Bodies Susie Orbach, 2009-03-03 Esteemed Psychotherapist and writer Susie Orbach diagnoses the crisis in our relationship to our bodies and points the way toward a process of healing Throughout the Western world people have come to believe that general dissatisfaction can be relieved by some change in their bodies Here Susie Orbach explains the origins of this condition and examines its implications for all of us Challenging the Freudian view that bodily disorders originate and progress in the mind Orbach argues that we should look at self mutilation obesity anorexia and plastic surgery on their own terms through a reading of the body itself Incorporating the latest research from neuropsychology as well as case studies from her own practice she traces many of these fixations back to the relationship between mothers and babies to anxieties that are transferred unconsciously at a very deep level between the two Orbach reveals how vulnerable our bodies are how susceptible to every kind of negative stimulus from a nursing infant sensing a mother's discomfort to a grown man or woman feeling inadequate because of a model on a billboard That vulnerability makes the stakes right now tremendously high In the past several decades a globalized media has overwhelmed us with images of an idealized westernized body and conditioned us to see any exception to that ideal as a problem The body has become an object a site of production and commerce in and of itself Instead of our bodies making things we now make our bodies Susie Orbach reveals the true dimensions of the crisis and points the way toward healing and acceptance

Religion, Feminism, and Idoloclasm Melissa Raphael, 2019-01-22 Religion Feminism and Idoloclasm identifies religious and secular feminism s common critical moment as that of idol breaking It reads the women s liberation movement as founded upon a philosophically and emotionally risky attempt to liberate women s consciousness from a three fold cognitive captivity to the self idolizing god called Man the God who is a projection of his power and the idol of the feminine called Woman that the god called God created for Man Examining a period of feminist theory theology and culture from about 1965 to 2010 this book shows that secular as well as Christian Jewish and post Christian feminists drew on ancient and modern tropes of redemption from slavery to idols or false ideas as a means of overcoming the alienation of women s being from their own becoming With an understanding of feminist theology as a pivotal contribution to the feminist criticism of culture this original book also examines idoloclasm in feminist visual art literature direct action and theory not least that of the sexual politics of romantic love the diet and beauty industry sex robots and other phenomena whose idolization of women reduces them to figures of the feminine same experienced as a de realization or death of the self This book demonstrates that secular and religious feminist critical engagements with the modern trauma of dehumanization were far more closely related than is often supposed As such it will be vital reading for scholars in theology religious studies gender studies visual studies and philosophy
