Afterlife of Swedish Biograph Jan Olsson, 2022-12-13 Sweden's early film industry was dominated by Swedish Biograph Svenska Biografteatern home to star directors like Victor Sjöström and Mauritz Stiller It is nostalgically remembered as the generative site of a nascent national artform encapsulating a quintessentially Nordic aesthetic the epicenter of Sweden's cinematic Golden Age In The Life and Afterlife of Swedish Biograph veteran film scholar Jan Olsson takes a hard look at this established romanticized narrative and offers a far more complete complex and nuanced story Nearly all of the studio's original negatives were destroyed in an explosion in 1941 but Olsson's comprehensive archival research shows how the company operated in a commercial international arena and how it was influenced not just by Nordic aesthetics or individual genius but also by foreign audiences expectations technological demands Hollywood innovations and the gritty back and forth between economic pressures government interference and artistic desires Olsson's focus is wide encompassing the studio's production practices business affairs and cinematographic conventions as well as the latter day archival efforts that both preserved and obscured parts of Swedish Biograph's story helping construct the company's rosy legacy The result is a necessary rewrite to Swedish film historiography and a far fuller picture of a canonical film studio Turner Classic Movies presents a collection of original essays that explore one of the world's oldest regional cinemas from its origins to the present day. Offers a comprehensive transnational and regional account of Nordic cinema from its origins to the present day. Features original contributions from more than two dozen international film scholars based in the Nordic countries, the United States, Canada, Scotland, and Hong Kong. Covers a wide range of topics on the distinctive evolution of Nordic cinema, including the silent Golden Age, Nordic film policy models and their influence, audiences and cinephilia, Nordic film training and indigenous S-mi cinema. Considers Nordic cinema's engagement with global audiences through coverage of such topics as Dogme 95, the avant-garde filmmaking movement begun by Danish directors Lars von Trier and Thomas Vinterberg, and the global marketing and distribution of Nordic horror and Nordic noir. Offers fresh investigations of the work of global auteurs such as Carl Th. Dreyer, Ingmar Bergman, Lars von Trier, Aki Kaurismäki, and Roy Andersson. Includes essays on Danish and Swedish television dramas, Finland's eco-documentary film production, the emerging tradition of Icelandic cinema, the changing dynamics of Scandinavian porn, and many more.

Nordic Film Cultures and Cinemas of Elsewhere Westerstahl Anna Westerstahl, 2019-09-27 Nordic Film Cultures and Cinemas of Elsewhere introduces a new concept to Nordic film studies as well as to other small national, transnational, and world cinema traditions. Examining overlooked elsewhere, the book presents Nordic cinemas as international, cosmopolitan, diasporic, and geographically dispersed from their beginnings in the early silent period to their present 21st-century dynamics. Exploring both canonical works by directors like Ingmar Bergman and Lars von Trier as well as a wide range of unknown or overlooked narratives of movement, synthesis, and resistance, the book offers a new model of inquiry into a multi-varied Scandinavian cultural lineage and into small nation and pan-regional world cinemas.

Canyon Cinema Scott MacDonald, 2008-01-02 Bringing alive a remarkable moment in American cultural history, Scott MacDonald tells the colorful story of how a small backyard organization in the San Francisco Bay Area emerged in the 1960s and evolved to become a major force in the development of independent cinema. Drawing from extensive conversations with men and women crucial to Canyon Cinema from its newsletter Canyon Cinemanews and from other key sources, MacDonald offers a lively chronicle of the life and times of this influential, idiosyncratic film exhibition and distribution collective. His book features many primary documents that are as engaging and relevant now as they were when originally published, including essays, poetry, experimental writing, and drawings.

Historical Dictionary of Scandinavian Cinema John Sundholm, Isak Thorsen, Lars Gustaf Andersson, Olof Hedling, Gunnar Iversen, Birgir Thor Møller, 2012-09-20 Although relatively small, the northern countries of Scandinavia have made a disproportionately large contribution to world cinema. Indeed, some of their films are among the best known of all times, including The Seventh Seal, Dancer in the Dark, and The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo. And Scandinavian directors are also among the best known, just to mention Ingmar Bergman and Lars von Trier. But there is much more to the cinema of Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland, and Iceland than that, and this book shows us what they have been accomplishing over more than a century from the beginnings of cinema until the present The Historical Dictionary of Scandinavian Cinema shows just how long and busy this history has been in the chronology starting in 1896 The introduction then describes the situation in each one of the component countries all of which approached and developed the field in a similar but also slightly different manner The dictionary section with over 400 substantial entries looks at the situation in greater detail with over 400 substantial entries on major actors directors and others significant films various genres and themes and subjects such as animation ethnicity migration and censorship Given its contribution to world cinema it is good to finally have an encyclopedia like this which can meet the interests of the scholar and researcher but also the movie fan The Film Hugo Münsterberg, Richard Griffith, 2004-01-01 In 1916 an eminent psychologist recorded his impressions of the fledgling film industry His penetrating and prescient observations foretold the most modern developments of the cinematic art and his classic survey The Film A Psychological Study remains a text of enduring relevance to movie historians as well as students of film and psychology Ranging from considerations of the viewer's perception of on screen depth and motion to examinations of the cinema's distinguishing and unique characteristics as an art form this study arrives at strikingly modern conclusions about movies and their psychological values

Swedish Cinema and the Sexual Revolution Elisabet Björklund, Maria Larsson, 2016-07-13 Swedish cinema became recognized for daring representations of sexuality with such films as One Summer of Happiness 1951 The Silence 1963 I Am Curious Yellow 1967 and a wave of sex films in the late 1960s and 1970s The association between Swedish film and sexuality shows up frequently in popular culture From Taxi Driver 1976 to Mad Men 2007 2015 dirty Swedish movie references abound Yet the connection has attracted little critical attention In this collection of new essays Swedish and American scholars go beyond popular misconceptions to explore the origins influences and reception of sexuality in Swedish cinema during the sexual revolution on both sides of the Atlantic A broad range of topics are covered from analyses of key films to a behind the scenes study of the Swedish Film Institute which played a significant role in opposing Swedish film censorship

Classical Myth in Four Films of Alfred Hitchcock Mark William Padilla, 2016-09-30 Classical Myth in Four Films of Alfred Hitchcock presents an original study of Alfred Hitchcock by considering how his classics informed London upbringing marks some of his films The Catholic and Irish English Hitchcock 1899 1980 was born to a mercantile family and attended a Jesuit college preparatory whose curriculum featured Latin and classical humanities An important expression of Edwardian culture at large was an appreciation for classical ideas texts images and myth Mark Padilla traces the ways that Hitchcock's films convey mythical themes patterns and symbols though they do not overtly reference them Hitchcock was a modernist who used myth in unconscious ways as he sought to tell effective stories in the film medium This book treats four representative films each from a different decade of his early career The first two movies were produced in London The Farmer's Wife 1928 and The Man Who Knew Too Much 1934 the second two in Hollywood Rebecca 1940 and Strangers on a Train 1951 In close readings of these movies Padilla discusses myths and literary texts such as the Judgment of Paris The Homeric Hymn to Demeter Aristophanes's Frogs Apuleius's tale Cupid and Psyche Homer's Odyssey and The Homeric Hymn to Hermes Additionally many Olympian deities and heroes have archetypal resonances in the films in question Padilla also presents a new reading of Hitchcock's circumstances as he entered film work in 1920 and theorizes why and how the films may be viewed as an expression of the classical tradition and of classical reception This new and important contribution to the field of classical reception in the cinema will be of great value to classicists film scholars and general readers interested in these topics
