every major international conflict in the first decades of the 21st century One of the most important geostrategic phenomena of the past decade has been the extraordinary diffusion of war making capabilities from the developed North to the developing South In the eyes of some proliferant states possessing nuclear biological and chemical NBC weapons would not only add to their regional stature but would also offer an asymmetrical counter to the West's massive superiority in conventional forces In the Eastern Mediterranean and the Middle East a number of countries are assumed to possess varying levels of NBC weapons capabilities Reasons for concern include the fact that such weapons have been used in the past the region's geographic proximity to Europe and the vital interests of the West which is prepared under certain circumstances to use force to protect them the multiplicity of conflicts and other security problems and the general instability in the region including the spread of religious extremism This important and timely book assesses in detail the accuracy of predictions and perceptions about a possible military threat from the Southern Mediterranean Muslim world and their impact on NATO's political and military posture Thanos P Dokos presents an assessment of the Alliance's options for dealing with the problem This book represents an invaluable topical resource for

Committee on Armed Services,      The ABCs of Human Survival Arthur Clark,2010 The ABCs of Human Survival examines the effect of militant nationalism and the lawlessness of powerful states on the well being of individuals local communities and global citizenship Based on the analysis of world events Dr Arthur Clark presents militant nationalism as a pathological pattern of thinking that threatens our security while emphasizing effective democracy and international law as indispensable frameworks for human protection Within the contexts of history sociology philosophy and spirituality The ABCs of Human Survival calls into question the assumptions of consumer culture and offers as an alternative strategies to improve overall well being through the important choices we make as individuals      Coercion, Survival, and War Phil Haun,2015-07-01 In asymmetric interstate conflicts great powers have the capability to coerce weak states by threatening their survival but not vice versa It is therefore the great power that decides whether to escalate a conflict into a crisis by adopting a coercive strategy In practice however the coercive strategies of the U S have frequently failed In Coercion Survival and War Phil Haun chronicles 30 asymmetric interstate crises involving the US from 1918 to 2003 The U S chose coercive strategies in 23 of these cases but coercion failed half of the time most often because the more powerful U S made demands that threatened the very survival of the weak state causing it to resist as long as it had the means to do so It is an unfortunate paradox Haun notes that where the U S may prefer brute force to coercion these power asymmetries may well lead it to first attempt coercive strategies that are expected to fail in order to justify the war it desires He concludes that when coercion is preferred to brute force there are clear limits as to what can be demanded In such cases he suggests U S policymakers can improve the chances of success by matching appropriate threats to demands by including other great powers in the coercive process and by reducing a weak state leader s reputational costs by giving him or her face saving options      A Choice to Survive N. Burrows,2007-04-01 Using Space to Save Earth Veteran science journalist William E Burrows offers a bold new mission for the U S space program to protect the Earth from the ever growing number of perils that threaten our way of life and even our very survival We are living through one of the most dangerous times in human history Nuclear chemical and biological weapons technology are proliferating and missile technology is falling into more and more hands Extreme natural disasters like hurricanes floods fires and earthquakes are becoming increasingly costly not only in dollars but in lives as population expands Environmental crises threaten to provoke massive famines and widespread social collapse Asteroids the size of battleships streak within striking distance of the earth every year One strategy offers the best hope of protecting us from all of these dangers a revitalized national space program that coordinates efforts in global defense in environmental protection in communications and in military security The Survival Imperative offers an impassioned argument for this bold initiative To demonstrate the urgency of his cause Burrows presents a vivid scenario an impact by a moderately large asteroid that triggers a series of nuclear exchanges environmental devastation and the slow disintegration of civilization And he examines the existing space program from the heady days of the Moon landing through the political compromises that have characterized the history of NASA in the 35 years following our retreat from the Moon Most of all Burrows warns that the primary obstacle to achieving a true planetary defense program is not financial or scientific but social an unwillingness to acknowledge the urgency of the crisis and to take the political risks needed to address it The question says Burrows is not whether we can do it but whether we will act before it s too late At the Publisher s request this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software DRM applied Survival in the Air Age United States. peacefully resolve the North Korean nuclear standoff through constructive dialogue This book examines North Korea's survival strategy and offers practical solutions to a 50 year nuclear standoff through a series of essays written by 15 of the world's foremost scholars and leading experts on strategy economics and international relations It is essential reading for anyone interested in peace in Northeast Asia and will be invaluable in helping policy makers diplomats politicians researchers and other North Korea watchers to understand three closely related issues about North Korea 1 why North Korea will continue to survive 2 how the United States and North Korea can build a mutual confidence and 3 why a dialogue is the only viable way to resolve the North Korea problem peacefully
