Taiwan Han-pi Chang,1997 Taiwan ,1996 Caesarism, Charisma and Fate Peter Baehr,2017-12-02 How do writers marginalized by the authoritarian state in which they live intervene in the political process They cannot do so directly because they are not politicians Other modes of engagement are possible however A writer may take up arms and become a revolutionary Or as Max Weber did he may try to influence politics by playing the role of constitutional advisor or by seeking to shape the dominant language in which his contemporaries think Weber sought to reconstitute the political and social vocabulary of his day Part I of Caesarism Charisma and Fate examines a great writer's political passions and the linguistic creativity they generated Specially it is an analysis of the manner in which Weber reshaped the nineteenth century idea of Caesarism a term traditionally associated with the authoritarian populism of Napoleon III and Bismarck and transmuted it into a concept that was either neutral or positive The coup de grace of this alchemy was to make Caesarism reappear as charisma In that transformation a highly contentious political concept suffused with disapproval and anxiety was naturalized into an ideal type of universal value free sociology Part II augments Weber's ideas for the modern age A recurrent preoccupation of Weber's writings was human fate a condition that evokes the pathos of choice the political meaning of death and the formation of national solidarity Peter Baehr marrying Weber and Durkheim fashions a new concept community of fate for sociological theory Communities of fate such as the Warsaw Ghetto or Hong Kong dealing with the Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome SARS crisis are embattled social sites in which people face the prospect of collective death They cohere because of an intense and broadly shared focus of attention on a common plight Weber's work helps us grasp the nature of such communities the mechanisms that produce them and not least their dramatic consequences Looking Through Taiwan Keelung Hong,Stephen O. Murray,2005-01-01 This analysis of a troubling chapter in American anthropology reveals what happens when anthropologists fail to make fundamental ethnic and political distinctions in their work The authors examine how Taiwanese realities have been represented and misrepresented in American social science literature Tolerance in World History Peter Stearns,2017-06-26 This relatively short book will work to connect different periods and a number of key regions to help clarify the record and the relationship between current tolerance patterns and those of the past Distinct Inheritances Hannes Grandits,Max-Planck-Institut für ethnologische Forschung,2003 This book explores the relationship between inheritance practices property systems and kinship It brings together contributions from family history demography and social anthropology in order to investigate the origins workings and implications of Europe's diverse inheritance systems The richness and antiquity of Europe's historical archives provide a unique opportunity for anthropologists and historians to develop a shared understanding of the interaction of economic demographic and social processes as they unfold over time p i Imagined Differences Günther Schlee,2002 This book addresses key concepts of modern anthropology like difference and identity in the light of ethnographic evidence from various local settings stretching from Morocco to Indonesia As the antagonistic and destructive aspects of social identification are also discussed the book is a contribution to conflict theory it provides elements of orientation in a world marked by a proliferation of ethnic movements and of nationalisms which become more narrow and more aggressive

Bernard Shaw's Bridges to Chinese Culture Kay Li, 2016-11-10 This book explores the cultural bridges connecting George Bernard Shaw and his contemporaries such as Charles Dickens and Arthur Miller to China Analyzing readings adaptations and connections of Shaw in China through the lens of Chinese culture Li details the negotiations between the focused and culturally specific standpoints of eastern and western culture while also investigating the simultaneously diffused multi focal and comprehensive perspectives that create strategic moments that favor cross cultural readings With sources ranging from Shaw s connections with his contemporaries in China to contemporary Chinese films and interpretations of Shaw in the digital space Li relates the global impact of not only what Chinese lenses can reveal about Shaw s world but how intercultural and interdisciplinary readings can shed new light on familiar and obscure works alike

In the Interest of Others John S. Ahlquist, Margaret Levi, 2013-09-08 A groundbreaking study of labor unions that advances a new theory of organizational leadership and governance In the Interest of Others develops a new theory of organizational leadership and governance to explain why some organizations expand their scope of action in ways that do not benefit their members directly John Ahlquist and Margaret Levi document eighty years of such activism by the International Longshore and Warehouse Union in the United States and the Waterside Workers Federation in Australia They systematically compare the ILWU and WWF to the Teamsters and the International Longshoremen s Association two American transport industry labor unions that actively discouraged the pursuit of political causes unrelated to their own economic interests Drawing on a wealth of original data Ahlquist and Levi show how activist organizations can profoundly transform the views of members about their political efficacy and the collective actions they are willing to contemplate They find that leaders who ask for support of projects without obvious material benefits must first demonstrate their ability to deliver the goods and services members expect These leaders must also build governance institutions that coordinate expectations about their objectives and the behavior of members In the Interest of Others reveals how activist labor unions expand the community of fate and provoke preferences that transcend the private interests of individual members Ahlquist and Levi then extend this logic to other membership organizations including religious groups political parties and the state itself Muslim Traditions and Modern Techniques of Power Armando Salvatore, 2001 This volume deals with historical and contemporary articulations of the relation of tension between the civilizing impetus of Muslim traditions and modern forms fields and techniques of power These techniques are associated with the process of state building as well as with the related constraints of disciplining normative cohesion control of the territory and monitored social differentiation The contributions conceptualize Muslim traditions as deriving their legitimacy authority as well as normative and organizing power from being embedded in the discourses and institutions of Islam which constitute one major center within world history by now also encompassing Muslim communities within Western societies

Negotiations of Taiwan's Identity Among Generations of Liuxuesheng (overseas Students) and Taiwanese Americans Robert Edmondson, 2009

Cultural, Ethnic, and Political Nationalism in Contemporary Taiwan J. Makeham, A. Hsiao, 2005-08-19 This volume analyzes what is arguably the single most important aspect of cultural and political change in Taiwan over the past quarter century the trend toward indigenization Focusing on the indigenization of politics and culture and its close connection with the identity politics of ethnicity and nationalism this volume is an attempt to map prominent contours of the indigenization paradigm as it has unfolded in Taiwan The opening chapters concern the origin and nature of the trend toward indigenization with its roots in the unique historical trajectory of politics and culture in Taiwan Subsequent chapters deal with responses and reactions to indigenization in a variety of social cultural and intellectual domains

The Globalization of Confucius and Confucianism Klaus Mühlhahn, Nathalie van Looy, 2012 The popularity of Confucianism is on the rise not only in China but also internationally Confucian values are praised as the universal way especially in the face of current political social and economic crises The philosopher's legacy has now endured for over 2 500 years and Confucian ideas have gained recognition as an Eastern alternative to Western concepts This return to China's very own tradition and values can be seen as symbolizing China's new self confidence This volume focuses on the resurgence of Confucianism in order to examine the role played by Confucian ideas in the present and the past as well as the potential future form of a new Confucian culture The articles range from the perception of Confucianism in Europe at the time of the Enlightenment to Neo Confucian debates and approaches Series Chinese History and Society Berliner China Hefte Vol 41

Transformation! Innovation? Christina Neder, Ines-Susanne Schilling, 2003 Public discourse on cultural identity was not possible on the island of Taiwan until martial law was lifted there in 1987 While until then culture had mainly been an arena for the suppressed political discourse the demise of the oneparty reign of the Guomindang KMT at the end of the 20th century signified not only the transformation from an autocratic to a democratic system but also the end of the cultural hegemony of the mainlanders on the island The transformation process paved the way for further cultural innovation the keywords here being education reform language debate establishment of new academic disciplines historiographic reconstruction etc It has also led to a widespread discussion of a specifically Taiwanese cultural identity which is reflected in literature language art theatre and film The international workshop Transformation Innovation Taiwan in her Cultural Dimensions held at Ruhr University in Bochum from March 7th 9th 2001 set out to shed new light on these issues and generated an intensive discussion of potential new interdisciplinary approaches to cultural and literary research in the field of Taiwan studies
