The Impact Of Liberalizing International Aviation Bilaterals The Case Of The Northern German Region:

The Impact of Liberalizing International Aviation Bilaterals: The Case of the Northern German Region Holger Hinsch, Benedikt Mandel, Harmut Wolf, David Gillen, 2019-07-15 This title was first published in 2001 This is a study of liberalization in the aviation industry especially bilateral agreements It looks at intra country impacts of air service agreements and quantifies the impact on the northern German region The authors assess the potential impact of air transport liberalization for the German economy and travelers and how its outcomes would impact Hamburg Airport and the Hamburg economy The study focuses on a comprehensive review of institutional and regulatory environment affecting international air travel the economic implications of changing the rules governing international travel and the policy and airport strategy considerations that arise because of these changes Liberalizing Europe's Skies - A Failure? An Analysis of Airline Entry and Exit in the Post-liberalized German Airline Market, 1993-2006 Nicole Petrick-Felber, 2014-09 The study examines actual entry and exit dynamics in the German airline market in light of the European liberalization process For this purpose flight schedules data was used to derive entry and exit statistics for a set of chosen inner German routes over a period of thirteen years Data was analysed in cross sectional and longitudinal manner while identifying different entry waves and examining incumbent behaviour with respect to entry deterrence strategies Furthermore the market's concentration and structure was tracked to allow a conclusion with respect to the market's contestability after liberalization The results suggest the existence of remaining structural barriers to entry and depict a rather unsatisfactory overall state of the post liberalized market

Liberalization in Aviation Hartmut Wolf, Peter Forsyth, David Gillen, Kai Hüschelrath, Hans-Martin Niemeier, 2016-05-06 The last few decades have witnessed substantial liberalization trends in various industries and countries Starting with the deregulation of the US airline industry in 1978 regulatory restructuring took place in further network industries such as telecommunications electricity or railways in various countries around the world Although most of the liberalization movements were initially triggered by the worrying performances of the respective regulatory frameworks increases in competition and corresponding improvements in allocative and productive efficiency were typically associated with the respective liberalization efforts From an academic perspective the transition from regulated industries to liberalized industries has attracted a substantial amount of research reflected in many books and research articles which can be distilled to three main questions 1 What are the forces that have given rise to regulatory reform 2 What is the structure of the regulatory change which has occurred to date and is likely to occur in the immediate future 3 What have been the effects on industry efficiency prices and profits of the reforms which have occurred to date Liberalization in Aviation brings together renowned academics and practitioners from around the world to address all three questions and draw policy conclusions The book is divided into five sections in turn dealing with aspects of competition in various liberalized markets the emergence and growth of low cost carriers horizontal mergers and alliances infrastructures and concluding with economic assessments of liberalization steps so far and proposed steps in the future Pricing Behaviour and Non-Price Characteristics in the Airline Industry James Peoples,2012-01-03 Provokes the reader to think critically about the emergence of corporate styles of governance management and leadership in higher education institutions HEIs and ways in which the demands of public management and the knowledge economy has shaped and re shaped scholarly work and identity Bibliographie

ITF Research Reports Liberalisation of Air Transport International Transport Forum, 2019-05-03 Aviation is one of the most regulated industries in the world Much of this regulation is safety related to mitigate the inherent risks tied with air transport But aviation is also subject to economic regulation that influences which airline flies which route at which frequency capacity and price It even stipulates the nationality of its owners and decision makers Aviation has freed itself from some restrictions over the past three decades with many benefits to society Yet liberalisation has also raised issues with regard to maintaining fair competition high labour standards and mitigating aviation's growing environmental impact
