T-34/76 Medium Tank 1941-45 Steven J. Zaloga,2013-08-20 The T 34 was the most influential tank design of World War 2 When first introduced into combat in the summer of 1941 it represented a revolutionary leap forward in tank design Its firepower armour protection and mobility were superior to that of any other medium tank of the period This superiority did not last long While the T 34 underwent a series of incremental improvements during 1943 it was being surpassed by new German tank designs most notably the Panther This title traces the life of the original T 34 through all its difficulties to eventual success T-34-85 vs M26 Pershing Steven J. Zaloga,2011-12-20 Using war time documents just revealed at the time Steven Zaloga sheds light on the crucial tank battles of the Korean War as the finest tanks of the rival superpowers battled for supremacy A hotly debated topic amongst tank buffs is of the relative merits of the Soviet and American tanks of World War II The Soviet equipped North Korean Peoples Army initially dominated the battlefield with the seemingly unstoppable T34 85 As US tank battalions hastily arrived throughout the late summer and early autumn of 1950 the M26 Pershing took the fight to North Korea with increasing success Featuring illustrations throughout this match up between the two titans of World War II on the battlefields of Korea is ideal for all armor enthusiasts SOVIET ARMoured FORCE , about the use of tanks in battle Little however has appeared about the gunnery systems that are at their core This book describes and examines the main gun systems of medium and heavy tanks from first use in 1916 in World War I to those fielded in numbers to the end of World War II in 1945 including tanks of the interwar period Specifically considered are guns of a caliber greater than 35 mm which have been deployed in numbers greater than 100 The emphasis is on guns mounted in turrets on heavier tracked armored fighting vehicles greater than 15 tonnes which were considered tanks There are though exceptions in that the naval 6 pounder guns in First World War British tanks as well as the 75 mm guns in French medium tanks of the same period all turretless are included The treatment of gun systems includes sighting and fire control equipment gun laying equipment mounts and the array of munitions fired as well as the actual gun including its barrel cradle breech firing mechanism sights and recoil system Related to this are issues of gun handling loading and unloading ammunition design and rates of fire Also examined are the maximum impulse and energy generated by firing some of the munitions available that must be absorbed by the gun recoil system

Storming the City Alec Wahlman, 2015-10-15 In an increasingly urbanized world urban terrain has become a greater factor in military operations Simultaneously advances in military technology have given military forces sharply increased capabilities The conflict comes from how urban terrain can negate or degrade many of those increased capabilities What happens when advanced weapons are used in a close range urban fight with an abundance of cover Storming the City explores these issues by analyzing the performance of the US Army and US Marine Corps in urban combat in four major urban battles of the mid twentieth century Aachen 1944 Manila 1945 Seoul 1950 and Hue 1968 Alec Wahlman assesses each battle using a similar framework of capability categories and separate chapters address urban warfare in American military thought In the four battles across a wide range of conditions American forces were ultimately successful in capturing each city because of two factors transferable competence and battlefield adaptation The preparations US forces made for warfare writ large proved generally applicable to urban warfare Battlefield adaptation a strong suit of American forces filled in where those overall preparations for combat needed fine tuning From World War Two to Vietnam however there was a gradual reduction in tactical performance in the four battles

Fighting for the Soviet Motherland Dmitriy Fedorovich Loza, 1998-01-01 The collapse of the Soviet Union has opened the history of the Red Army to the West providing a more complete picture of World War II Details of the struggle of Soviet forces against the Germans and Japanese can now be seen through the efforts of veterans such as Colonel Dmitriy Loza who draws on his own experience and that of acquaintances T-34-85 vs M26 Pershing Zaloga Steven J., 2012 Socialist Planning Michael Ellman, 2014-10-23 An overview of socialist planning that explains the underlying theory and its limitations also placing developments in their historical perspective Eyewitness Korea James Goulty, 2018-11-30 Today the Korean War of 1950 1953 is overshadowed by later twentieth century conflicts in Vietnam and the Middle East yet at the time it was the focus of international attention It threatened to lead to a third world war and although fought on a limited scale it still involved over a million men under UN command and even more on the Communist side It left the American and British troops who took part with a range of intense recollections that often marked them for the rest of their lives and it is these experiences that James Goulty draws on in this eyewitness history of the conflict He uses official documents letters diaries regimental histories memoirs oral histories and correspondence to show what the war was like for those who took part Their accounts vividly contrast the American and British experience as seen through the eyes of individual servicemen and they throw fresh light on the relations between the UN forces on their different attitudes tactics training and equipment and on the tensions that developed between them
