ABSTRACT – We sought to answer which procedures have been used to train parents within the mental health field, how often the behavior skills training (BST), as well as its components, is used, and how effective such procedures are. In order to do so, a systematic literature review, using the Education Collection ProQuest database, was conducted. The search terms used were “behavior skills training”, “parents”, and its correlates in Portuguese. Papers published between 2010 and 2019 were analyzed, focusing on parent training procedures and their effects. Among the 28 analyzed papers, 4 of them used BST. The remaining studies used some of its components. Twenty-four studies were effective on changing parent behavior. Issues that still require more empirical investigation are discussed.

KEYWORDS: parents, behavior skills training, BST, systematic literature review.

Procedimentos de Treino de Pais no Âmbito da Saúde Mental: Uma Revisão Sistemática da Literatura

RESUMO – Buscou-se responder quais procedimentos têm sido utilizados para treinar pais no âmbito da saúde mental, qual a frequência do uso do treinamento de habilidades comportamentais e seus componentes, e qual a efetividade de tais procedimentos. Foi conduzida uma revisão sistemática utilizando-se a base Education Collection ProQuest. Termos de busca foram “behavior skills training” (BST) e “parents” e seus correlatos em português. Artigos publicados entre 2010 e 2019 foram analisados, com ênfase nos procedimentos de treino de pais e seus efeitos. Dentre os 28 artigos analisados, 4 usaram o BST. Os outros estudos usaram algum de seus componentes. Vinte e quatro estudos foram efetivos para mudar o comportamento dos pais. Discutem-se questões que ainda necessitam mais investigação empírica.

PALAVRAS-CHAVE: pais, treinamento de habilidades comportamentais, BST, revisão sistemática da literatura.

Parents have an undeniable influence over several aspects of the development of their children, including emotional and motor ones, as well as cognition, socialization, language, self-care, and academic performance (e.g., Fabiano et al., 2012). Research has shown that children who go through family instability and coercive parenting practices over their early years of life present an increased risk for emotional and behavioral difficulties (Bolsoni-Silva & Loureiro, 2020; Lobo et al., 2011).

Despite the parental influence on the child development, in fact, many parents have not played their co-responsibility roles, due to different reasons (Wagner et al., 2005). An example of such reasons comes from the interaction between work and family: many hours or negative experiences at work reduce, both, the amount and quality of interactions between parents and their children (Hartung & Hahlweg, 2011). Another example, perhaps even originated in the first one, includes, but is not limited to, outsourcing the care service
