Women's Lives and Public Policy Briavel Holcomb, Meredith Turshen, 1993-05-30 At all levels of government from the international to the local public policies are formulated mainly by men but their impacts are felt sometimes differently by women men and children This book considers the impact of public policy on various aspects of women s lives including sex and birth marriage and death work and child rearing and women s responses to those policies Written by scholars who have lived on five continents the chapters span the First and Third Worlds with several providing case illustrations of policies affecting women in Latin America Asia and Africa Written by scholars from several disciplines the volume includes the fields of economics politics and planning Literature also is covered along with women s fiction as a source of women s opinions The work is divided into two sections The first section Economic Policies and Migration considers the impact of economic and demographic policies The second section Sex and Marriage Violence and Control considers policies relating to women s interpersonal relationships Urban culture is discussed in an epilogue The Political Economy of Global Remittances Rahel Kunz, 2011-06-09 Over the last decade a new phenomenon has emerged within the international community the Global Remittances Trend GRT Thereby government institutions international financial organisations NGOs and private sector actors have become interested in migration and remittances and their potential for poverty reduction and development and have started to devise institutions and policies to harness this potential This book employs a gender sensitive governmentality analysis to trace the emergence of the GRT to map its conceptual and institutional elements and to examine its broader implications Through an analysis of the GRT at the international level combined with an in depth case study on Mexico this book demonstrates that the GRT is instrumental in spreading and deepening specific forms of gendered neoliberal governmentality This innovative book will be of interest to students and scholars of political science international relations sociology development studies economics gender studies and Latin American studies The South at the End of the Twentieth Century Timothy M. Shaw, Larry A. Swatuk, 2016-07-27 This collection is concerned with revisiting and redefining the political economy both empirical and theoretical of foreign policy in the South as we approach the twenty first century the position of post colonial states and societies in the post Bretton Woods and Cold War world With a focus on Africa Asia the Caribbean and Latin America this collection comparatively examines the impact of changing political and economic structures upon policy makers and civil societies in the South The Oxford Handbook of the African Sahel Leonardo A. Villalón, 2021 This Handbook provides a multidimensional and interdisciplinary assessment of the West African Sahel region in all of its complexity International Monetary Cooperation Since Bretton Woods Mr. Harold James, 1996-06-15 This comprehensive history published jointly by the IMF and Oxford University Press was written to mark the fiftieth anniversary of international monetary cooperation From the establishment of the postwar international monetary system in 1944 to how the framework functions in a vastly expanded world economy historian Harol James describes the tensions negotiations challenges and progress of international monetary cooperation This narrative offers a global perspective on the events and decisions that have shaped the world economy during the past fifty years The Exclusionary Politics of Digital Financial Inclusion Serena Natile,2020-01-20 Focusing on Kenya s path breaking mobile money project M Pesa this book examines and critiques the narratives and institutions of digital financial inclusion as a development strategy for gender equality arguing for a politics of redistribution to guide future digital financial inclusion projects One of the most discussed digital financial inclusion projects M Pesa facilitates the transfer of money and access to formal financial services via the mobile phone infrastructure and has grown at a phenomenal rate since its launch in 2007 to reach about 80 per cent of the Kenyan population Through a socio legal enquiry drawing on feminist political economy law and development scholarship and postcolonial feminist debate this book unravels the narratives and institutional arrangements that frame M Pesa s success while interrogating the relationship between digital financial inclusion and gender equality in development discourse Natile argues that M Pesa is premised on and regulated according to a logic of opportunity rather than a politics of redistribution favouring the expansion of the mobile money market in preference to contributing to substantive gender equality via a redistribution of the revenue and funding deriving from its development This book will be of particular interest to scholars and students in Global Political Economy Socio Legal Studies Gender Studies Law Development Finance and International Relations Neo-liberalism and AIDS Crisis in Sub-Saharan Africa C. O'Manique,2004-05-13 O Manique critically examines the evolution of the policy response to AIDS in Sub Saharan Africa through a feminist political economy lens focusing on the relationship between neo liberalism the spread of AIDS and the hegemonic policy response It explores the ways in which AIDS has been constructed as a development problem and how AIDS knowledges and institutions have evolved and have shaped interventions in the AIDS sector Central to the analysis is a historical case study of Uganda New Frontiers in Feminist Political Economy Shirin M. Rai,Georgina Waylen,2013-11-07 This volume brings together the work of outstanding feminist scholars who reflect on the achievements of feminist political economy and the challenges it faces in the 21st century The volume develops further some key areas of research in feminist political economy understanding economies as gendered structures and economic crises as crises in social reproduction as well as in finance and production assessing economic policies through the lens of women s rights analysing global transformations in women s work making visible the unpaid economy in which care is provided for family and communities and critiquing the ways in which policy makers are addressing or failing to address this unpaid economy Women, Development, and the UN Devaki Jain,2005-10-17 Devaki Jain opens the doors of the United Nations and shows how it has changed the female half of the world and vice versa Women Development and the UN is a book that every global citizen government leader journalist academic and self respecting woman should read Gloria Steinem Devaki Jain's book nurtures your optimism in this terrible war-torn decade by describing how women succeeded in empowering both themselves and the United Nations to work toward a global leadership inspired by human dignity Fatema Mernissi In Women Development and the UN internationally noted development economist and activist Devaki Jain traces the ways in which women have enriched the work of the United Nations from the time of its founding in 1945 Synthesizing insights from the extensive literature on women and development and from her own broad experience Jain reviews the evolution of the UN's programs aimed at benefiting the women of developing nations and the impact of women's ideas about rights equality and social justice on UN thinking and practice regarding development Jain presents this history from the perspective of the southern hemisphere which recognizes that development issues often look different when viewed from the standpoint of countries in Africa Asia and Latin America The book highlights the contributions of the four global women's conferences in Mexico City Copenhagen Nairobi and Beijing in raising awareness building confidence spreading ideas and creating alliances The history that Jain chronicles reveals both the achievements of committed networks of women in partnership with the UN and the urgent work remaining to bring equality and justice to the world and its women

Structural Adjustment Ed Brown, Bob Milward, Giles Mohan, Alfred B. Zack-Williams, 2013-04-15

Structural Adjustment Theory Practice and Impacts examines the problems associated with Structural Adjustment Programmes SAPs and reveals the damaging impacts they can have The book looks at how the debt crisis of the 1970s forced developing countries to seek external help and then reviews what constitutes as a standard adjustment programme detailing the political economic social and environmental impacts of SAPs The final section draws together theories and political responses and presents a case for alternatives to the programmes

Structural Adjustment and Ethnicity in Nigeria Eghosa E. Osaghae, 1995

Transforming Capitalism and Patriarchy April A. Gordon, 1996 Gordon analyzes the interplay between capitalism development and the status of African women Drawing on the work of both African and Western researchers she shows that capitalist development projects have mainly benefited a small stratum of African elites and proposes concrete strategies for making it more equitable for women

The Fragility of the 'Failed State' Paradigm Neyire Akpinarli, 2010 The absence of effective government one of the most important issues in current international law became prominent with the failed state concept at the beginning of the 1990s Public international law however lacked sufficient legal means to deal with the phenomenon Neither attempts at state reconstruction in countries such as Afghanistan and Somalia on the legal basis of Chapter VII of the UN Charter nor economic liberalisation have addressed fundamental social and economic problems This work investigates the weaknesses of the failed state paradigm as a long term solution for international peace and security arguing that the solution to the absence of effective government can be found only in an economic and social approach and a true universalisation of international law

Managing Human Resources in the Middle-East Pawan S. Budhwar, Kamel Mellahi, 2006-08-21 This book presents the HRM scenario in a number of countries in the Middle East highlighting the growth of the personnel HR function the dominant HRM systems in the area and the challenges faced Courtyards, Markets, City Streets Kathleen Sheldon, 2018-03-08 Although women have long been active residents in African cities explorations of their contributions have been marginal This volume brings women into the center of the urban landscape using case studies to illustrate their contributions to family community work and political life The book begins with a rich introduction that discusses how women's work in trade and agriculture has been the foundation of African urbanization The contributors then focus on patterns of migration and urbanization with an emphasis on the personal and social issues that influence the decision to migrate from rural areas women's employment in varied activities from selling crafts to managing small businesses the sometimes unavoidable practice of prostitution when options are limited the emergence of complex new family formations deriving from access to courts and the continued strength of polygyny and women's participation in community and political activities The volume includes material from all regions of sub Saharan Africa and brings together scholars from all the social sciences Searching for Security Isa Baud, Ines Smyth, 2014-04-08 Human Security is a development buzzword of the 1990s To attain security people need to be safe from natural disasters such as famine and man made problems such as unemployment Women are a particularly insecure section of society with the impact of deprivation disproportionately shouldered by women throughout the developing world Searching for Security examines how economic political and environmental factors have contributed to increased gender insecurity in the last decade Analyzing the impacts of insecurity inducing global changes on the lives of women throughout the developing world the book discusses the gender responses to these changing circumstances from Africa to Malaysia Hungary to the Caribbean By examining the impact of liberal economic policies and to a lesser extent the impact of war rape and environmental damage on the lives of women this collection of essays makes a timely contribution to emerging policy efforts to recognize and address the issue of gender insecurity Confronting State, Capital and Patriarchy Amrita Chhachhi, Renée Ilene Pittin, 1996-04-12 Confronting State Capital and Patriarchy brings together documentation of women's struggles in the process of industrialisation within and outside traditional workers organizations With contributions from researchers and activists particularly in Asia Africa and Latin America the volume gives a broad display of both the constraints and the ingenuity and determination with which women workers strive to improve their situation Through both theory and rich empirical detail the volume demonstrates the integral linkages between the home workplace and the state and international arenas and between activists and academe in response to technological and industrial restructuring A Future for Africa Bade Onimode, 2025-03-03 First published in 1992 A Future for Africa looks at the crises plaguing the Africa's societies and economies and argues convincingly that the problems are not insuperable but that though their causes are largely external the only long term solutions rest in African hands In this book the author shows how the adjustment programmes imposed on many African countries by the World Bank and the IMF have compounded the disastrous impact of foreign debt trade restrictions and falling export prices Real development will only be achieved he maintains by returning control of Africa s abundant resources to its people and by ensuring greater democracy and accountability in African political structures
