Silk and Tea in the North Hanna Hodacs, 2016-05-17 This book links the trade of the Danish and Swedish East India companies to the British taste for tea a Scandinavian craving for colourful Chinese silk textiles import substitutions schemes and natural history in the eighteenth century It is a global history exploring the exchange of silver for goods in Canton It is also a European history studying the wholesale market for Asian goods in Gothenburg and Copenhagen the formation of taste and the impact of fashion in the blending of tea and the assortments of colours on wrought silk destined for markets across Europe Linking material history to political economy and the histories of science this book ends on the threshold of the nineteenth century the rise of the second British Empire in Asia and the creation of synthetic dyes in Europe Goods from the East, 1600-1800 Maxine Berg, Felicia Gottmann, Hanna Hodacs, Chris Nierstrasz, 2015-07-13 Goods from the East focuses on the fine product trade s first Global Age how products were made marketed and distributed between Asia and Europe between 1600 and 1800 It brings together established scholars as well as new to provide a full comparative and connective study of this trade Irish and Scottish Mercantile Networks in Europe and Overseas in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries David Dickson, Jan Parmentier, Jane H. Ohlmeyer, 2007 The contributions in this collection of essays make an important step in reconstructing the history of the Irish and Scottish mercantile diasporas in the 17th and 18th centuries Svenska ostindiska kompanierna, 1731-1813 Sven T. Kjellberg, 1975 Sammandrag p engelska f r kapitel V XV The Private Side of the Canton Trade, 1700-1840 Paul A. Van Dyke, Susan E. Schopp, 2018-03-13 It is not often recognized that China was one of the few places in the early modern world where all merchants had equal access to the market This study shows that private traders regardless of the volume of their trade were granted the same privileges in Canton as the large East India companies All of these companies relied to some extent on private capital to finance their operations Without the investments from individuals the trade with China would have been greatly hindered Competitors large and small traded alongside each other while enemies traded alongside enemies Buddhists Muslims Catholics Protestants Parsees Armenians Hindus and others lived and worked within the small area in the western suburbs of Canton designated for foreigners Cantonese shopkeepers were not allowed to discriminate against any foreign traders In fact the shopkeepers were generally working in a competitive environment providing customer oriented service that generated goodwill friendship and trust These contributed to the growth of the trade as a whole While many private traders were involved in smuggling opium others such as Nathan Dunn were much opposed to it The case studies in this volume demonstrate that fortunes could be made in China by trading in legitimate items just as successfully as in illegitimate ones which tellingly suggests that the rapid spread of opium smuggling in China could be a result of inadequate rather than excessive regulation by the Qing government For this absorbing book Van Dyke and Schopp have convened excellent scholars junior and senior to throw new light on the foreign merchants outside the East India companies who shaped China s engagement with the world at least as much as the companies men did if not more The slumbering field of foreign trade in Qing China has come back to life Timothy Brook University of British Columbia Much scholarship on the China trade has focused on the activities of the vast state sponsored companies This book flips the script Now we know that right under the noses of those economic behemoths smaller private traders from Europe America and China were quietly reshaping the trade with their innovation networking grit and dreams John R Haddad The Pennsylvania State University

This House Is Not a Home: European Everyday Life in Canton and Macao 1730-1830 Lisa Hellman, 2018-10-16 Lisa Hellman offers the first study of European everyday life in Canton and Macao How foreigners could live communicate move around even whom they could interact with were all things strictly regulated by the Chinese authorities The Europeans sometimes adapted to and sometimes subverted these rules Focusing on this conditional domesticity shows the importance of gender relations especially the construction of masculinity Using the Swedish East India Company a minor European actor in an expanding Asian empire as a point of entry highlights the multiplicity of actors taking part in local negotiations of power The European attempts at making a home in China contributes to a global turn in everyday history but also to an everyday turn in global history

Daily Lives and Daily Routines in the Long Eighteenth Century Gudrun Andersson, Jon Stobart, 2021-08-12 This book explores the ways in which the lives and routines of a wide range of people across different parts of Europe and the wider world were structured and played out through everyday practices It focuses on the detail of individual lives and how these were shaped by spaces and places by movement and material culture both the buildings they occupied and the objects they used in their everyday lives Drawing on original research by a range of established and emerging scholars each chapter peers into the lives of people from various social groups as they went about their daily lives from citizens on the streets to aristocrats at home in their country houses and from the urban elite at leisure to seamen on board ships bound for the East Indies For all these people daily routines were important in structuring their lives giving them a rhythm that was knowable and meaningful in its temporal regularity be that daily weekly or seasonal So too were their everyday encounters and relationships with other people within and beyond the home these shaped their practices movements and identities and thus served to mould society in a broader sense

Sino-French Trade at Canton, 1698-1842 Susan E. Schopp, 2020-11-02 Sino French Trade at Canton 1698 1842 presents a rare and lively view of the French experience at Canton and calls for a reappraisal of France's role in that trade France was one of the two most important Western powers in the eighteenth century and was home to one of the three major European East India companies Yet the nation is woefully underrepresented in Canton trade scholarship Susan E Schopp rescues the French from the sidelines showing that they exerted a presence that though closely watched by their rivals is today largely unrecognized Their contributions were diverse ranging from finding new sea routes to inspiring the renovation of Hongfaades Consequently to ignore the French or to dismiss them as simply also-rans results in a skewed perception of the Canton system Schopp also demonstrates that while the most distinctive aspect of the French model of company trade was the dominant role of the state indeed the French East India Company has been memorably described as a Versailles of trade this did not rule out a place for legitimate and sometimes surprising participation by the private sector On the contrary France s commercial relations with China were inaugurated by private traders and the popularity of the Canton trade spurred the eventual demise of the company model Backed up by extensive archival work Schopp s work demonstrates a remarkable understanding of the Sino European trade and her book reveals an unparalleled passion for the role of seamanship in history It is shocking how little has been written in any language about French trade in China so this excellent book fills a tremendous need It has the potential to become a classic monograph of lasting significance an outstanding work that will make a strong imprint on the historiography Tonio Andrade Emory University Schopp s valuable study shows that the French ought not to be considered also rans in European trade with China The French way was in fact a distinctive model of European trade with China one different from that of the better known English East India Company The author s comprehensive research takes the reader into the material history of the French trading vessels the hong and the personnel involved in the trade Robert Aldrich University of Sydney

Methods in World History Arne Jarrick, Janken Myrdal, Maria Wallenberg Bondesson, 2016-01-07 Methods in World History is the first international volume that systematically addresses a number of methodological problems specific to the field of World History Prompted by a lack of applicable works the authors advocate a considerable sharpening of the tools used within the discipline Theories constructed on poor foundations run an obvious risk of reinforcing flawed assumptions and of propping up other more ideological constructions The dedicated critical approach outlined in this volume helps to mitigate such risks Each essay addresses a particular issue discussing its problems giving practical examples and offering solutions and ways of overcoming the difficulties involved The perspectives are varied the criticism focussed and a common theme of coalescence is maintained throughout This unique anthology will be of great use to advanced scholars of World History and to students entering the field for the first time
