which require the same level of attention to issues of organization and access as their print counterparts. Consequently the people who create collection level records and metadata for these resources need to be equally conversant in the principles of cataloging. Martha Yee covers both descriptive AACR2R AMIM and FIAF rules and subject cataloging with a focus on LCSH. In the process the reader is encouraged to think critically and to be prepared to make decisions in ambiguous situations where solutions to problems are not always obvious or clearly dictated by specific rules.

Fan's Guide to Gone With The Wind eBook Bundle Taylor Trade Publishing, 2014-12-03 For fans of Gone With the Wind on the 75th anniversary of the classic film this three volume eBook Collection pulls together two bestselling biographies one of author Margaret Mitchell and one of film star Vivien Leigh and combines them with The Complete Gone with the Wind Trivia Book to give readers a deep insight into the lives of those who created this timeless masterpiece.

The Scarlett Letters John Wiley, 2014-10-08 One month after her novel Gone With the Wind was published Margaret Mitchell sold the movie rights for fifty thousand dollars. Fearful of what the studio might do to her story I wouldn't put it beyond Hollywood to have Scarlett seduce General Sherman she joked the author washed her hands of involvement with the film. However driven by a maternal interest in her literary firstborn and compelled by her Southern manners to answer every fan letter she received Mitchell was unable to stay aloof for long. In this collection of her letters about the 1939 motion picture classic readers have a front row seat as the author watches the Dream Factory at work learning the ins and outs of filmmaking and discovering the peculiarities of a movie crazed public. Her ability to weave a story so evident in Gone With the Wind makes for delightful reading in her correspondence with a who's who of Hollywood from producer David O. Selznick director George Cukor and screenwriter Sidney Howard to cast members Clark Gable Vivien Leigh Leslie Howard Olivia de Havilland and Hattie McDaniel. Mitchell also wrote to thousands of others aspiring actresses eager to play Scarlett O'Hara fellow Southerners hopeful of seeing their homes or their grandmother's dress used in the film rabid movie fans determined that their favorite star be cast and creators of songs dolls and Scarlett panties who were convinced the author was their ticket to fame and fortune. During the film's production she corrected erring journalists and the producer's over the top publicist who fed the gossip mills accuracy be damned. Once the movie finished she struggled to deal with friends and strangers alike who fought and trampled little children and connived and broke the ties of lifelong friendship to get tickets to the premiere. But through it all she retained her sense of humor. Recounting an acquaintance's denial of the rumor that the author herself was going to play Scarlett Mitchell noted he ungallantly stated that I was something like fifty years too old for the part. After receiving numerous letters and phone calls from the studio about Belle Watling's accent the author related her father was convulsed at the idea of someone telephoning from New York to discover how the madam of a Confederate bordello talked. And in a chatty letter to Gable after the premiere Mitchell coyly admitted being feminine enough to be quite charmed by his statement to the press that she was fascinating but added Even my best friends look at me in a speculative way probably wondering what they overlooked that your sharp eyes saw As Gone With the Wind marks its seventy fifth anniversary on the silver screen these letters edited by Mitchell historian John Wiley Jr offer a fresh look at the most popular motion picture of all time through the eyes of the woman who gave birth to Scarlett

Every Step a Struggle Frank Manchel, 2007 This book pays tribute to the sacrifices and achievements of seven individuals who made difficult and controversial choices to insure that black Americans shared in the evolution of the nation's cultural heritage Transcriptions and analyses of never before published uncensored conversations with Lorenzo Tucker Lillian Gish King Vidor Clarence Muse Woody Strode Charles Gordone and Frederick Douglass O Neal reveal many of the reasons and rationalizations behind a racist screen imagery in the first three quarters of the twentieth century This primary source replete with pictures documentation and extensive annotations recounts through the words of important participants what happened to many film pioneers when a new generation of African Americans rebelled against the nation's stereotyped film imagery A unique historical resource this book is a fitting tribute to these artists reminding us of their courage integrity and perseverance to succeed against great odds The thorough meticulous annotations make it an indispensable addition to collections in film studies and African American studies Denise Youngblood Professor of History University of Vermont The author has taken a unique approach and may have even created a new genre of writing the interview embellished with scholarly commentary It is a fascinating experiment This book belongs in every research library and in all public libraries from mid size to large cities It fills in lacunae between existing studies Peter C Rollins Editor in Chief of Film History

Black Women and the Changing Television Landscape Lisa M. Anderson, 2023-04-20 Black women's work in television has been since the beginning a negotiation Black Women and the Changing Television Landscape explores the steps black women as actors directors and producers have taken to improve representations of black people on the small screen Beginning with The Beulah Show Anderson articulates the interrelationship between US culture and the televisual demonstrating the conditions under which black women particularly and black people generally exist in popular culture

William Cameron Menzies James Curtis, 2015-11-17 He was the consummate designer of film architecture on a grand scale influenced by German expressionism and the work of the great European directors He was known for his visual flair and timeless innovation a man who meticulously preplanned the color and design of each film through a series of continuity sketches that made clear camera angles lighting and the actors positions for each scene translating dramatic conventions of the stage to the new capabilities of film Here is the long awaited book on William Cameron Menzies Hollywood's first and greatest production designer a job title David O Selznick invented for Menzies extraordinary all encompassing Academy Award winning work on Gone With the Wind which he effectively co directed It was Menzies winner of the first ever Academy Award for Art Direction jointly for The Dove 1927 and Tempest 1928 and who was as well a director fourteen pictures and a producer twelve pictures who changed the way movies were and still are made in a career that spanned four decades from the 1920s through the 1950s His more than 120 films include the World in 80 Days 1956 Now James Curtis acclaimed film historian and biographer writes of Menzies life and work as the most influential designer in the history of film His artistry encompassed the large scenic drawings of Douglas Fairbanks The Thief of Bagdad 1924 which created a new standard for beauty on the screen and whose exotic fairy tale sets are still regarded as pure genius I saw The Thief of Bagdad when it first came out said Orson Welles he was at the time a nine year old boy I ll never forget it Curtis writes of Menzies design and supervision of John Barrymore s Beloved Rogue 1927 a film that remains a masterpiece of craft and synthesis one of the most distinctive pictures to emerge from Hollywood s waning days of silent films and of his extraordinary opulent appointments for Gone With the Wind 1939 It was Menzies who defined and solidified the role of art director as having overall control of the look of the motion picture collaborating with producers like David O Selznick and Samuel Goldwyn with directors such as D W Griffith Raoul Walsh Alfred Hitchcock Lewis Milestone and Frank Capra And with actors as varied as Ingrid Bergman W C Fields Cary Grant Clark Gable John Barrymore Barbara Stanwyck Ronald Reagan Gary Cooper Vivien Leigh Carole Lombard Mary Pickford Gloria Swanson and David Niven Interviewing colleagues actors directors friends and family and with full access to the William Cameron Menzies family collection of original artwork correspondence scrapbooks and unpublished writing Curtis brilliantly gives us the path finding work of the movies most daring and dynamic production designer his evolution as artist art director production designer and Salzberg,2014-08-01 As living subjects rather than static icons studio era Hollywood actresses actively negotiated a balance between their public personas film roles and corporeal presence The contemporary audience s engagement with the experience of these actresses unsettles the traditional model of narcissistic identification which divides the off screen spectator from his her on screen ideal Exploring the fan s desire for a material connection to the performer as well as the star s own dialogue between embodied experience and idealized image Beyond the Looking Glass traces on and off screen representations of narcissistic femininity in classical Hollywood through studies of stars like Greta Garbo Ava Gardner and Marilyn Monroe Merging historical and theoretical concerns with particular attention to the resonance of golden age

A Light in the Dark David Thomson, 2021-03-23 From the celebrated film critic and author of The Biographical Dictionary of Film an essential work on the preeminent indispensable movie directors and the ways in which their work has forged and continues to forge the landscape of modern film Directors operate behind the scenes managing actors establishing a cohesive creative vision at times literally guiding our eyes with the eye of the camera But we are often so dazzled by the visions on screen that it is easy to forget the individual who is off screen orchestrating the entire production to say nothing of their having marshaled a script a studio and other people's money David Thomson in his usual brilliantly insightful way shines a light on the visionary directors who have shaped modern cinema and through their work studies the very nature of film direction With his customary candor about his own delights and disappointments Thomson analyzes both landmark works and forgotten films from classic directors such as Orson Welles Alfred Hitchcock Jean Renoir and Jean Luc Godard as well as contemporary powerhouses such as Jane Campion Spike Lee and Quentin Tarantino He shrewdly interrogates their professional legacies and influence in the industry while simultaneously assessing the critical impact of an artist's personal life on his or her work He explores the male directors dominance of the past and describes how diversity can change the landscape Judicious vivid and witty A Light in the Dark is yet another required Thomson text for every movie lover's shelf

The Cinema of Steven Spielberg Nigel Morris, 2007-02-13 Cinema's most successful director is a commercial and cultural force demanding serious consideration Not just triumphant marketing this international popularity is partly a function of the movies themselves Polarised critical attitudes largely overlook this and evidence either unquestioning adulation or vilification often vitriolic for epitomising contemporary Hollywood Detailed textual analyses reveal that alongside conventional commercial appeal Spielberg's movies function consistently as a self reflexive commentary on cinema Rather than straightforwardly consumed realism or fantasy they invite divergent readings and self conscious spectatorship which contradict assumptions about their ideological tendencies Exercising powerful emotional appeal their ambiguities are profitably advantageous in maximising audiences and generating media attention Try to Tell the Story David

Thomson, 2009-02-03 David Thomson one of our most celebrated film writers gives us a haunting fascinating memoir about growing up as an only child in wartime England He was born in London in the aftermath of the war where he was raised by his mother grandmother and upstairs tenant Miss Davis He remembers how his grandmother brought him to a street corner to see Churchill and how the bombed out houses that still smelled of smoke became his playground We see Thomson attempt to overcome his profound sadness at being abandoned by his cold and distant father by finding solace in the cinema houses Movies became his great escape and the worlds revealed in Red River The Third Man and Citizen Kane helped to alleviate his loneliness and bolster his rich imaginative life The Whole Equation David Thomson, 2006-02-14 With the same style and insight he brought to his previous studies of American cinema acclaimed critic David Thomson masterfully evokes the history of America's love affair with the movies and the tangled history of Hollywood in The Whole Equation Thomson takes us from D W Griffith Charlie Chaplin and the first movies of mass appeal to Louis B Mayer who understood what movies meant to America and reaped the profits From Capra to Kidman and Hitchcock to Nicholson Thomson examines the passion vanity calculation and gossip of Hollywood and the films it has given us This one volume history is a brilliant and illuminating overview of the wonder in the dark and the staggering impact Hollywood and its films has had on American culture
