Architecture of the Early Twenty-first Century: A Global Need for Sustainability Shirley Montgomery, 2013-01-30 This book is about the global need for sustainable building The number of people on earth and their use of the resources of the planet for energy make it necessary to build differently The planet is showing serious signs of stress According to Dr David Grissmer my sister's husband as we all rode together recently through the melting Columbia ice field in Alberta Canada The consequences of global warming are potentially catastrophic and since the preventative strategies are likely to take decades to work even if the chances are small that humans are the cause we need to begin to address the issue I knew this was a guarded statement from a physicist about what had possibly caused the changed ecosystems in our world      Dwell ,2001-06 At Dwell we re staging a minor revolution We think that it s possible to live in a house or apartment by a bold modern architect to own furniture and products that are exceptionally well designed and still be a regular human being We think that good design is an integral part of real life And that real life has been conspicuous by its absence in most design and architecture magazines      The Architecture Reference & Specification Book Updated & Revised Julia McMorrough,2018-01-09 Most architectural standards references contain thousands of pages of details overwhelmingly more than architects need to know to know on any given day The updated and revised edition of Architecture Reference Specification contains vital information that s essential to planning and executing architectural projects of all shapes and sizes all in a format that is small enough to carry anywhere It distills the data provided in standard architectural volumes and is an easy to use reference for the most indispensable and most requested types of architectural information      Building for Life Stephen R. Kellert,2012-09-26 Sustainable design has made great strides in recent years unfortunately it still falls short of fully integrating nature into our built environment Through a groundbreaking new paradigm of restorative environmental design award winning author Stephen R Kellert proposes a new architectural model of sustainability In Building For Life Kellert examines the fundamental interconnectedness of people and nature and how the loss of this connection results in a diminished quality of life This thoughtful new work illustrates how architects and designers can use simple methods to address our innate needs for contact with nature Through the use of natural lighting ventilation and materials as well as more unexpected methodologies the use of metaphor perspective enticement and symbol architects can greatly enhance our daily lives These design techniques foster intellectual development relaxation and physical and emotional well being In the works of architects like Frank Lloyd Wright Eero Saarinen Cesar Pelli Norman Foster and Michael Hopkins Kellert sees the success of these strategies and presents models for moving forward Ultimately Kellert views our fractured relationship with nature as a design problem rather than an unavoidable aspect of modern life and he proposes many practical and creative solutions for cultivating a more rewarding experience of nature in our built environment      Aesthetic Sustainability Norman Lowe,2010-10-05      Resource Salvation Mark Gorgolewski,2017-12-26 A valuable source of information insight and fresh ideas about a crucial aspect of the growing sustainable design movement Mounting resource shortages worldwide coupled with skyrocketing extraction costs for new materials have made the prospect of materials reuse and recycling an issue of paramount importance A fundamental goal of the sustainable design movement is to derive utmost use from construction materials and components including energy water materials building components whole structures and even entire infrastructures Written by an expert with many years of experience in both industry and academe this book explores a wide range of sustainable design strategies which designers around the globe are using to create efficient and aesthetically pleasing buildings from waste streams and discarded items Emphasizing performance issues design considerations and process constraints it describes numerous fully realized projects and explores theoretical applications still on the drawing board There is a growing awareness worldwide of the need for cyclical systems of materials reuse Pioneering efforts at closed loop design date as far back as 1960s but only recently have architects and designers begun to focus on the opportunities which discarded materials can provide for creating high performance structures A source of insight and fresh ideas for architects engineers and designers Resource Salvation Reviews the theory and practice of building material and waste reuse and describes best practices in that area worldwide Describes projects that use closed loop thinking to influence and inspire the design of components interiors whole buildings or urban landscapes Illustrates how using discarded materials and focusing on closed loops can lead to new concepts in architecture building science and urban design Demonstrates how designers have developed aesthetically compelling solutions to the demands of rigorous performance standards Resource Salvation is a source of information and inspiration for architects civil engineers green building professionals building materials suppliers landscape designers urban designers and government policymakers It is certain to become required reading in university courses in sustainable architecture as well as materials engineering and environmental engineering curricula with a sustainable design component

Technonatures Damian F. White, Chris Wilbert, 2010-04-05 Environmentalism and social sciences appear to be in a period of disorientation and perhaps transition In this innovative collection leading international thinkers explore the notion that one explanation for the current malaise of the politics of ecology is that we increasingly find ourselves negotiating technonatural space times International contributors map the political ecologies of our technonatural present and indicate possible paths for technonatural futures The term technonatures is in debt to a long line of environmental cultural theory from Raymond Williams onwards problematizing the idea that a politics of the environment can be usefully grounded in terms of the rhetoric of defending the pure the authentic or an idealized past solely in terms of the ecological or the natural In using the term technonatures as an organizing myth and metaphor for thinking about the politics of nature in contemporary times this collection seeks to explore one increasingly pronounced dimension of the social natures discussion Technonatures highlights a growing range of voices considering the claim that we are not only inhabiting diverse social natures but that within such natures our knowledge of our worlds is ever more technologically mediated produced enacted and contested

Encyclopedia of the U.S. Government and the Environment Matthew J. Lindstrom, 2010-12-21 A timely new resource on the history of the U S government s approach to environmental policy At a time when changing the nation s environmental policy is a top presidential priority with a new global climate change treaty deep in negotiations and with the country itself weighing the need for action against concerns over too much government regulation this exhaustive new reference work could not be more welcomed Encyclopedia of the U S Government and the Environment History Policy and Politics explores the interaction between the federal government and environmental politics and policy throughout the nation s history from the earliest efforts to preserve lands and regulate pollution to the 1960s emergence of the modern environmental movement the landmark legislation of the 1970s and the seesawing back and forth of policies between alternating Republican and Democrat administrations of the last three decades

Authoritative unbiased and informed by the latest available research the hundreds of entries cover the full range of issues events laws institutions and key players that shape federal environmental policies incorporating viewpoints from across the ideological spectrum     Precedented Environmental Futures Colin Porteous,2019-04-17 This book addresses the built environment through the lens of environmental architecture and in a holistic manner It moves gradually from psychophysiology and thinking doing feeling modalities through environmental criteria to environmental modulation concluding with a debate around mitigation and adaptation Much use is made of re interpreting past quotations seen as relevant for environmental architecture No definitive conclusions are reached but rather broad discursive messages are offered The text will have lasting luminance for new generations involved with the built environment     Kenosis Creativity

Architecture Randall S. Lindstrom,2021-03-21 Kenosis Creativity Architecture locates and explores creativity s grounding in the ancient concept of kenosis the emptying that allows creativity to happen that makes appearance possible It concretises that grounding through architecture a primal expression of human creativity critically examining for the first time kenotic instantiations evidenced in four iconic international projects works by Kahn Pei Ando and Libeskind Then in a final turn the potentiality of architecture s own emptying is probed Architect and author Randall Lindstrom draws on Western and Eastern philosophy including that of Heidegger Levinas Derrida Vattimo Nishida and Nishitani as well as on the theology of Christianity Judaism and aspects of Buddhism Hinduism and Islam Every chapter expands the argument that if responsiveness to our world is taken seriously if proper and sustainable responses are to be realised then a deeper understanding of creativity and so kenosis is essential This book opens up a way of thinking about creativity and humanity s readiness to be creative It thereby presents a crucial enquiry at the nexus of architecture philosophy and theology for researchers graduate and postgraduate students and practitioners alike     How I Built A Trading Neural Network: The TNN
