Nonhuman Photography Joanna Zylińska, 2024-07-02 A new philosophy of photography that goes beyond humanist concepts to consider imaging practices from which the human is absent as both subject and agent Today in the age of CCTV drones medical body scans and satellite images photography is increasingly decoupled from human agency and human vision In Nonhuman Photography Joanna Zylińska offers a new philosophy of photography going beyond the human centric view to consider imaging practices from which the human is absent Zylińska argues further that even those images produced by humans whether artists or amateurs entail a nonhuman mechanical element that is they involve the execution of technical and cultural algorithms that shape our image making devices as well as our viewing practices At the same time she notes photography is increasingly mobilized to document the precariousness of the human habitat and tasked with helping us imagine a better tomorrow With its conjoined human nonhuman agency and vision Zylińska claims photography functions as both a form of control and a life shaping force Zylińska explores the potential of photography for developing new modes of seeing and imagining and presents images from her own photographic project Active Perceptual Systems She also examines the challenges posed by digitization to established notions of art culture and the media In connecting biological extinction and technical obsolescence and discussing the parallels between photography and fossilization she proposes to understand photography as a light induced process of fossilization across media and across time scales

Daguerreotypes Lisa Saltzman, 2015-07-06 In the digital age photography confronts its future under the competing signs of ubiquity and obsolescence While technology has allowed amateurs and experts alike to create high quality photographs in the blink of an eye new electronic formats have severed the original photochemical link between image and subject At the same time recent cinematic photography has stretched the concept of photography and raised questions about its truth value as a documentary medium Despite this situation photography remains a stubbornly substantive form of evidence referenced by artists filmmakers and writers as a powerful emblem of truth photography has found its home in other media at precisely the moment of its own material demise By examining this idea of photography as articulated in literature film and the graphic novel Daguerreotypes demonstrates how photography secures identity for figures with an otherwise unstable sense of self Lisa Saltzman argues that in many modern works the photograph asserts itself as a guarantor of identity whether genuine or fabricated From Roland Barthes s Camera Lucida to Ridley Scott s Blade Runner W G Sebald s Austerlitz to Alison Bechdel s Fun Home we find traces of photography s fugitive subjects throughout contemporary culture Ultimately Daguerreotypes reveals how the photograph at once personal memento and material witness has inspired a range of modern artistic and critical practices

A Companion to Photography Stephen Bull, 2020-02-03 The study of photography has never been more important A look at today s digital world reveals that a greater number of photographs are being taken each day than at any other moment in history Countless photographs are disseminated instantly online and more and more photographic images are earning prominent positions and garnering record prices in the rarefied realm of top art galleries Reflecting this dramatic increase in all things photographic A Companion to Photography presents a comprehensive collection of original essays that explore a variety of key areas of current debate around the state of photography in the twenty first century Essays are grouped and organized in themed sections including photographic interpretation markets popular photography documents and fine art and provide comprehensive coverage of the subject Representing a diversity of approaches essays are written by both established and emerging photographers and scholars as well as various experts in their respective areas A Companion to Photography offers scholars and professional photographers alike an essential and up to date resource that brings the study of contemporary photography into clear focus

Wonder in Contemporary Artistic Practice Christian Mieves, Irene Brown, 2017-01-12 Wonder has an established link to the history and philosophy of science However there is little acknowledgement of the relationship between the visual arts and wonder This book presents a new perspective on this overlooked connection allowing a unique insight into the role of wonder in contemporary visual practice Artists curators and art theorists give accounts of their approach to wonder through the use of materials objects and ways of exhibiting These accounts not only raise issues of a particular relevance to the way in which we encounter our reality today but ask to what extent artists utilize the function of wonder purposely in their work

Theorizing Film Through Contemporary Art Jill Murphy, Laura Rascaroli, 2025-10-01 As the cinematic experience becomes subsumed into today s ubiquitous technologies of seeing contemporary artworks lift the cinematic out of the immateriality of the film screen and separate it into its physical components within the gallery space How to read these reformulations of the cinematic medium and their critique of what it is and has been In Theorizing Cinema Through Contemporary Art Expanding Cinema leading film theorists consider artworks that incorporate restage and re present cinema s configuration of the key categories of space experience presence absence production and consumption technology myth perception event and temporality so interrogating the creation appraisal and evolution of film theory as channeled through contemporary art This book takes film theory as a blueprint for the moving image and juxtaposes it with artworks that render cinema as a material object In the process it unfolds a complex relationship between a theory and a practice that have commonly been seen as virtually incompatible renewing our understanding of each and more to the point their interactions The Handbook of Photography Studies Gil

Memory nostalgia and melancholy have attracted considerable scholarly attention in recent decades Numerous critics of globalisation transnationalism and cosmopolitanism have posited an overwhelming feeling of homelessness not only among people who have been displaced from their original home lands but also among those who feel estranged from their places of origin due to rapid social change or environmental decline Arguably homesickness is prevalent in today s developed world and can be and sometimes indeed is felt even for times and places unrelated to someone s personal roots Memory has been mobilised to justify recent conflicts to question mainstream interpretations of past events or to demand compensation for the suffering of earlier generations Nostalgia has been employed as a utopia in reverse revealing more about our unattainable ideal present than about the elusive lost past it invokes A corollary of nostalgia in the late modern politics of loss melancholy has been a way of dis identifying from both the horrors of recent history and the growing insecurities of the present The volume raises complex questions related to the ways people have coped with displacement and time space compression arguably the two most manifest symptoms of late modernity How do we grapple with the traumatic experience of the loss of home What strategies do we use and what is their underlying politics How do they intersect with identity positions such as gender class and sexuality How might they contribute to the preservation of national cultures How has our understanding of home changed in a time of mobility and flow Spanning multiple Eurasian and Northern American cultural contexts the book is of interest to an international academic readership within the fields of cultural studies memory studies gender studies literature art performance film and media studies

Photography, Trace, and Trauma Margaret Iversen, 2017-02-27 Photography is often associated with the psychic effects of trauma the automatic nature of the process wide open camera lens and light sensitive film record chance details unnoticed by the photographer similar to what happens when a traumatic event bypasses consciousness and lodges deeply in the unconscious mind Photography Trace and Trauma takes a groundbreaking look at photographic art and works in other media that explore this important analogy Examining photography and film molds rubbings and more Margaret Iversen considers how these artistic processes can be understood as presenting or simulating a residue trace or index of a traumatic event These approaches which involve close physical contact or the short circuiting of artistic agency are favored by artists who wish to convey the disorienting effect and elusive character of trauma Informing the work of a number of contemporary artists including Tacita Dean Jasper Johns Mary Kelly Gabriel Orozco and Gerhard Richter the concept of the trace is shown to be vital for any account of the aesthetics of trauma it has left an indelible mark on the history of photography and art as a whole

Art + Archive Sara Callahan, 2022-01-25 Art Archive provides an in depth analysis of the connection between art and the archive at the turn of the twenty first century The book examines how the archive emerged in art writing in the mid 1990s and how its subsequent ubiquity can be understood in light of wider social technological philosophical and art historical conditions and concerns Deftly combining writing on archives from different disciplines with artistic practices the book clarifies the function and meaning of one of the most persistent artworld buzzwords of recent years shedding light on the conceptual and historical implications of the so called archival turn in contemporary art

The Art of Mechanical Reproduction Tamara Trodd, 2015-09-25 The Art of Mechanical Reproduction presents a striking new approach to how traditional art mediums painting sculpture and drawing changed in the twentieth century in response to photography film and other technologies Countering the modernist view that the medium provides advanced art with resistance against technological pressures Tamara Trodd argues that we should view art and its practices as imaginatively responding to the potential that artists glimpsed in mechanical reproduction putting art into dialogue with the commercial cultures of its time The Art of Mechanical Reproduction weaves a rich history of the experimental networks in which artists as diverse as Paul Klee Hans Bellmer Ellsworth Kelly Robert Smithson Gerhard Richter Chris Marker and Tacita Dean have worked and it shows for the first time how extensively technological innovations of the moment have affected their work Original and broad ranging The Art of Mechanical Reproduction challenges some of the most respected and entrenched criticism of the past several decades and allows us to think about these artists anew

Photography after Photography Abigail Solomon-Godeau, 2017-03-23 Presenting two decades of work by Abigail Solomon Godeau Photography after Photography is an inquiry into the circuits of power that shape photographic practice criticism and historiography As the boundaries that separate photography from other forms of artistic production are increasingly fluid Solomon Godeau a pioneering feminist and politically engaged critic argues that the relationships between photography culture gender and power demand renewed attention In her analyses of the photographic production of Cindy Sherman Robert Mapplethorpe Susan Meiselas Francesca Woodman and others Solomon Godeau refigures the disciplinary object of photography by considering these practices through an examination of the determinations of genre and gender as these shape the relations between photographers their images and their viewers Among her subjects are the 2006 Abu Ghraib prison photographs and the Cold War era exhibition The Family of Man insofar as these illustrate photography's embeddedness in social relations viewing relations and ideological formations

Formulations Andrew Witt, 2022-01-11 An investigation of mathematics as it was drawn encoded imagined and interpreted by architects on the eve of digitization in the mid twentieth century In Formulations Andrew Witt examines the visual methodological and cultural intersections between architecture and mathematics The linkages Witt explores involve not the mystic transcendence of numbers invoked throughout architectural history but rather architecture's encounters with a range of calculational systems techniques that architects inventively retooled for design Witt offers a catalog of mid twentieth century practices of mathematical drawing and calculation in design that preceded and anticipated digitization as well as an account of the formal compendia that became a cultural currency shared between modern mathematicians and modern architects Witt presents a series of extensively illustrated biographies of method episodes that chart the myriad ways in which mathematics particularly the mathematical notion of modeling and drawing was spliced into the creative practice of design These include early drawing machines that mechanized curvature the incorporation of geometric maquettes theorems made flesh into the toolbox of design the virtualization of buildings and landscapes through surveyed triangulation and photogrammetry formal and functional topology stereoscopic drawing the economic implications of cubic matrices and a strange synthesis of the technological mineral and biological crystallographic design Trained in both architecture and mathematics Witt uses mathematics as a lens through which to understand the relationship between architecture and a much broader set of sciences and visual techniques Through an intercultural exchange with other disciplines he argues architecture adapted not only the shapes and surfaces of mathematics but also its values and epistemic ideals Photography and Collaboration

Daniel Palmer,2020-09-14 Photography and Collaboration offers a fresh perspective on existing debates in art photography and on the act of photography in general Unlike conventional accounts that celebrate individual photographers and their personal visions this book investigates the idea that authorship in photography is often more complex and multiple than we imagine involving not only various forms of partnership between photographers but also an astonishing array of relationships with photographed subjects and viewers Thematic chapters explore the increasing prevalence of collaborative approaches to photography among a broad range of international artists from conceptual practices in the 1960s to the most recent digital manifestations Positioning contemporary work in a broader historical and theoretical context the book reveals that collaboration is an overlooked but essential dimension of the medium's development and potential Reparative Aesthetics

Susan Best,2016-10-20 By offering a new way of thinking about the role of politically engaged art Susan Best opens up a new aesthetic field reparative aesthetics The book identifies an innovative aesthetic on the part of women photographers from the southern hemisphere who against the dominant modes of criticality in political art look at how cultural production can be reparative The winner of the Art Association of Australia and New Zealand best book award in 2017 Reparative Aesthetics contributes an entirely new theory to the interdisciplinary fields of aesthetics affect studies feminist theory politics and photography Conceptually innovative and fiercely original this book will move us beyond old political and cultural stalemates and into new terrain for analysis and reflection Context and Narrative in Photography Maria Short,Sri-Kartini
