Smith, Julia Watson, Sidonie Smith, 2006-08-01 The life narratives in this 80 00 collection are by ethnically diverse women of energy and ambition some well known some forgotten over generations who confronted barriers of gender class race and sexual difference as they pursued or adapted to adventurous new lives in a rapidly changing America The engaging selections from captivity narratives to letters manifestos criminal confessions and childhood sketches span a hundred years in which women increasingly asserted themselves publicly Some rose to positions of prominence as writers activists and artists some sought education or wrote to support themselves and their families some transgressed social norms in search of new possibilities Each woman's story is strikingly individual yet the brief narratives in this anthology collectively chart bold new visions of women's agency This rich new anthology sets in motion an inter textual conversation of remarkable vitality that will change the ways we understand gender class ethnicity culture and nation in nineteenth century America Susanna Egan author of Mirror Talk Women, the Family, and Freedom Susan G. Bell, Karen M. Offen, 1983 This is the second book in a two part collection of 264 primary source documents from the Enlightenment to 1950 chronicling the public debate that raged in Europe and America over the role of women in Western society The present volume looks at the period from 1880 to 1950 The central issues motherhood women s legal position in the family equality of the sexes the effect on social stability of women s education and labor extended to women the struggle by men for personal and political liberty These issues were political economic and religious dynamite They exploded in debates of philosophers political theorists scientists novelists and religious and political leaders. This collection emphasizes the debate by juxtaposing prevailing and dissenting points of view at given historical moments e g Madame de Stal vs Rousseau Eleanor Marx vs Pope Leo XIII Strindberg vs Ibsen Simone de Beauvoir vs Margaret Mead Each section is preceded by a contextual headnote pinpointing the documents significance Many of the documents have been translated into English for the first time To the Ends of the Earth Thomas Neville Bonner, 1992 Focusing both on international comparisons and on the personal histories of many of the pioneers Bonner shows how European and American women gradually broke through the wall of resistance to women in medicine many choosing initially between inferior women only institutions at home eg pre Civil War America Tsarist Russia Victorian England and integrated medical schools in Switzerland and France Without Child Laurie Lisle, 1999 In a society in which most women grow up thinking they will become mothers and in which many women go to great lengths to make that desire a reality not having a child is often met with incredulity and scorn But as the author of this thoughtful and meticulously researched examination of childlessness points out childless women are part of an ancient and respectable cultural tradition that includes biblical matriarchs celibate saints and nineteenth century social reformers Revealing the story of her own decision not to have children Laurie Lisle draws from history literature religion and sociology to challenge the stigma attached to the condition of childlessness and to offer encouragement and support to those women who have made the difficult decision themselves Beginning with the difficult inner journey a woman faces before finally deciding or realizing she will not bear children Without Childexplores the myth of the childless woman s rejection of the maternal instinct It also explores the childless woman's relationship to mothers and mothering to her femininity to men to achievement to her body and to old age Wide ranging yet intimate philosophical yet clear sighted this important book does

Margaret Addison Jean O'Grady,2001-02-26 O Grady presents Addison in several different lights as a woman learning to assert herself in the hitherto male world of university governance as an administrator dealing with questions of individual freedom and group standards at a time when the permissible limits of behaviour were expanding as a former Methodist who learned to modify her beliefs while retaining her core Christianity and as an advocate for more fulfiling lives for women who was forced to deal with questions of co education the possibility of gender neutral studies and the nature of womanliness O Grady clearly shows that Addison wanted to make a difference in the world and did so B her innovations such as student government and lectures on careers and sex education were widely copied in other universities Drawing on archival material and writing in an accessible style O Grady captures the flavour of life in Annesley Hall under Addison's regime and uncovers part of the buried mosaic of the lives of Canadian women
