Sustainable Forest Management:

Achieving the Sustainable Management of Forests Alastair Fraser, 2019-04-26 This book discusses the reality of implementing sustainable forest management measures Rather than simply offering theoretical descriptions the book comprehensively details how sustainably managed forests can only be achieved through the cooperation and support of foresters politicians business leaders local communities consumers of forest based goods and services and the general public The book also aims to raise public awareness of the factors involved in attaining the true sustainability of forest management and the consequences of failing to do so as well as the current issues facing sustainable forest management such as land ownership and land use rights political corruption environmental stressors and economic pressure In 17 chapters the book will appeal to academics and teachers in forestry and related areas government practitioners development agencies and NGOs

Sustainable Forest Management John L. Innes, Anna V. Tikina, 2016-12-19 Sustainable Forest Management provides the necessary material to educate students about forestry and the contemporary role of forests in ecosystems and society This comprehensive textbook on the concept and practice of sustainable forest management sets the standard for practice worldwide Early chapters concentrate on conceptual aspects relating sustainable forestry management to international policy In particular they consider the concept of criteria and indicators and how this has determined the practice of forest management taken here to be the management of forested lands and of all ecosystems present on such lands Later chapters are more practical in focus concentrating on the management of the many values associated with forests Overall the book provides a major new synthesis which will serve as a textbook for undergraduates of forestry as well as those from related disciplines such as ecology or geography who are taking a course in forests or natural resource management

Forest Ecology J. P. Kimmins, 2004 This management driven comprehensive book on ecosystem ecology is the only one on the market that covers the entire field linking conventional ecosystem level forest ecology to forest management It features ecological site classification ecosystem modeling and strong sections on ecological diversity and the physical environment It provides a comprehensive treatment of forestry issues as well as excellent coverage of ecosystem management landscape management natural disturbances and their emulation An excellent reference work for professional foresters resource managers wildlife managers parks managers forest planners and policy makers and forestry researchers

The Challenge of Sustainable Forest Management Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1993-01-01 Sustainable Forest Management in a Changing World: a European Perspective Peter Spathelf, 2009-12-04 Yet another book on the topic of Sustainable Forest Management can only be justified by new information that is of direct relevance The contents of this volume concentrate on the very latest factors and developments thus hopefully contributing both to the book's attractiveness and to closing gaps in the discipline's database This book is written for researchers in the field of forest management international forestry and climate change related issues legal and policy advisors as well as for managers of private companies who deal with SFM The authors of the various sections are scientists in the field of forestry and other environmental sciences They represent different institutions mainly universities and research agencies in Germany but also high level international institutions in development co operation such as the World Bank FAO and IIASA The scope of the book is to refresh the meanings and perceptions of SFM against the background of the rapid changes in our natural and social environment Climate change and the rapid increase of atmospheric CO₂ concentration is a global process with negative impacts of different kinds among others on natural ecosystems such as forests A crucial issue therefore is how forest management can contribute to forest conservation in light of changing climatic conditions Moreover policy changes such as the introduction of certification schemes and the new emphasis laid on Non Wood Forest Products justify the re evaluation of the role of SFM in delivering ecological goods and services from our forests

Sustainable Forestry, 2007 In the context of forest sustainability this book presents the issues related to both global climate change and conservation of biodiversity It highlights four methodologies and shows how they contribute in overcoming the ecological challenges facing our world The practical experience presented can be applied to the implementation of successful sustainable forestry policies

What in the World is Sustainable Forest Management?

Winifred B. Kessler, 1998 Sustainable Forest Management Julio J. Diez, Beatriz Martín-García, 2012-04-11 The concept of forest sustainability dates from centuries ago although the understanding of sustainable forest management SFM as an instrument that harmonizes ecological and socio economic concerns is relatively new The change in perspective occurred at the beginning of the 1990s in response to an increased awareness of the deterioration of the environment in particular of the alarming loss of forest resources The book collects original case studies from 12 different countries in four continents Africa America Asia and Europe These studies represent a wide variation of experiences from developing and developed countries and should clarify the current status of SFM worldwide and the problems associated with its implementation Instant Insights: Sustainable forest management Prof Francis E. Putz, Dr Ian D. Thompson, Prof. Philip J. Burton, Dr James Sandom, Dr Paolo Omar Cerutti, Dr Robert Nasi, Dr Yamina Micaela Rosas, Dr Pablo Luis Peri, Dr Héctor Bahamonde, Dr Juan Manuel Cellini, Dr Marcelo Daniel Barrera, Dr Alejandro Huertas Herrera, Dr María Vanessa Lencinas, Dr Guillermo Martínez Pastur, 2022-06-14 This collection features five peer reviewed literature reviews on sustainable forest management The first chapter discusses the varying definitions of sustainable forest management SFM in tropical landscapes as well as the trade offs associated with SFM The chapter also reviews the spatial scales of assessing SFM and explores expanding the scope of SFM from individual strands to forested landscapes The second chapter provides a comprehensive review of the current research undertaken in sustainable forestry It considers the concept and evolution of sustainable forestry and the challenges which arise as a result of implementing SFM practices The third chapter reviews the role and impact of forest certification schemes in the achievement of SFM The chapter summarises the wealth of research available on the development of forest certification and how individual elements can be optimised to further improve the model The fourth chapter discusses the recent history and implementation challenges of SFM across the Congo Basin including logging concessions land zones and the processes and institutions required to implement effective SFM policies The final chapter analyses the potential trade offs between ecosystem services and biodiversity in the southern Patagonian forests The chapter explores the implementation of SFM as a strategy to mitigate these trade offs at a landscape level

Sustainable Forest Management, Biodiversity, and Livelihoods Tim Christophersen, 2009 Ecological and Silvicultural Strategies for Sustainable Forest Management T. Fujimori, 2001-10-08 Recognizing the increased interest in forest management world wide this book addresses the current knowledge gap by defining sustainable forest management clarifying methods by which ecological knowledge can be applied and how traditional silvicultural methods can be improved Sustainable forest management involves the enhancement of various aspects of forest functions such as conservation of biodiversity conservation of soil and water resources contribution to the global carbon cycle as well as wood production To establish ecological and silvicultural theories to enhance these functions harmoniously recognizing the relationship between stand structures and their functions is essential This volume presents target stand structures for aimed forest functions in relation to stand development stages as well as ecological and silvicultural methods to lead and maintain them Ecological and silvicultural strategies are discussed both on stand and landscape levels and from local to international levels in temperate and boreal forest zones

The Sustainable Forestry Handbook Neil Judd, Sophie Higman, James Mayers, Stephen Bass, Ruth Nussbaum, 2013-06-17 The Sustainable Forestry Handbook is widely considered to be the essential aid to understanding and implementing sustainable forest management Providing a clear and concise guide to the practicalities of implementing international standards for sustainable forest management this fully updated second edition covers new Forest Stewardship Council requirements High Conservation Value Forests clearer requirements on pesticides and developments in policy and forest governance Aimed at forest managers and employing extensive cross referencing and easy to understand illustrations this highly practical handbook explains in clear terms what the standards require forest managers to do and how they might go about implementing them

Sustainable forest management, 2015 Instant Insights: Sustainable Forest Management Francis E. Putz, Ian D. Thompson, Philip J. Burton, James Sandom, Paolo Omar Cerutti, Robert Nasi, Yamina Micaela Rosas, Pablo Luis Peri, Héctor Bahamonde, Juan Manuel Cellini, Marcelo Daniel Barrera, Alejandro Huertas Herrera, María Vanessa Lencinas, Guillermo Martínez Pastur, 2022-06-14 This collection features five peer reviewed literature reviews on sustainable forest management The first chapter discusses the varying definitions of sustainable forest management SFM in tropical landscapes as well as the trade offs associated with SFM The chapter also reviews the spatial scales of assessing SFM and explores expanding the scope of SFM from individual strands to forested landscapes The second chapter provides a comprehensive review of the current research undertaken in sustainable forestry It considers the concept and evolution of sustainable forestry and the challenges which arise as a result of implementing SFM practices The third chapter reviews the role and impact of forest certification schemes in the achievement of SFM The chapter summarises the wealth of research available on the development of forest certification and how individual elements can be optimised to further improve the model The fourth chapter discusses the recent history and implementation challenges of SFM across the Congo Basin including logging concessions land zones and the processes and institutions required to implement effective SFM policies The final chapter analyses the potential trade offs between ecosystem services and biodiversity in the southern Patagonian forests The chapter explores the implementation of SFM as a strategy to mitigate these trade offs at a landscape level What is an Instant Insight An Instant Insight gives you immediate access to key research on a topic allowing you to get right to the heart of a subject in an instant and empowering you to contribute to sustainable agriculture

Achieving sustainable management of boreal and temperate forests Dr John A. Stanturf, 2019-11-26 Focuses on advances in understanding forest ecophysiology which underpin good management including mechanisms of root and canopy development Explores the key challenges in ensuring forest management is consistent with forest ecosystem services particularly managing the transition from monocultures to complex stands Highlights ways of diversifying forest products including novel uses of timber biomass non timber products and recreational services

People, Forests, and Sustainability Joint FAO/ECE/ILO Committee on Forest Technology, Management, and Training, 1997 Covers many of the important socio economic issues of the management of forests in Europe

Criteria and Indicators for Sustainable Forest Management Robert John Raison, Alan Gordon Brown, David W. Flinn, 2001-01-01 The book contains the peer reviewed revised and edited invited keynote overview and review papers presented at a IUFRO CIFOR FAO conference for each of the seven generic sustainability criteria for forest management The sustainability criteria covered are i social and economic functions and conditions ii legal and institutional frameworks iii productive capacity iv ecosystem health and vitality v soil and water protection vi global carbon cycles and vii biological diversity Criteria and indicators C ii providing a tool for reporting at a range of levels on the state and trend in condition of forests iii when forming part of an environmental management system providing a way of assessing progress against management objectives and thus supporting adaptive forest management and iv providing an important plank for the certification of forests as sustainability management and the associated green labelling of forest products

Forests in Landscapes Stewart Maginnis, Jeffrey A Sayer, 2013-06-17 At last a really useful book telling us how all the rhetoric about ecosystem approaches and sustainable forest management is being translated into practical solutions on the ground

CLAUDE MARTIN WWF INTERNATIONAL For too long foresters have seen forests as logs waiting to be turned into something useful This book demonstrates that forests in fact have multiple values and managing them as ecosystems will bring more benefits to a greater cross section of the public

JEFFREY A MCNEELY CHIEF SCIENTIST IUCN This book demonstrates that ecosystem approaches and sustainable forest management are neither alternative methods of forest management nor are they simply complicated ways of saying the same thing They are both emerging concepts for more integrated and holistic ways of managing forests within larger landscapes in ways that optimize benefits to all stakeholders ACHIM STEINER AND IAN JOHNSON FROM THE FOREWORD Recent innovations in Sustainable Forest Management and Ecosystem Approaches are resulting in forests increasingly being managed as part of the broader social ecological systems in which they exist Forests in Landscapes reviews changes that have occurred in forest management in recent decades Case studies from Europe Canada the United States Russia Australia the Congo and Central America provide a wealth of international examples of innovative practices Cross cutting chapters examine the political ecology and economics of forest management and review the information needs and the use and misuse of criteria and indicators to achieve broad societal goals for forests A concluding chapter draws out the key lessons of changes in forest management in recent decades and sets out some thoughts for the future This book is a must read for practitioners researchers and policy makers concerned with forests and land use It contains lessons for all those concerned with forests as sources of people s livelihoods and as part of rural landscapes Published with IUCN and PROFOR Sustainable Forest Management and Global Climate Change M. H. I. Dore, Ruben Guevara, 2000 Ironically the threat of global warming damage provides us with one of the most powerful arguments for avoiding the worst excesses of another global problem deforestation Dore and Guevara have assembled a very impressive set of essays that show just how important our forests are as carbon stores and sinks Let us hope someone is listening David Pearce University College London UK Global carbon emissions from the burning of fossil fuels seem destined to rise with adverse consequences for global warming and for sea level rise This book explores how and to what extent conservation and re growth of tropical forests can ameliorate this problem as well as placing economic values on such strategies Individual contributions draw on the Americas experience to examine biophysical aspects of forestry relevant to sustainability evaluate the economics of forest retention giving particular attention to non market values and assess forest policies in terms of their impacts on environmental conservation a readable holistic book accessible to a wide audience of economists non economists and policymakers highlighting a major problem which refuses to go away Clem Tisdell University of Queensland Australia The UN Framework Convention on Climate Change recognises that in the formulation of a global strategy for reducing global emissions of carbon the main factor in global warming forests could play an important role This book highlights that role and demonstrates how the forests of the world may be harvested judiciously and sustainably The authors argue that the forests are more than just a source of timber and wood they discuss the role that forests play in reducing global warming in preventing soil erosion and in helping to minimise the loss of biodiversity Drawing on the expertise of contributors associated with the analysis of forests this book is an in depth and fascinating discussion as well as a policy guide for the sustainable management of forests Achieving the Sustainable Management of Forests Alastair I. Fraser, 2019 This book discusses the reality of implementing sustainable forest management measures Rather than simply offering theoretical descriptions the book comprehensively details how sustainably managed forests can only be achieved through the cooperation and support of foresters politicians business leaders local communities consumers of forest based goods and services and the general public The book also aims to raise public awareness of the factors involved in attaining the true sustainability of forest management and the consequences of failing to do so as well as the current issues facing sustainable forest management such as land ownership and land use rights political corruption environmental stressors and economic pressure In 17 chapters the book will appeal to academics and teachers in forestry and related areas government practitioners development agencies and NGOs
