Taiwan In Pictures:

Taiwan in Pictures Alison Behnke, 2007-01-01 Information on the geography history government people culture and economy of Taiwan      Taiwan in Pictures Ling Yu, 1989 An introduction to the geography history economy government people and culture of the island republic of Taiwan      Taiwan in Pictures Jon A. Teta, 1975 Introduces the land history government people and economy of the island that since 1949 has served as the headquarters of the Chinese Nationalist government      Science Education Research and Practices in Taiwan Mei-Hung Chiu, 2015-08-04 This book highlights the development and outcomes of research on and practical experience in science education in Taiwan As the outcomes of the scholarship on science education in Taiwan have garnered attention in science education communities around the world this book gathers the most relevant research on Taiwan presenting it in a cohesive overview that will move science education forward in terms of policy research and practice      Early Film Culture in Hong Kong, Taiwan, and Republican China Emilie Yueh-yu Yeh, 2018-02-14 This volume features new work on cinema in early twentieth century Hong Kong Taiwan and Republican China Looking beyond relatively well studied cities like Shanghai these essays foreground cinema's relationship with imperialism and colonialism and emphasize the rapid development of cinema as a sociocultural institution These essays examine where films were screened how cinema going as a social activity adapted from and integrated with existing social norms and practices the extent to which Cantonese opera and other regional performance traditions were models for the development of cinematic conventions the role foreign films played in the development of cinema as an industry in the Republican era and much more      Photography, Anthropology and History Elizabeth Edwards, 2016-04-22 Photography Anthropology and History examines the complex historical relationship between photography and anthropology and in particular the strong emergence of the contemporary relevance of historical images Thematically organized and focusing on the visual practices developed within anthropology as a discipline this book brings together a range of contemporary and methodologically innovative approaches to the historical image within anthropology Importantly it also demonstrates the ongoing relevance of both the historical image and the notion of the archive to recent anthropological thought As current research rethinks the relationship between photography and anthropology this volume will serve as a stimulus to this new phase of research as an essential text and methodological reference point in any course that addresses the relationship between anthropology and visuality      Taiwan Cinema, Memory, and Modernity Ivy I-chu Chang, 2019-01-04 This book investigates the aesthetics and politics of Post Taiwan New Cinema by examining fifteen movies by six directors and frequent award winners in international film festivals The book considers the works of such prominent directors as Edward Yang Tsai Ming-liang and Chang Tsuo-chi and their influence on Asian films as well as emergent phenomenal directors such as Wei Te-sheng Zero Chou and Chung Mong-hong It also explores the possibility of transnational and trans local social sphere in the interstices of layered colonial legacies nation state domination and global capitalism Considering Taiwan cinema in the wake of globalization it analyses how these films represent the socio political transition among multiple colonial legacies global capitalism and the changing cross strait relation between Taiwan and the Mainland China The book discusses how these films represent nomadic urban middle class displaced transnational migrant workers roaming children and young gangsters and explores how the continuity disjuncture of globalization has not only carved into historical and personal memories and individual bodies but also influenced the transnational production modes and marketing strategies of cinema Taiwan

Film Directors Emilie Yueh-yu Yeh, Darrell William Davis, 2005-07-06 Focusing on the work of four contemporary filmmakers Ang Lee Edward Yang Hou Hsiao hsien and Tsai Ming liang the authors explore how these filmmakers broke from tradition creating a cinema that is both personal and insistent on examining Taiwan's complex history Featuring stills anecdotes and close readings of films the authors consider the influence of Hong Kong and martial arts films directors experiments with autobiography the shifting fortunes of the Taiwanese film industry and Taiwan cinema in the context of international cinema's aesthetics and business practices

Historical Dictionary of Taiwan Cinema Daw-Ming Lee, 2012-11-08 Taiwan was able to solidly build and sustain a film industry only after locally produced Mandarin films secured markets in Hong Kong and Southeast Asia during the 1960s and 1970s Though only a small island with a limited population in its heyday Taiwan was among the top 10 film producing countries areas in the world turning out hundreds of martial arts kung fu films and romantic melodramas annually that were screened in theaters across Southeast Asia and other areas internationally However except for one acclaimed film by director King Hu Taiwan cinema was nearly invisible on the art cinema map until the 1980s when the films of Hou Hsiao hsien Edward Yang and other Taiwan New Cinema directors gained recognition at international film festivals first in Europe and later throughout the world Since then many other Taiwan directors have also become an important part of cinema history such as Ang Lee and Tsai Ming liang The Historical Dictionary of Taiwan Cinema covers the history of cinema in Taiwan during both the Japanese colonial period 1895 1945 and the Chinese Nationalist period 1945 present This is accomplished through a chronology highlighting the main events during the long period and an introduction which carefully analyses the progression The bulk of the information however appears in a dictionary section including over a hundred very extensive entries on directors producers performers films film studios and genres Photos are also included in the dictionary section More information can be found through the bibliography Taiwan cinema is truly unique and this book is a good place to find out more about it whether you are a student or teacher or just a fan

Cross-Currents of Social Theorizing of Contemporary Taiwan Ananta Kumar Giri, Su-Chen Wu, 2022-08-22 The book presents aspects of cross currents of theorizing of self culture and society in the contemporary Taiwan Social theorizing has been addressed critically reflectively and creatively by the philosophical religious psychological and literary traditions of one of the world's great civilizations Theorizing is a dynamic movement of self culture society and the world as it is related to our actions reflections meditations to understand the world more meaningfully and holistically as well as to transform it But much of social theorizing in the modern world is primarily Euro American and despite the so-called globalization of knowledge this condition of one-sided Euro American valorization of knowledge and neglect of others continues unabated. There is very little attention to theorizing about the human condition emerging from other parts of the world such as Taiwan and its global implication. This book transforms this condition by mapping the field of theorizing in a wider spectrum of philosophy, psychology, religions, social sciences, and humanities in contemporary Taiwan.

Taiwan's Imagined Geography Emma Jinhua Teng, 2020-03-23

Until 300 years ago the Chinese considered Taiwan a land beyond the seas, a ball of mud inhabited by naked and tattooed savages. The incorporation of this island into the Qing empire in the seventeenth century and its evolution into a province by the late nineteenth century involved not only a reconsideration of imperial geography but also a reconceptualization of the Chinese domain. The annexation of Taiwan was only one incident in the much larger phenomenon of Qing expansionism into frontier areas that resulted in a doubling of the area controlled from Beijing and the creation of a multi-ethnic polity. The author argues that travelers' accounts and pictures of frontiers such as Taiwan led to a change in the imagined geography of the empire. In representing distant lands and ethnically diverse peoples of the frontiers to audiences in China, proper these works transformed places once considered non-Chinese into familiar parts of the empire and thereby helped to naturalize Qing expansionism. By viewing Taiwan-China relations as a product of the history of Qing expansionism, the author contributes to our understanding of current political events in the region.

Taiwan Cinema as Soft Power Song Hwee Lim, 2022

Why has Taiwanese film been so appealing to film directors, critics, and audiences across the world? This book argues that because Taiwan is a nation without hard political and economic power, cinema becomes a form of soft power tool that Taiwan uses to attract global attention, to gain support, and to build allies. Author Song Hwee Lim shows how this goal has been achieved by Taiwanese directors whose films win the hearts and minds of foreign audiences to make Taiwan a major force in world cinema. The book maps Taiwan's cinematic output in the twenty-first century through the three keywords in the book's subtitle: authorship, transnationality, historiography. Its object of analysis is the legacy of Taiwan New Cinema, a movement that began in the early 1980s that has had a lasting impact upon filmmakers and cinephiles worldwide for nearly forty years. By examining case studies that include Hou Hsiao-hsien, Ang Lee, and Tsai Ming-liang, this book suggests that authorship is central to Taiwan cinema's ability to transcend borders to the extent that the historiographical writing of Taiwan cinema has to be reimagined. It also looks at the scaling down of soft power from the global to the regional via a cultural imaginary called little freshness, which describes films and cultural products from Taiwan that have become hugely popular in China and Hong Kong. In presenting Taiwan cinema's significance as a case of a small nation with enormous soft power, this book hopes to recast the terms and stakes of both cinema studies and soft power studies in academia.

Religious Experience in Contemporary Taiwan and China 林德福, 2013-12-01 Religious Experience in Contemporary Taiwan and China helps social scientists and all religion scholars to rediscover the importance of religious experiences for multiple world religions Combining a diverse array of survey items with thousands of candid narratives conducted in Taiwan the authors provide a depth and breadth that can't be matched by previous work The nationally representative surveys for Taiwan and China offer a broad overview of how religion is experienced in the culture how these experiences vary for each of the many religious and even non religious groups and how they vary between China and Taiwan From the Preface by Roger Finke

Colonial Taiwan Pei-yin Lin, 2017-04-03 This book offers a thorough and thought provoking study on the impact of Japanese colonialism on Taiwan's literary production from the 1920s to 1945 It redresses the previous nationalist and Japan centric interpretations of works from Taiwan's Japanese period and eschews a colonizer colonized dichotomy Through a highly sensitive textual analysis and contextual reading this chronologically structured book paints a multi layered picture of colonial Taiwan's literature particularly its multi styled articulations of identities and diverse visions of modernity By engaging critically with current scholarship Lin has written with great sentiment the most complete history of the colonial Taiwanese literary development in English

Documenting Taiwan on Film Sylvia Li-chun Lin, Tze-lan Deborah Sang, 2012-03-12 To date there is but a handful of articles on documentary films from Taiwan This volume seeks to remedy the paucity in this area of research and conduct a systematic analysis of the genre Each contributor to the volume investigates the various aspects of documentary by focusing on one or two specific films that document social political and cultural changes in recent Taiwanese history Since the lifting of martial law documentary has witnessed a revival in Taiwan with increasing numbers of young independent filmmakers covering a wide range of subject matter in contrast to fiction films which have been in steady decline in their appeal to local Taiwanese viewers These documentaries capture images of Taiwan in its transformation from an agricultural island to a capitalist economy in the global market as well as from an authoritarian system to democracy What make these documentaries a unique subject of academic inquiry lies not only in their exploration of local Taiwanese issues but more importantly in the contribution they make to the field of non fiction film studies As the former third world countries and Soviet bloc begin to re examine their past and document social changes on film the case of Taiwan will undoubtedly become a valuable source of comparison and inspiration These Taiwanese documentaries introduce a new Asian perspective to the wealth of Anglo American scholarship with the potential to serve as exemplar for countries undergoing similar political and social transformations Documenting Taiwan on Film is essential reading for all those interested in Taiwan Studies film studies and Asian cinema
