Household Archaeology in Ancient Israel and Beyond Assaf Yasur-Landau, Jennie R. Ebeling, Laura B. Mazow, 2013-02-06 Despite the large number of well preserved domestic contexts in Bronze and Iron Age sites household archaeology has not been a common approach to studying the material culture of Ancient Israel Until recently the dictates of Biblical Archaeology led to a narrow set of questions that ignored issues such as gender status and production within the household The present volume which grew out of a session at the 2008 Annual Meeting of the American Schools of Oriental Research attempts to redress this issue The seventeen papers herein reflect innovative viewpoints on the theory and praxis of household archaeology in this region The next step in household research is presented here with the use of tailor made data collection strategies designed to answer specific questions posed by household archaeology The neglect of households and the archaeology of the activities of its members are ambitiously attended to in this volume Its exceptional breadth of various modes of inquiry coupled with the application thereof justifies the household as a topic of discussion I would highly recommend this book for institutions libraries scholars and students interested in any aspect of daily life in the southern Levant and I very much look forward to the future research projects it will inspire Cynthia Shafer Elliot William Jessup University as a whole the work is impressive and most contributions are commendable for their sophistication in engaging interdisciplinary research in order to understand the nature and function of households in ancient Israel and surrounding areas Carol Meyers Duke University

Family and Household Religion Rainer Albertz, Beth Alpert Nakhai, Saul M. Olyan, Rüdiger Schmitt, 2014-06-06 This volume is the most recent collective contribution of a group of biblical scholars and archaeologists who are engaged in an ongoing debate about the nature of family and household religion in ancient Israel and its environment It is intended to complement the volume Household and Family Religion in Antiquity edited by John Bodel and Saul M Olyan which grew out of a conference held at Brown University in 2005 on household and family religion in the ancient Mediterranean world with an emphasis on cross cultural comparison Several meetings after the Brown conference carried the theme forward and a fourth meeting at Westf lische Wilhelms Universit t M nster in April 2009 emphasized theoretical and methodological challenges facing scholars of household and family religion e g the conceptualization of family household religion the problem of identifying pertinent artifacts and the difficulties inherent in using texts together with material evidence This volume is a direct outgrowth of the M nster meeting For both the meeting and the volume the goal was to bring together a group of specialists in biblical studies epigraphy and archaeology who would utilize a variety of humanistic and social scientific approaches to the data and would also be willing to engage in dialogue and debate during the conference in M nster there was much vigorous intellectual engagement The essays published here reflect the energy of that conference and will contribute both individually and collectively to the advancement of our knowledge of Israelite family and household religion
