Confessions of a Yiddish Writer and Other Essays Chava Rosenfarb, 2019-06-11 Chava Rosenfarb 1923 2011 was one of the most prominent Yiddish novelists of the second half of the twentieth century Born in Poland in 1923 she survived the Lodz ghetto Auschwitz and Bergen Belsen immigrating to

Canada in 1950 and settling in Montreal There she wrote novels poetry short stories plays and essays including The Tree of Life A Trilogy of Life in the Lodz Ghetto a seminal novel on the Holocaust Confessions of a Yiddish Writer and Other Essays comprises thirteen personal and literary essays by Rosenfarb ranging from autobiographical accounts of her childhood and experiences before and during the Holocaust to literary criticism that discusses the work of other Jewish writers The collection also includes two travelogues which recount a trip to Australia and another to Prague in 1993 the year it became the capital of the Czech Republic While several of these essays appeared in the prestigious Yiddish literary journal Di goldene keyt most were never translated This book marks the first time that Rosenfarb's non fiction writings have been presented together in English A compilation of the memoir and diary excerpts that formed the basis of Rosenfarb's widely acclaimed fiction Confessions of a Yiddish Writer and Other Essays deepens the reader's understanding of an incredible Yiddish woman and her experiences as a survivor in the post Holocaust world Literature of the Holocaust Alan Rosen, 2013-11-14 During and in the aftermath of the dark period of the Holocaust writers across Europe and America sought to express their feelings and experiences through their writings This book provides a comprehensive account of these writings through essays from expert scholars covering a wide geographic linguistic thematic and generic range of materials Such an overview is particularly appropriate at a time when the corpus of Holocaust literature has grown to immense proportions and when guidance is needed in determining a canon of essential readings a context to interpret them and a paradigm for the evolution of writing on the Holocaust The expert contributors to this volume who negotiate the literature in the original languages provide insight into the influence of national traditions and the importance of language especially but not exclusively Yiddish and Hebrew to the literary response arising from the Holocaust Travelling Concepts Christian Lammert, Katja Sarkowsky, 2009-12-03 Bhikhu Parekh As creative and reflective agents human beings seek meaning in their lives and develop more or less coherent views of the world or cultures in terms of which to organize their personal and collective lives When different groups of individuals within the same society subscribe to different ways of thought they face the crucial question of how to deal with their cultural diversity and sustain a shared common life Premodern societies took a relatively relaxed view of diversity and generally opted for a looser union Modernity brought with it a very different approach to the subject This is reflected in among other things the institution of the modern state especially the liberal democracy which represents one way of constituting it Liberal democracy has exercised a decisive influence on our political and moral imagination for the past three centuries Unlike premodern societies which took the community as their starting point and defined the individual in terms of it it takes the individual as the ultimate and irreducible unit of and thus conceptually and ontologically prior to society The latter is taken to consist of individuals and refers to the totality of its members and their formal and informal relationships Individuals are the sole and equal sources of moral claims and social and political institutions are judged in terms of their ability to safeguard and promote individual interests New Readings of Yiddish

Montreal - Traduire le Montréal yiddish Pierre Anctil, Norman Ravvin, Sherry Simon, 2007-06-30 The texts collected in this volume unveil the practice and the methods of the translators and scholars who contributed to the reemergence of Yiddish in contemporary Canada. Each of the personalities discussed enlarged the historical position and interpreted various aspects of the Yiddish language in Montreal that until recently remained obscure or inaccessible. Published in English Kanade, di Goldene Medine?, 2018-10-22 Kanade di Goldene Medine offers a broad study of its field with equal attention to English and French language materials and contexts. The volume's essays highlight the fundamental link between the culture and life of Canadian Jews and their Polish roots. This focus brings Yiddish to the fore in essays focusing on the history of Canadian Yiddish literature and the relevance of the language for contemporary Canadian Chasidic communities. However, essays in this volume also highlight the writings of contemporary authors working both in French and English. Thus, the collection explores culture at the borderlands of three languages with an eye for the link between New Worlds and Old. Kanade di Goldene Medine apporte une contribution importante l'étude de la littérature et la culture juives canadiennes tout en étant attentif aux textes et contextes anglophone et francophone ainsi qu'à l'univers particulier des juifs hassidiques de Montréal. Le volume tient également compte du lien fondamental entre la créativité des juifs canadiens et leurs racines est européennes en particulier polonaises et de la présence de la langue yiddish ou de son imaginaire dans leurs textes sous forme de traduction ou autotraduction. Le lecteur pourra cerner dans ce livre des perspectives transversales qui mettent en relation des itinéraires multiples et diversifiés nous entre le Nouveau Monde et le Vieux.

Translation Effects Kathy Mezei, Sherry Simon, Luise von Flotow, 2014-06-01 Much of Canadian cultural life is sustained and enriched by translation. Translation Effects moves beyond restrictive notions of official translation in Canada, analyzing its activities and effects on the streets, in movie theatres, on stages, in hospitals, in courtrooms, in literature, in politics, and across cafés and tables. The first comprehensive study of the intersection of translation and culture, Translation Effects offers an original picture of translation practices across many languages and through several decades of Canadian life. The book presents detailed case studies of specific events and examines the reverberation and spread of their effects. Through these imaginative at times unusual investigations, the contributors unveil the simultaneous invisibility and omnipresence of translation and present a cross-cut of Canadian translation moments. Addressing the period from the 1950s to the present and including a wide scope of examples from medical interpreting to film dubbing, the essays in this book create a panoramic view of the creation of modern culture in Canada. Equality in an Era of Religious Diversity Lori G. Beaman, 2017-06-02 While religious conflict receives plenty of attention the everyday negotiation of religious diversity does not. Questions of how to accommodate religious minorities and of the limits of tolerance resonate in a variety of contexts and have become central preoccupations for many Western democracies. What might we see if we turned our attention to the positive narratives and success stories of the everyday working out of religious difference? Rather than tolerance and accommodation and through the stories of ordinary people this book traces deep equality which is found in the respect, humour and friendship of seemingly mundane interactions. Deep Equality in an Era of Religious Diversity shows that the telling of such stories can create an alternative narrative to that of diversity as a problem to be solved. It explores the non-event or micro processes of interaction that constitute the foundation for deep equality and the conditions under which deep equality emerges, exists and sometimes flourishes. Through a systematic search for and examination of such narratives, Lori G. Beaman demonstrates the possibility of uncovering, revealing and recovering deep equality, a recovery that is vital to living in an increasingly diverse society. In achieving deep equality, identities are fluid, shifting in importance and structure as social interaction unfolds. Rigid identity imaginings, especially religious identities, block our vision to the complexities of social life and press us into corners that trap us in identities that we often ourselves do not recognize, want or know how to escape. Although the focus of this study is deep equality and its existence and persistence in relation to religious difference, deep equality is located beyond the realm of religion. Beaman draws from the work of those whose primary focus is not in fact religion and who are doing their own deep equality work in other domains, illustrating especially why equality matters. By retelling and exploring stories of negotiation, it is possible to reshape our social imaginary to better facilitate what works, which varies from place to place and time to time. The 1984 Anti-Sikh Violence Ritika Singh, 2024-10-15 This book presents a comprehensive theoretical study of fictional and non-fictional narratives of 1984 anti-Sikh violence in India. This volume contributes to the expanding field of trauma and memory studies in literature through an interdisciplinary approach. It takes perspectives from the fields of neurobiology, sociology, psychology and literary theory to offer an integrative and fresh approach to reading and locating trauma in narratives. Going beyond a simple reading of silence, the author discusses themes which encompass othering of the Sikh body, visual, echoic and olfactory memories, somatic expressions of trauma, experiences of women and instances of rape and sexual atrocities and children as young witnesses and intergenerational trauma to understand questions of agency and politics of remembering. Incisive and invigorating, this book is a must-read for students of memory and trauma studies, Sikh studies, South Asian literature, gender studies, English studies, postcolonial studies, cultural studies, psychology, exclusion studies and political sociology. Lilith, 2003 Short Stories Mauni, 1997 An Innovative Narration Encompassing A Wide Range Of Emotions And Experience In Mauni S Mindscape.
