resulted in three North Korean soldiers bodies being recovered The quick response force the next morning found many pools of frozen blood used combat bandages and bloody drag trails headed back toward North Korea close to two miles away The QRF leader later told us we were up against a force as large as thirty men and we were instrumental in stopping them while other forces were sent for By the time they arrived we were all down to our last bullets for our rifles and had already put our bayonets on the end of our rifles expecting a full assault on our two positions My last firefight was while on a woodcutting detail inside the DMZ very close to the MDL or the dividing line between South and North Korea A medium sized North Korean force totally camouflaged in white managed to get within one hundred yards of our location before they were spotted and a firefight took place as we fled the scene leaving our tools and precious wood behind The next morning we returned with a full platoon of armed soldiers and found many blood pools on the ground and bloody drag marks where dead and injured soldiers were carried away to North Korea about one half mile north of the battle scene With the added guards we completed our mission to gather the much needed firewood for the troops on the line and got the hell out of there Two days later our unit rotated to our camp south of the Imjin River      The Palestine Yearbook of International Law, 1986
