Sustainable Human Development in the Twenty-First Century - Volume II Ismail Sirageldin,2008-12-31 Sustainable Human Development in the Twenty First Century is a component of Encyclopedia of Human Resources Policy Development and Management in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty Encyclopedias The volume of Human Development examines the state and nature of human development and identifies factors that determine its promotion for the twenty first century A general goal since the ultimate goal for human development is to enhance the quality of human life However the concept quality of human life is not well defined It is determined by a set of interrelated factors that cut across many disciplines with varied perspectives and paradigms These include the prevailing culture health status economic performance technological development political and social conditions the building of human capacity and capabilities and institutional development on the local and global levels For example in an environment characterized by a better quality of human life it is expected that people will be able to lead long and productive lives They are also expected to enjoy good health have access to knowledge and educational opportunities and be treated by all with respect in a socially equitable and dignified manner In the sphere of political economy they are expected to have the opportunity to participate in governance decisions that affect their lives and the community in which they live and to have the potential to earn sufficient income to supply themselves with adequate nutrition shelter and other material and aesthetic needs Furthermore people are expected to maintain a sustainable environment and equitable social contracts across space and generations especially in the context of the evolving global governance The volume of Sustainable Human Development in the Twenty First Century is divided into five topics which are then expanded into multiple subtopics each as a chapter presented in two volumes The first is Major issues in Human Development and provides an over view of the Topic with emphasis on the sociological foundation of human development The second Topic Diversity and Historical Processes reviews the historical and technological processes which have led to the present state of human diversity and differentiation The third Topic Causes of Global Change focuses on whether it is possible in the present global environment to enlarge people s capabilities so that economic progress may be translated into a multidimensional human happiness The fourth Topic Consequences of Global Change examines global change not in the narrow sense of short term economic change but rather as historical waves of long term development The fifth Topic on Planning Strategies reviews current practice and projects challenges in the next century These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College Students Educators Professional Practitioners Research

Corporate Social Responsibility, the Fight Against Corruption and Tax Behaviour Manuel Castelo Branco, 2021-07-29 This book introduces in an accessible way how CSR and its reporting are being used to address problems of corruption and tax evasion or tax avoidance It discusses the efforts both of organizations and governments to integrate these issues into CSR practices and the developments that have occurred at the levels of national and international legislation The book analyses governments efforts to compel or try to induce companies to have practices more in line with what is expected of them in terms of combating corruption and paying their fair share The book is suitable for students of CSR and Business Ethics practitioners and researchers on CSR and corporate issues Social Exclusion and Interration in Poland(en) ,

Governance and the postcolony David Everatt, 2019-08-01 Civil society NGOs governments and multilateral institutions all repeatedly call for improved or good governance yet they seem to speak past one another Governance is in danger of losing all meaning precisely because it means many things to different people in varied locations This is especially true in sub Saharan Africa Here the postcolony takes many forms reflecting the imperial project with painful accuracy Offering a set of multidisciplinary analyses of governance in different sectors crisis management water food security universities in different locales across sub Saharan Africa and from different theoretical approaches network to adversarial network governance this volume makes a useful addition to the growing debates on how to govern It steers away from offering a correct definition of governance or from promoting a particular position on postcoloniality It gives no neat conclusion but invites readers to draw their own conclusions based on these differing approaches to and analyses of governance in the postcolony As a robust critical assessment of power and accountability in the sub Saharan context Governance and the Postcolony Views from Africa brings together topical case studies that will be a valuable resource for those working in the field of African international relations public policy public management and administration
