role throughout his career creating a poetic universe that draws on diverse mythic cycles from Greco Roman to Irish and Norse to Native American In doing so this collection is in dialogue with recent work on Heaney s engagement with myth However it is unique in its wide ranging perspective extending beyond Ancient and Classical influences In its focus on Heaney s personal metamorphosis of several mythic cycles this collection reveals more fully the poet s unique approach to mythmaking from his engagement with the act of translation to transnational influences on his work and from his poetic transformations to the poetry s boundary crossing transitions Combining the work of established Heaney scholars with the perspectives of early career researchers this collection contains a wealth of original scholarship that reveals Heaney s expansive mythic mind Mythmaking an act for which Heaney has faced severe criticism is reconsidered by all contributors prompting multifaceted and nuanced readings of the poet s work

Evaluation and

Translation Carol Maier,2014-04-23 The definition of value or quality with respect to work in translation has historically been a particularly vexed issue Today however the growing demand for translations in such fields as technology and business and the increased scrutiny of translators work by scholars in many disciplines is giving rise to a need for more nuanced more specialized and more explicit methods of determining value Some refer to this determination as evaluation others use the term assessment Either way the question is one of measurement and judgement which are always unavoidably subjective and frequently rest on criteria that are not overtly expressed This means that devising more complex evaluative practices involves not only quantitative techniques but also an exploration of the attitudes preferences or individual values on which criteria are established Intended as an interrogation and a critique that can serve to prompt a more thorough and open consideration of evaluative criteria this special issue of The Translator offers examinations of diverse evaluative practices and contains both empirical and hermeneutic work Topics addressed include the evaluation of student translations using more up to date and positive methods such as those employed in corpus studies the translation of non standard language translation into the second language terminology the application of theoretical criteria to practice a social textual perspective and the reviewing of literary translations in the press In addition reviews by a number of literary translators discuss specific translations both into and out of English

Modern Irish and Scottish Literature Richard Alan Barlow, Richard Barlow,2023

Modern Irish and Scottish Literature Connections Contrasts Celticisms explores the ways Irish and Scottish literatures have influenced each other from the 1760s onwards Although an early form of Celticism disappeared with the demise of the Celtic Revivals of Ireland and Scotland the Celtic world and the Celtic temperament remained key themes in central texts of Irish and Scottish literature well into the twentieth century Richard Barlow examines the emergence development and transformation of

Celticism within Irish and Scottish writing and identifies key connections between modern Irish and Scottish authors and texts By reading works from figures such as James Macpherson Walter Scott Sydney Owenson Augusta Gregory W B Yeats Fiona Macleod James Joyce Samuel Beckett Hugh MacDiarmid Sorley MacLean and Seamus Heaney in their political and cultural contexts Barlow provides a new account of the characteristics and phases of literary Celticism within Romanticism Modernism and beyond Seamus Heaney's Regions Richard Rankin Russell,2014-06-30 Regional voices from England Ireland and Scotland inspired Seamus Heaney the 1995 Nobel prize winner to become a poet and his home region of Northern Ireland provided the subject matter for much of his poetry In his work Heaney explored recorded and preserved both the disappearing agrarian life of his origins and the dramatic rise of sectarianism and the subsequent outbreak of the Northern Irish Troubles beginning in the late 1960s At the same time Heaney consistently imagined a new region of Northern Ireland where the conflicts that have long beset it and by extension the relationship between Ireland and the United Kingdom might be synthesized and resolved Finally there is a third region Heaney committed himself to explore and map the spirit region that world beyond our ken In Seamus Heaney s Regions Richard Rankin Russell argues that Heaney s regions the first geographic historical political cultural linguistic the second a future where peace even reconciliation might one day flourish the third the life beyond this one offer the best entrance into and a unified understanding of Heaney s body of work in poetry prose translations and drama As Russell shows Heaney believed in the power of ideas and the texts representing them to begin resolving historical divisions For Russell Heaney s regionalist poetry contains a Hegelian synthesis view of history that imagines potential resolutions to the conflicts that have plagued Ireland and Northern Ireland for centuries Drawing on extensive archival and primary material by the poet Seamus Heaney s Regions examines Heaney s work from before his first published poetry volume Death of a Naturalist in 1966 to his most recent volume the elegiac Human Chain in 2010 to provide the most comprehensive treatment of the poet s work to date Seamus Heaney's Gifts Henry Hart,2024-12-13 The fact of the matter Seamus Heaney said in a 1997 interview with the Paris Review is that the most unexpected and miraculous thing in my life was the arrival in it of poetry Throughout his career Heaney who received the 1995 Nobel Prize in Literature maintained that poetry came to him from a mysterious source like a gift of grace He also believed that the recipient of this sort of boon had an ethical obligation to share it with others Seamus Heaney s Gifts by the noted scholar and poet Henry Hart offers the first comprehensive examination of Heaney s preoccupation with gifts and gift exchange Drawing on extensive research in Heaney s papers as well as three decades of correspondence with the poet Hart presents a richly detailed study of Heaney s life and work that foregrounds the Irishman s commitment to the vocation of poetry as a public art to be shared with audiences and readers around the world Heaney traced his devotion to gifts back to the actual present of a Conway Stewart fountain pen that his parents gave him at the age of twelve when he left his family farm in Northern Ireland to attend a private Catholic secondary school in Londonderry He commemorated this gift in Digging the first poem in his first book and in two poems he wrote near the end of his life The Conway Stewart and On the Gift of a Fountain Pen Friends and doctors had warned him that his endless globetrotting to give lectures and poetry readings had damaged his health Yet he felt obligated to share his talent with audiences around the world until his death in 2013 As Hart shows Heaney found his first models for gift giving in his rural community in Northern Ireland the Bible the rituals of the Catholic Church and the literature of mystical and mythical quests Blending careful research with evocative commentaries on the poet's work Seamus Heaney's Gifts explains his ideas about the artist's gift the necessity of gift exchange acts and the moral responsibility to share one's talents for the benefit of others Seamus Heaney J. Hall, A. Crowder, 2007-04-25 This volume of twelve essays aims to comprehensively represent the abundance and variety of both Heaney's writing and scholarship on Heaney's writing Attention is given not only to his poetry but also to his translations and his prose The essays foreground his internationalism and the complementary international interest in his writing Emerald Green Tim Wenzell, 2009-12-14 Emerald Green: An Ecocritical Study of Irish Literature analyzes a wide range of Irish literature whose themes tie into a reverence for the natural world of Ireland From an ecocritical perspective these works tied into an understanding of the landscape and particular aspects of nature attain a fresh new meaning and foster a more relevant reflection of Ireland's beautiful literary landscape The analysis begins with the first Irish writers the hermit poets and examines the ways in which the Irish hermit and saint were connected spiritually through both pagan and early Christian values to the natural world The book then examines Irish literature from the perspective of the deforested landscape and the landscapes of farmland divided property famine ruins and a threatening natural world Following the Famine the book moves on to explore the establishment of the pastoral dream in this loss of landscape and a reconnection to nature through the writers of the Irish Literary Renaissance From there the analysis shifts to the nature writing of Ireland's islands including nature and community on Achill Island storytelling on the Aran Islands exile in nature on Skellig Michael and the mythmaking of the Great Blasket Island Moving north and into the twentieth century Emerald Green focuses on four nature poets from Northern Ireland Patrick Kavanagh Louis MacNeice Seamus Heaney and Michael Longley all four are redeemed by nature through their returns to the rural landscape of Ireland's west coast The book concludes with an examination of modern Irish environmental writers and naturalist poets as well as journalists weighing in on current environmental concerns in Ireland Emerald Green concludes with an assessment of the future of nature in Ireland and how the significant reduction of this country's natural landscape will alter its literary landscape as well Poetry Of Seamus Heaney Elmer Andrews, 1988-07-26 Ireland's Gramophones Zan Cammack, 2021-08-10 Because gramophonic technology grew up alongside Ireland's progressively more outspoken and violent struggles for political autonomy and national stability Irish Modernism inherently links the gramophone to representations of these dramatic cultural upheavals Many key works of Irish literary modernism like those by James Joyce Elizabeth Bowen and Sean O'Casey depend upon the gramophone for their ability to record Irish cultural traumas both symbolically and literally during one of the country's most fraught developmental eras. In each work the gramophone testifies of its own complexity as a physical object and its multiform value in the artistic development of textual material. In each work too the object seems virtually self-placed less an aesthetic device than a thing belonging primordially to the text. The machine is also often an agent and counterpart to literary characters. Thus the gramophone points to a deeper connection between object and culture than we perceive if we consider it as only an image enhancement or instrument. This book examines the gramophone as an object that refuses to remain in the background of scenes in which it appears forcing us to confront its mnemonic heritage during a period of Irish history burdened with political and cultural turbulence. Seamus Heaney and East European Poetry in Translation Carmen Bugar, 2017-12-02

Poetry born of historical upheaval bears witness both to actual historical events and considerations of poetics. Under the duress of history the poet who is torn between lamentation and celebration seeks to achieve distance from his troubled times. Add to this a deep love for and commitment to the Irish and English poetic traditions and a strong desire to search for models outside his culture and you have the poetry of the Irish Nobel laureate Seamus Heaney 1939. In this study Carmen Bugar looks at how the poetry of Seamus Heaney born of the Troubles in Northern Ireland has encountered the historically tested imaginations of Czeslaw Milosz, Joseph Brodsky, Osip Mandelstam and Zbigniew Herbert as he aimed to fulfil a Horatian poetics, a poetry meant to both instruct and delight its readers. Carmen Bugar is the author of a collection of poems Crossing the Carpathians and a memoir Burying the Typewriter. Robert Frost and Northern Irish Poetry Rachel Buxton, 2004-05-27. In this incisive and highly readable study Rachel Buxton offers a much needed assessment of Frost's significance for Northern Irish poetry of the past half century. Drawing upon a diverse range of previously unpublished archival sources including juvenilia, correspondence and drafts of poems, Robert Frost and Northern Irish Poetry takes as its particular focus the triangular dynamic of Frost, Seamus Heaney and Paul Muldoon. Buxton explores the differing strengths which each Irish poet finds in Frost's work while Heaney is drawn primarily to the Frost persona and to the sound of sense, it is the studied slyness and wryness of the American's poetry, the complicating undertow which Muldoon values. This appraisal of Frost in a non-American context not only enables a fuller appreciation of Heaney's and Muldoon's poetry but also provides valuable insight into the nature of trans-national and trans-generational poetic influence. Engaging with the politics of Irish-American literary connections while providing a subtle analysis of the intertextual relationships between these three key twentieth-century poets, Robert Frost and Northern Irish Poetry is a pioneering work.
